T2 Corporation – Income Tax Guide 2012

Is this guide for you?

In this guide, we give you basic information on how to complete the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return. This return is used to calculate federal income tax and credits. Corporations that have a permanent establishment in any province or territory other than Quebec or Alberta also use this return to report provincial and/or territorial income taxes and credits. Corporations with a permanent establishment in Quebec or Alberta must file a separate provincial return.

If you have a visual impairment, you can get our publications in braille, large print, etext, or MP3. For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/alternate or call 1-800-959-2221. If you are outside Canada and the United States, call us at 613-940-8497. We accept collect calls.

What's new?

Fall update

On November 30, 2012, Nova Scotia announced that the digital media tax credit would be extended to December 31, 2013. See page 84.

Deemed year-end if fiscal period exceeds 365 days

If a fiscal period exceeds 365 days and, as a result, the corporation does not have a tax year that ends in a particular calendar year, the tax year is deemed to end at the end of the particular calendar year.

For 2012 and later tax years, two changes are added. First, the corporation's next tax year is deemed to start on the first day of the immediately following calendar year. Second, the corporation's fiscal period that was otherwise more than 365 days is deemed to end at the end of the particular calendar year, and the corporation's next fiscal period is deemed to start on the first day of the immediately following calendar year.

Bar code reassessment

Effective October 22, 2012, you can request a reassessment by sending your amended tax return in bar code format to your tax centre. See page 17.

Online services built for businesses

We have added new online services to make it faster, simpler, and more convenient for you to handle your business tax accounts. For more information, see "Online services built for businesses" on page 119.

2012 federal, provincial, and territorial budgets

New items such as changes introduced in the 2012 federal and various provincial/territorial budgets are outlined in colour in this guide. This guide may contain changes that had not yet become law at the time of printing.

International tax

Changes were announced to international tax concerning:

- transfer pricing secondary adjustments (previously, there was no specific provision for secondary adjustments);
- thin capitalization rules:
 - debt-to-equity ratio (reduced to 1.5 times the equity of the corporation);
 - partnerships (rules extended to include debts owed by partnerships that the Canadian-resident corporation is a member of);

- disallowed interest treated as a dividend for Part XIII purposes. A designation will be made with the T2 return (see below);

- foreign affiliate loans; and

- foreign affiliate dumping.

Disallowed interest treated as a dividend – Under proposed changes, for tax years ending after March 28, 2012, the denied interest expense and the interest income inclusion (paid, credited, or payable by the corporation or by a partnership that the corporation is directly or indirectly a member of) will be deemed to be a dividend. As a result, the corporation has to remit Part XIII tax using the rate that applies to dividend payments. For a tax year that includes March 29, 2012, the amount of the deemed dividend will be pro-rated based on the number of days in that tax year that are after March 28, 2012.

The corporation may designate, on or before its filing-due date for the tax year, which amounts paid or credited in the tax year as interest to a particular specified non-resident are to be deemed dividends. The designation may be included with the notes to the financial statements.

Capital cost allowance (CCA)

Accelerated CCA for clean energy generation – Class 43.1 and Class 43.2 have been modified for eligible assets acquired after March 28, 2012, that have not been used or acquired for use before March 29, 2012. Changes apply to waste-fuelled thermal energy equipment, equipment of a district energy system, energy generation from residue of plants, and environmental compliance. See page 39.

Corporate mineral exploration and development tax credit

The 10% investment tax credit applicable to eligible pre-production mining expenditures will be phased out. The rate will decrease to 5% for exploration expenses incurred in 2013, and to 0% after 2013. For pre-production development expenses, the rate will decrease to 7% in 2014, 4% in 2015, and 0% after 2015. Transitional relief will be available if certain conditions are met before March 29, 2012. See page 67.

Atlantic investment tax credit (AITC)

For property acquired after March 28, 2012, the Atlantic investment tax credit for qualified property used in oil and gas, and mining activities will be phased out over a four-year period. Transitional relief will be available if certain conditions are met before March 29, 2012. For property acquired after March 28, 2012, that has not been used or acquired for use or lease before March 29, 2012, the definition of qualified property will be amended to include certain prescribed energy generation and conservation property. See page 67.

Scientific research and experimental development investment tax credit (SR&ED ITC)

For tax years ending after 2013, the SR&ED ITC basic rate will decrease from 20% to 15%. It will be prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2013. The enhanced SR&ED ITC rate applicable to the expenditure pool balance that does not exceed the expenditure limit of eligible Canadian-controlled private corporations will remain unchanged at 35%. Capital expenditures made after 2013, including lease payments for property that would have been a capital expenditure if the business had purchased it directly, can no longer be claimed for SR&ED purposes. Those expenditures will be given the treatment otherwise applicable to such expenditures under the Income Tax Act. The rate used to calculate the prescribed proxy amount for overhead expenses is decreased to 60% for the 2013 calendar year, and to 55% after. For qualified expenditures incurred after 2012, the amounts to be included in the qualified expenditure pool of the payer are reduced by 20% of the arm's length contract payment. Qualified expenditures incurred after 2012 for third-party payments and agricultural check-offs will also be reduced by 20%. See page 68.

Eligible dividends

For taxable dividends paid after March 28, 2012, a corporation is allowed to designate a portion of a taxable dividend (rather than the whole amount) to be an eligible dividend. Also, late designations are allowed, if they are made within three years after the day on which the designation was first required to be made and, in the opinion of the minister, it is just and equitable to do so in the circumstances, including to affected shareholders. See page 73.

Mandatory electronic filing for tax preparers

For tax years ending in 2012 and later, tax preparers have to file electronically all income tax returns they prepare for a fee and file after 2012, with 2 exceptions: they can file 10 corporation returns and 10 individual returns by means other than electronically. We may charge a penalty to tax preparers for returns not filed as required. See page 113.

Nova Scotia small business income tax rate

Effective January 1, 2013, the small business income tax rate is reduced from 4% to 3.5%. This rate is pro-rated for tax years that straddle January 1, 2013. See page 82.

Ontario basic income tax rate

The basic income tax rate will remain at 11.5%. The rate was scheduled to decrease to 11% on July 1, 2012, and to 10% on July 1, 2013. See page 85.

Manitoba co-op education and apprenticeship tax credit

The early-level apprentice hiring incentive, the advanced-level apprentice hiring incentive, and the journeypersons hiring incentive are enhanced for employers of apprentices who complete a level after 2012, and employers of journeypersons who become newly certified after 2012. A rural and northern bonus is added for early-level apprentices who complete a level after 2012. See page 95.

Manitoba "Neighbourhoods Alive!" tax credit

This credit is amended, retroactive to April 13, 2011, when the credit began, to clarify the criteria for eligible donations. See page 98.

Manitoba film and video production tax credit

For productions that start after April 17, 2012, Manitoba accommodation costs incurred and paid up to $300 (including tax) per night per unit are added in the calculation of the production costs. See page 99.

Manitoba data processing centre investment tax credit

This is a new refundable tax credit available to corporations with a permanent establishment in Manitoba whose primary business activity, including the activities of their affiliates, is data processing. The tax credit is equal to 4% of the capital cost of a new data processing building and 7% of the capital cost of new or refurbished data processing machinery or equipment. Such property must be purchased or leased by the company for use in its data processing centre in Manitoba and be available for use after April 17, 2012 and before 2016. See page 100.

Manitoba nutrient management tax credit

Agribusiness corporations with a permanent establishment in Manitoba are eligible for this new refundable tax credit. The credit is equal to 10% of the capital costs related to the acquisition and installation of environmentally sound systems installed for use in Manitoba that reduce the risk of nutrient transport to water and help improve water quality. The assets must be acquired and available for use after April 17, 2012, and before 2016. See page 100.

Saskatchewan research and development tax credit

Effective for qualifying expenditures incurred after March 31, 2012, the 15% tax credit will continue to be refundable only for Canadian-controlled private corporations, up to a maximum annual limit of $3 million in qualifying expenditures. Qualifying expenditures that are more than the annual limit, and all qualifying expenditures incurred by other corporations, are eligible for a 15% non-refundable tax credit. Any unused non-refundable tax credits earned in a year can be applied against tax payable in any of the following 10 tax years, or the previous 3 tax years. See page 101.

Saskatchewan film employment tax credit

The credit is eliminated for new productions. Film productions that have already been registered by SaskFilm before July 1, 2012, will continue to be eligible for the tax credit, which will be effectively discontinued for all productions by December 31, 2014. See page 102.

British Columbia film and television tax credit

For interprovincial co-productions that start principal photography after December 31, 2011, the credit reduction that was applied when the corporation owned less than 100% of the copyright is cancelled. See page 103.

British Columbia book publishing tax credit

This credit is extended to March 31, 2017. See page 106.

British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit

The province introduced a new tax credit for eligible employers who employ apprentices in the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry. See page 108.

Our service pledge

Who has to file a T2 return?

Resident corporations

All corporations—including non-profit organizations, tax-exempt corporations, and inactive corporations—have to file a T2 return for every tax year, even if there is no tax payable. The only exceptions to this rule are provincial Crown corporations, Hutterite colonies, and corporations that were registered charities throughout the year.

Non-resident corporations

A non-resident corporation has to file a T2 return if, at any time in the year, one of the following situations applies:

- it carried on business in Canada;
- it had a taxable capital gain; or

- it disposed of taxable Canadian property, unless a disposition that takes place after 2008 meets all the criteria listed below.

This requirement applies even if any profits or gain(s) realized are claimed by the corporation to be exempt from Canadian income tax due to the provisions of a tax treaty.

The meaning of “business” is defined in subsection 248(1) and the extended meaning of “carrying on business [in Canada]” is defined in section 253.

The references to taxable capital gain do not include any gain resulting from the disposition of shares that are listed on a designated stock exchange (other than taxable Canadian property).

For dispositions that take place after 2008, a non-resident corporation will not have to file a T2 return if all of the following criteria apply:

- no tax is payable under Part I for the tax year;
- the corporation is not liable to pay any amount under the Act for any previous tax year (other than an amount covered by adequate security under section 116 or 220); and
- each taxable Canadian property disposed of in the tax year is:
 - excluded property under section 116; or
 - property for which a certificate was issued under section 116.

Effective March 5, 2010, the definition of taxable Canadian property excludes shares of corporations, and certain other interests, that, during the 60-month period ending at the time of determination, do not derive their value mainly from real or immovable property situated in Canada (including Canadian resource property and timber resource property).

A non-resident corporation also has to file a T2 return in a number of situations, including:

- when it has filed Form NR6, Undertaking to File an Income Tax Return by a Non-Resident Receiving Rent from Real Property or Receiving a Timber Royalty, to pay Part I tax on the net amount of timber royalty income or rental income from real property under subsection 216(1) for the current year and we approved it; or
- when it has filed Form T1288, Application by a Non-Resident of Canada (Corporation) for a Reduction in the Amount of Non-Resident Tax Required to Be Withheld on Income Earned from Acting in a Film or Video Production, to pay Part I tax on the net amount of acting services under subsection 216.1(1) for the current year and we approved it.

Even if neither of these requirements applies, a non-resident corporation may still want to file a return if any of the following situations apply:

- when it wants to claim a refund;
- when it wants to elect to pay Part I tax on the net amount of timber royalty income or rental income from real property under subsection 216(1) for the current year; or

- when it wants to elect to pay Part I tax on the net amount of acting services under subsection 216.1(1) for the current year.

Note

Non-resident corporations must file their T2 return, schedules, and the General Index of Financial Information in Canadian funds only. They are not eligible to file in a functional currency per section 261.

Non-resident corporations claiming treaty exemption

If you carried on a “treaty-protected business” in Canada, had a taxable capital gain, or disposed of a “taxable Canadian property” that was “treaty-protected property” during the year (as defined in section 248), you have to complete the following lines on your return:

- lines 001 to 082 of page 1;
- lines 164, 170, and 171 of page 2;
- lines 270 to 289 of page 3; and
- lines 780 to 990, if applicable, of page 8.

For each of the questions asked at lines 164, 170, and 171 on page 2 of the return to which your response is yes, complete the appropriate form or schedule and attach it to your return. In addition, you have to complete Schedule 91, Information Concerning Claims for Treaty-Based Exemptions.

Services rendered in Canada (withholding amount)

A non-resident corporation is subject to a 15% withholding under Regulation 105 on any fee or other amount paid to it for services rendered in Canada (regardless of whether the services are provided by an employee of the corporation or are sub-contracted to another party). This withholding is held on account of any potential tax liability that the corporation may have to Canada. The corporation’s tax liability is determined upon the assessment of its Canadian income tax return.

A corporation related to a non-resident actor is subject to a 23% withholding tax under Part XIII on all amounts it receives for the acting services of the actor in a film or video production in Canada. This withholding tax represents the final tax liability for these acting services. The corporation may elect not to be taxed under Part XIII at the 23% rate by filing a return of income under Part I for the year. A non-resident corporation that has received a reduction (filed Form T1288) of this withholding tax from the CRA still has to file a return.

Note

Send your election to file a Canadian return under section 216.1 to the tax services office that processed application Form T1288 and issued the reduction. Write “Actor’s election” at the top of page 1 of the return.

Dispositions of taxable Canadian property (certificates of compliance)

A non-resident corporation that disposes of taxable Canadian property must notify the CRA and get a certificate of compliance under section 116. For details, see Information Circular IC72-17, Procedures Concerning the Disposition of Taxable Canadian Property by Non-residents of Canada – Section 116.

A non-resident corporation that has a taxable capital gain or disposed of taxable Canadian property, including a corporation that may have received a certificate of compliance from the CRA, has to file a return, unless a disposition that takes place after 2008 meets all the criteria listed previously under “Non-resident corporation” on page 7.

How do you file your return?

Using tax preparation software

If you are preparing your return using tax preparation software, you must use CRA-certified software. We certify commercial software to ensure that it meets our specifications. You can then file your return electronically using CRA’s Corporation Internet Filing service; My Business Account, if you are a business owner; or Represent a Client, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or you can print the T2 Bar Code Return and mail or deliver it to the CRA.

Mandatory Internet filing

For tax years ending after 2009, all corporations with annual gross revenue of more than $1 million will have to Internet file their T2 return, except for insurance corporations, non-resident corporations, corporations reporting in functional currency and corporations that are exempt from tax payable under section 149 of the Income Tax Act. For tax years ending after 2011, a corporation will be subject to a penalty for non-compliant returns. For more information see page 14.

Corporation Internet filing

Most corporations, including non-resident corporations and corporations claiming an SR&ED amount, can file their return electronically using the Internet. You must use CRA-approved software that has been certified for Corporation Internet Filing. By filing electronically, you will receive immediate confirmation that the CRA has received your return, enjoy faster processing and refunds, save on mailing costs, and help the environment by reducing paper consumption.

If you have to file a certificate or an election form with your return and you are filing your T2 return electronically, send the document(s) to your tax centre (see “Where to file your paper return” on page 10). Clearly identify your corporation’s name, business number, and the applicable tax year-end on the documents. If you are filing an election that does not have a prescribed form or prescribed manner, include it with the notes to your financial statements on the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) to transmit the election electronically with your return, unless otherwise specified on a T2-related form.

For information on your eligibility, available software, and more, go to www.cra.gc.ca/corporation-internet.

Filing without a Web access code

You can file corporation returns online without a Web access code using the “Transmit a return” service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or

- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

2D bar code

CRA-certified software produces two-dimensional (2D) bar codes that contain the information needed to assess your return. We use bar code scanners to capture the information on our processing systems.

CRA-certified software produces a T2 Bar Code Return that contains the corporation’s identification information, a summary of the financial data, bar codes, and a certification area.

The paper quality and print legibility of your T2 Bar Code Return have to meet our standards and must be printed on one side only. Use paper that is as durable as the 32M paper we use to print our forms. The print quality has to be clear and dark enough to read and photocopy easily.

If the T2 Bar Code Return you file was not generated by software that we certified or does not meet our requirements, we will contact you to re-file the return, either in an approved format or using our preprinted forms.

Generally, in addition to the T2 Bar Code Return, certified software produces a client copy of the T2 return, which looks like a CRA pre-printed T2 return. Keep the client copy for your files and send the T2 Bar Code Return to us.

North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes

Since November 2011, all certified tax preparation software for T2 returns uses self-identified NAICS codes. NAICS codes are hierarchical numerical codes used by the member countries of the North American Free Trade Agreement designed to provide common definitions and descriptions of our industries and business activities. NAICS codes are up to six digits long. The Government of Canada as well as the governments of the provinces and territories use the data provided by NAICS codes for economic analysis and fiscal policy responses.

The integration of NAICS codes into T2 commercial tax preparation software packages means that corporations have to pick their main revenue-generating business activity directly from a drop-down list or a simple search. Active corporations that file their T2 returns either by Internet or on paper using 2D bar codes must choose the appropriate codes to describe their main revenue-generating business activity. Corporations using the agency-printed return do not have to enter a NAICS code.

Avoid errors

It is important that you select the most accurate business activity the first time, since the first year’s code is carried forward to following years, allowing for a simple validation of the description when there is no change in the main business activity.

If you do not select the business activity, problems and errors will result when you prepare the T2 return to be transmitted electronically or printed in bar-coded format.

If you have any questions on selecting NAICS codes to describe your corporation's main revenue generating business activity when filing your T2 return, call the Business Enquiries line at 1-800-959-5525.

Using our preprinted returns

We print two different returns.

T2 Corporation Income Tax Return

The T2 Corporation Income Tax Return has eight pages. Any corporation can use it.

T2 Short Return

The T2 Short Return is two pages plus a Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes, a Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA), and a Schedule 50, Shareholder Information. It is a simpler version of the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return.

Two categories of corporations are eligible to use this return:

1. You can use this return if the corporation is a Canadian-controlled private corporation (CCPC) throughout the tax year and this year, it has either a nil net income or a loss for income tax purposes.
2. You can also use this return if the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149 (such as a non-profit organization).

In addition, the corporation must meet all of the following conditions to use this return:

- it has a permanent establishment in only one province or territory (see page 77);
- it is not claiming any refundable tax credits (other than a refund of instalments it paid);
- it did not receive or pay out any taxable dividends;
- it is reporting in Canadian currency;
- it does not have an Ontario transitional tax debit; and
- it does not have an amount calculated under section 34.2.

If the corporation does not fit into either of the above categories or does not meet all of the above conditions, file a regular T2 return.

When do you have to file your return?

File your return within six months of the end of each tax year. The tax year of a corporation is its fiscal period.

When the corporation's tax year ends on the last day of a month, file the return by the last day of the sixth month after the end of the tax year.

When the last day of the tax year is not the last day of a month, file the return by the same day of the sixth month after the end of the tax year.

Examples

Tax year-end	Filing deadline
March 31	September 30
June 30	December 31
August 31	February 28
September 23	March 23
October 2	April 2

When the T2 filing deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or statutory holiday, we will consider the return filed on time if it is sent on the first business day after the filing deadline.

You must file your return on time. If you do not, we can charge penalties on any return that was not sent by the filing due date. See page 13 for details.

Note

You must file a return no later than three years after the end of a tax year to receive a tax refund.

Where do you file your paper return?

Where you file your paper return depends on where the corporation is located.

Film and media tax credits

Film Services Units at the CRA provide services to corporations that may be entitled to receive the Canadian film or video production tax credit, the film or video production services tax credit, or other available provincial or media tax credits. For more information, including the location and contact numbers for the Film Services Unit serving your area, go to www.cra.gc.ca/filmservices.

When and how do corporations pay income tax?

Corporations have to pay income tax in monthly or quarterly instalments when the total of Part I, Part VI, Part VI.1, and Part XIII.1 taxes payable for either the previous year or the current year is more than $3,000.

The balance of tax the corporation owes for a tax year is due within either two or three months of the end of that tax year, depending on the circumstances of the corporation.

Interest and penalties apply to late payments. To be on time, you have to make instalment payments and other payments on or before the due date either by mailing a cheque payable to the Receiver General for Canada, or by paying directly through a Canadian financial institution. You may be able to make arrangements with your financial institution to make your payments electronically. Go to www.cra.gc.ca/electronicpayments or contact your financial institution for more information.

We consider the payment to have been made on the day we receive it, and not on the day you mail it.

Your payment due date may fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or a statutory holiday. If so, we will consider the payment as being received on time for calculating instalment interest and penalty if we receive the payment on the first business day after the due date.

Note

Sometimes, interest and penalties on late payments can be waived or cancelled. For more information, see "Waiving penalties and interest" on page 15.

Instalment due dates

Instalment payments for Parts I, VI, VI.1, and XIII.1 taxes are due on the last day of every complete month of a corporation's tax year. The first payment is due one month minus a day from the starting date of the corporation's tax year. The rest of the payments are due on the same day of each month that follows.

Eligible small-CCPCs can make quarterly instalment payments, instead of monthly ones. For more information, see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

You can view your instalment due dates, by using the "Instalment payment calculator" service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

Balance due date

Generally, all corporation taxes (with the exception of Part III and Part XII.6) are due two months after the end of the tax year. However, the tax is due three months after the end of the tax year if the following conditions apply:

- the corporation is a CCPC throughout the tax year;
- the corporation is claiming the small business deduction for the tax year, or was allowed the small business deduction in the previous tax year; and either
- the corporation's taxable income for the previous tax year does not exceed its business limit for that tax year (if the corporation is not associated with any other corporation during the tax year); or
- the total of the taxable incomes of all the associated corporations for their last tax year ending in the previous calendar year does not exceed the total of their business limits for those tax years (if the corporation is associated with any other corporation during the tax year).

The business limits are provided at "Line 410 – Business limit" on page 57. For more information about allocating the business limit among associated corporations, see Schedule 23 on page 27.

Note

For determining balance due dates, the taxable income for the previous year of corporations and associated, subsidiary, and predecessor corporations means taxable income before applying loss carrybacks.

Special rules apply to determine the balance due date of a new corporation formed after an amalgamation or of a parent corporation after it receives the assets of a subsidiary corporation that is winding-up. For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtns/pymnts or see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Partnerships – Elimination of corporation tax deferral

Previously, income earned by a corporation as a member of a partnership was included in the corporation's income for the corporation's tax year in which the fiscal period of the partnership ended.

For tax years of a corporation that end after March 22, 2011, some corporations may have to accrue additional income in respect of the partnership (other than dividends for which a deduction is available under section 112 or 113), when the fiscal period of the partnership begins in the tax year and ends in a following tax year. The accrued income (adjusted stub period accrual) is generally for the portion of the partnership's fiscal period that falls in the corporation's tax year (the stub period).

The definition of "adjusted stub period accrual" gives the formulas for calculating a corporation's adjusted stub period accrual (ASPA) in respect of a partnership. Under section 34.2, a corporation (other than a professional corporation) generally has to include in its income the ASPA for a tax year if:

- the partnership's last fiscal period that began in the tax year ends in the following tax year of the corporation;
- at the end of the tax year, the corporation is entitled to a share of an income, loss, taxable capital gain, or allowable capital loss of the partnership for the fiscal period referred to in the preceding bullet; and
- the corporation, together with affiliated or related parties, has a significant interest in a partnership, in other words, more than 10% of the partnership's income or loss (or assets, net of liabilities, if the partnership ceases to exist) at the end of the last fiscal period of the partnership that ended in the tax year.

It is possible that the new rules affect a corporation that does not have a significant interest in a partnership, if the partnership has one or more members that have a significant interest and the partnership elects to change its fiscal period under the new rules. In this case, the corporation may have additional partnership income because of this one-time alignment.

The elimination of corporation tax deferral applies to any corporation, as described in the bullets above, that is a member of a partnership, even if the partnership has an individual or a professional corporation as a member that is subject to the 1995 rules limiting deferral for unincorporated businesses.

The ASPA formula allows the corporation to designate two reductions. The first designation concerns qualified resource expenses incurred by the partnership during the corporation's stub period. The second allows a corporate partner to make a discretionary designation to reduce its ASPA to reflect its knowledge of the actual partnership income for the stub period. Once filed, the designations cannot be amended or revoked. If the discretionary designated amount is too high, creating an income shortfall, the corporation may be subject to an additional income inclusion. The additional income inclusion may increase if the shortfall is above a 25% threshold.

For more information on reporting requirements, go to www.cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtns/dfrrl/menu-eng.html.

Elections

Single-tier alignment election

Some partnerships may have wanted to change their fiscal periods, for example, to align with the tax year of one or more corporate partners. A one-time election allowed a partnership to change its fiscal period under certain conditions.

The single-tier alignment election had to be filed in writing with the CRA on behalf of the partnership, on or before the earliest of all filing due dates of all corporate members for the first tax year of the corporation ending after March 22, 2011. Late elections were considered as filed on time if the election was filed on or before January 31, 2012.

Multi-tier alignment election

If a partnership has one or more partnerships as members, all of those partnerships generally had to adopt a common fiscal period.

Under the partnership deferral rules introduced in 2011, certain partnerships that had not previously been required to have a December 31 fiscal period may have been allowed a one-time election to choose a common fiscal period.

The multi-tier alignment election had to be filed in writing with the CRA on behalf of the partnerships, on or before the earliest of all filing due dates of all corporate members for the first tax year of the corporation ending after March 22, 2011. Late elections were considered as filed on time if the election was filed on or before January 31, 2012.

If no multi-tier alignment election was filed, the common fiscal period of the partnerships is deemed to have ended on December 31, 2011 and later fiscal periods will end on December 31.

Elections and eligible alignment income

A corporate partner may have additional income as a result of single-tier or multi-tier alignment election that may represent eligible alignment income, which qualifies for transitional relief. Unlike adjusted stub period accrual, a corporation may have eligible alignment income in respect of a partnership even though its interest in the partnership is not a significant interest.

Transitional relief

Qualifying transitional income

Transitional relief is provided for the additional income when a corporation has qualifying transitional income (QTI). A corporation's qualifying transitional relief in respect of a partnership could include:

- ASPA arising in the corporation's first tax year ending after March 22, 2011, under new section 34.2;
- eligible alignment income, which can result from a single-tier alignment or a multi-tier alignment of the fiscal period of a partnership under new section 34.2 and amended section 249.1; or
- both ASPA and eligible alignment income (in other words, the fiscal period of a partnership may be aligned, but that alignment may not coincide with the tax year-end of all its corporate members).

If the corporation is a member of a partnership subject to a multi-tier alignment, the ASPA inclusion does not apply to the corporation in respect of the partnership for tax years before the tax year that includes the end of the fiscal period of the partnership that is aligned under the multi-tier alignment.

Transitional reserve

Generally, corporations will have up to five calendar years to report the QTI following the tax year in which the QTI initially arose. For example, if the first tax year in which the QTI arose ended in 2011, the effective QTI inclusion is: 0% in 2011, 15% in 2012, 20% in each of 2013, 2014 and 2015, and 25% in 2016.

This is done by claiming a deduction, as a reserve, for a declining specified percentage of the QTI each year. Like other reserves, the amount deducted in a tax year is brought into income in the following tax year. The QTI amount that is initially calculated may be required to be adjusted in the second or subsequent tax year to accurately prorate the income for the stub period.

Note

The first tax year the transitional reserve can be claimed may end in 2011, 2012, or 2013. The first tax year in which the QTI arises may be 2013 only if a multi-tier alignment occurs and the corporation's first tax year that includes the aligned fiscal period of the partnerships ends in 2013. Then the corporation has only up to four calendar years to report the QTI following the tax year in which the QTI initially arose.

This transitional relief applies on a partnership-by-partnership basis if a corporation is a member of two or more partnerships.

Generally, the ASPA and related deductions are deemed to have the same character and be in the same proportions as the partnership income that they relate to.

Additional information and examples of the legislation are available in the explanatory notes of the Department of Finance Web page at www.fin.gc.ca/legislation/draft-avant-eng.asp.

To calculate the income inclusion under 34.2 and, if applicable, the income shortfall adjustment and additional amount under 34.3, use Schedule 71, Income Inclusion for Corporations that Are Members of Single-Tier Partnerships, or Schedule 72, Income Inclusion for Corporations that Are Members of Multi-Tier Partnerships. These are worksheets and you do not have to file them with your return. To report the amounts, file a completed Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships, with your return.

Note

If, before Schedule 73 became available, you reported previous-year amounts of stub period accrual, alignment income, or transitional reserve on Schedule 1, complete a Schedule 73 for the previous year and file it separately.

Penalties

What happens if you file your return late?

If you file your return late, a penalty applies. The penalty is 5% of the unpaid tax that is due on the filing deadline, plus 1% of this unpaid tax for each complete month that the return is late, up to a maximum of 12 months.

The corporation will be charged an even larger penalty if we issued a demand to file the return under subsection 150(2), and if we assessed a failure to file penalty for the corporation in any of the three previous tax years. The penalty is 10% of the unpaid tax when the return was due, plus 2% of this unpaid tax for each complete month that the return is late, up to a maximum of 20 months.

Subsections 162(1) and 162(2)

Non-resident corporations

A non-resident corporation will be subject to a failure to file penalty equal to the greater of:

- $100; and
- $25 for each complete day that the return is late, up to a maximum of 100 days.

This penalty applies if the amount calculated is more than the amount of penalty usually applied under subsections 162(1) and (2), as discussed above.

Reference
Subsection 162(2.1)

Large corporations

A large corporation has to file the T2 Corporation Income Tax Return and, if applicable, a Schedule 38, Part VI Tax on Capital of Financial Institutions. If a corporation fails to file these returns, a penalty will be charged for each complete month that the forms are late, up to a maximum of 40 months. The penalty will be calculated as follows:

- 0.0005% of the corporation's taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of tax year; and
- 0.25% of the Part VI tax payable by the corporation [before the deductions in subsection 190.1(3)].

A corporation has to identify itself as a large corporation by answering yes to the question at line 233 on page 2 of the return.

Notes

A corporation is a large corporation if the total taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of the tax year by it and its related corporations is over $10 million.

To determine if the total taxable capital employed in Canada of the corporation and its related corporations is greater than $10 million you can use whichever one of the following schedules that applies:

- Schedule 33, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Corporations;
- Schedule 34, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Financial Institutions; or
- Schedule 35, Taxable Capital Employed in Canada – Large Insurance Corporations.

A corporation with a permanent establishment in Nova Scotia that is a large corporation, as defined under provincial legislation, has to file Schedule 342, Nova Scotia Tax on Large Corporations. See “Nova Scotia tax on large corporations” on page 82.

A corporation with a permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador that is a financial institution, as defined under provincial legislation, has to file Schedule 305, Newfoundland and Labrador Capital Tax on Financial Institutions. See “Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions” on page 80.

What happens if you do not comply with mandatory Internet filing?

The requirement to file certain corporation income tax returns in electronic format applies to tax years ending after 2009. However, no penalty is applied for failure to do so for tax years ending before 2012.

For tax years ending after 2011, we will charge a penalty for non-compliance if a corporation that is required to Internet file does not comply with the requirement. The penalty is $500 for tax years ending in 2012 and $1,000 for tax years ending after 2012.

Reference
Subsection 162(7.2)

What happens if you do not report income?

We will charge a penalty if a corporation does not report an amount of income on its return for a tax year, and if it failed to report income in any of the three previous tax years. The penalty is 10% of the amount of unreported income in the year.

Reference
Subsection 163(1)

False statements or omissions

We will charge a penalty if a corporation, either knowingly or under circumstances of gross negligence, makes a false statement or omission on a return. The penalty is the greater of either $100 or 50% of the amount of understated tax.

Reference
Subsection 163(2)

Note

If a corporation is charged a penalty for making a false statement or omission under subsection 163(2), the corporation cannot be charged a penalty on the same amount for failing to report income under subsection 163(1).

Misrepresentation in tax matters by a third party

We will charge a penalty if a person counsels or assists another person in filing a false return or knowingly allows a taxpayer to submit false tax information.

Other penalties

We can also charge penalties to a corporation for late or incomplete instalment payments and for not providing information on an authorized or prescribed form.

- Form T106, Information Return of Non-Arm's Length Transactions With Non-Residents (see page 30);

Waiving penalties and interest

Sometimes, we may waive failure to file penalties or interest charges if the reason for filing late or not paying an amount when it is due is beyond the taxpayer’s control.

The types of situations in which a penalty or interest charge may be waived include:

- natural or human-made disasters, such as floods or fires;
- civil disturbances or disruptions in services, such as postal strikes;
- serious illness or accident suffered by the person who is responsible for filing the corporation’s return; and
- the corporation receiving the wrong information, either in a letter from us or in one of our publications.

If your corporation is in one of these situations, let us know about the problem and try to file your return and pay any amount of tax owing as soon as possible. If you need an extension for filing a return because of extraordinary circumstances, or if you think there is a valid reason for cancelling a penalty or interest charge, complete Form RC4288, Request for Taxpayer Relief, or send us a letter explaining why it was impossible for you to file your return or make the payment on time.

Requests to waive or cancel penalties will only be considered for a tax year that ended 10 calendar years or less before the calendar year of the request.

We may cancel interest that accrued during the 10 calendar years preceding the year in which the request is made, regardless of the tax year in which the tax debt arose.

Information reporting of tax avoidance transactions

The Department of Finance has released a draft legislative proposal to implement a new reporting requirement for certain tax avoidance transactions.

Taxpayers, advisors and promoters who engage in certain tax avoidance transactions will be subject to the reporting requirements.

Under proposed changes, the new measures will apply to certain avoidance transactions entered into after 2010, and avoidance transactions that are part of a series of transactions that started before 2011 and was completed after 2010.

A transaction will be reportable if it is an avoidance transaction as defined in subsection 245(3) of the Income Tax Act for purposes of the general anti-avoidance rule (GAAR) and has at least two of the following three characteristics:

- the promoter or advisor has or had an entitlement to certain types of fee;
- the promoter or advisor has or had confidential protection with respect to the transaction; and/or
- the taxpayer or the promoter or advisor (including any non-arm’s length parties) has or had a contractual protection for the transaction (other than as a result of certain types of fees).

A reportable transaction does not include a transaction that is, or is part of a series of transactions that includes the acquisition of a tax shelter or issuance of a flow-through share for which an information return has been filed with the minister under subsections 237.1(7) or 66(12.68).

Information return RC312, Reportable Transaction Information Return, has to be filed on or before June 30 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the transaction first became a reportable transaction for the person. If the filing of the information return was required before July 1, 2011, the information return is deemed to be filed before that day if it was filed before 2012.

Failure to report could result in suspension of the tax benefit and/or a penalty for failure to report.

File this return separately from your tax return. Before you file it, make a copy for your records. Send the original return, amended return, or any additional information to:

Ottawa Technology Centre
Validation and Verification Section
Other Programs Unit
875 Heron Road
Ottawa ON K1A 1A2

What happens after you have filed your return?

After we receive your return, we send it to Corporation Services of the responsible tax centre for processing. A list of the tax centres can be found on page 10.

When we assess the return, we mail the corporation a notice of assessment and, if necessary, an explanation of any changes we made to the return.

As soon as you receive the notice of assessment, compare it to your copy of the corporation's return. Contact us if you need us to clarify or explain any part of the assessment.

Authorizing representatives and employees

You can authorize representatives, including your employees, to:

- access and make changes to your business accounts; or
- access your business accounts information only.

Authorizing online access

You can authorize online access to your business accounts by:

- using the "Authorize or manage representatives" service in My Business Account at www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, to give your representatives immediate access; or,
- sending a completed Form RC59, Business Consent Form, available at www.cra.gc.ca/forms.

Your representative must be registered with Represent a Client at www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, and provide you with their representative identifier, group identifier, or their business number, so that you can give them online access to your business accounts.

Choose the level of authorization you want to give to your representative:

- Level 1 – allows us to disclose information; or
- Level 2 – allows us to disclose information and accept changes to your account.

To find out the authorization level needed for each online service, go to www.cra.gc.ca/representatives and select "List of services for representatives of businesses."

For example, if you want your representative to be able to use the online "Enquiries service", give your representative a level 2 authorization.

By authorizing online access, you give representatives consent:

- for all tax years; and
- to represent you through the Represent a Client service, over the phone, in writing, and in person.

Authorizing access by phone, in writing, and in person

By authorizing representatives via Form RC59, you have the option to give consent:

- for all tax years or a specific year; and
- over the phone, in writing, and in person only.

Managing existing authorizations

You can use the "Authorize or manage representative" service in My Business Account to add or cancel authorization, or to view a list of authorized representatives. Your consent will stay in effect until it reaches your chosen expiry date, or until you cancel it by using "Authorize or manage representative" in My Business Account or sending another completed Form RC59.

When can we reassess your return?

Within certain time limits, we can reassess your return or make additional assessments of tax, interest, and penalties. These time limits vary, depending on the type of corporation and the nature of the reassessment.

Normal reassessment period

We can usually reassess a return for a tax year:

- within three years of the date we mailed the original notice of assessment for the tax year, if the corporation was a CCPC at the end of the year; or
- within four years of the date we mailed the original notice of assessment for the tax year, if the corporation was not a CCPC at the end of the year.

Extended reassessment period

The normal reassessment period can be extended for an extra three years for any of the following reasons:

- if you want to carry back a loss or credit from a later tax year;
- when a non-arm's length transaction involving the corporation and a non-resident affects the corporation's tax;
- if the corporation pays an amount or receives a refund of foreign income or profits tax;
- when a reassessment of another taxpayer's tax for any of the above reasons affects the corporation's tax;
- if a reassessment of another tax year (it must be a prior tax year if the reassessment relates to a loss or credit carryback) for any of the above reasons affects the corporation's tax;
- if the reassessment results from a non-resident corporation's allocation of revenue or expenses for the Canadian business or from a notional transaction, such as "branch advance," between the non-resident corporation and its Canadian business; or

- to give effect to the application of the non-resident trust rules in section 94 or to the application of the foreign investment rules under sections 94.1 and 94.2 for tax years that end after March 4, 2010, as proposed in the March 4, 2010, budget.

If the reassessment results from a provincial income reallocation, the normal reassessment period can be extended for one year from the later of:

- the day on which the CRA is advised of the provincial reassessment; and
- 90 days after the notice of the provincial reassessment was mailed.

Unlimited reassessment period

We can reassess a return at any time if:

- the corporation has made a misrepresentation because of neglect, carelessness, wilful default, or fraud in either filing the return or supplying information required by the Income Tax Act;
- the corporation filed Form T2029, Waiver in Respect of the Normal Reassessment Period or Extended Reassessment Period, with a tax services office before the normal reassessment period expires. The waiver can be filed up to three more years after the end of the normal reassessment period if the waiver applies to one of the situations previously described under “Extended reassessment period”;
- the reassessment is to carry back losses or certain tax credits and deductions where a prescribed form requesting the amendment has been filed on time; or
- a court instructs us to reassess.

Note

If you want to revoke a waiver that was previously filed to extend the normal reassessment period for a certain tax year, file Form T652, Notice of Revocation of Waiver, at your tax services office. The revocation will take effect six months after you file Form T652.

How to request a reassessment

Send a letter to the tax centre that serves the corporation. In your request, state the name of the corporation, the business number, the tax year, and any details that apply. With your letter, include any relevant supporting information, such as revised financial statements and schedules. Do not send the entire T2 return.

Effective October 22, 2012, you can request a reassessment by sending your amended tax return in bar code format to your tax centre.

To ask to carry back a loss or tax credit to a prior tax year, file whichever of the following schedules apply:

- Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application, to ask to carry back a loss;

- Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to ask to carry back foreign tax credits on business income;
- Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to ask to carry back an investment tax credit; and
- Schedule 42, Calculation of Unused Part I Tax Credit, to ask to carry back a Part I tax credit.

You can file these schedules with the return on which you report the loss or earned the credit, or you can forward them separately to the tax centre that serves the corporation.

Subsection 152(6)

What should you do if you disagree?

You can make a formal objection if you disagree with the amount of tax, interest, or penalties we have assessed or reassessed. You have 90 days from the date of the assessment or reassessment to file the objection. You can make an objection:

- by using the “Register a formal dispute” service at www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are a business owner;
- by filing Form T400A, Objection – Income Tax Act; or
- by sending a letter to the Chief of Appeals at your tax services office or tax centre.

You must explain the reasons for the objection, and outline all the relevant facts.

For a large corporation, the notice of objection has to:

- reasonably describe each issue;
- specify the relief you are seeking, expressed as the amount of a change in the income, taxable income, loss, taxes payable, refundable amounts, and overpayments or balance of unclaimed outlays, expenses, or other amounts of the corporation; and
- provide facts and reasons the corporation relied on for each issue.

Once we receive the objection, an appeals officer at the tax services office or tax centre will review the assessment or reassessment in dispute. The appeals officer will then contact the corporation or its authorized representative to discuss the differences and to try to resolve the dispute.

If the differences in how we interpreted or applied the law are not resolved, the corporation can then appeal the assessment or reassessment to the Tax Court of Canada.

You do not have to pay the disputed amount of tax, interest, or penalty while you are waiting for the outcome of the CRA’s or the Tax Court of Canada’s review. However, once the objection or appeal is settled, normal interest charges will apply to any tax, interest, or penalties outstanding. Interest charges are calculated from the balance due date.

Reference

Section 165

A large corporation that objects to an assessment will have to pay 50% of the disputed amount. A corporation is a large corporation if the total taxable capital employed in Canada at the end of the tax year by the corporation and its related corporations is over $10 million. The corporation also has to pay the full amount of taxes not in dispute.

Reference
Subsection 225.1(7)

Appealing loss determinations

The objection and appeal process does not usually apply to loss amounts under dispute, because there is no tax, interest, or penalty involved.

However, if a corporation does not agree with losses that we have assessed and wants to appeal, it has to request a loss determination. We officially determine the amount of the loss and confirm it in writing by issuing Form T67AM, Notice of Determination/Redetermination of a Loss. Once the corporation has received this form, it can appeal our loss determination.

If the corporation asks, we will make determinations of the following amounts:

- a non-capital loss;

- a net capital loss;
- a restricted farm loss;
- a farm loss; or
- a limited partnership loss.

Send any requests for loss determinations to your tax services office or tax centre.

Identification

Accurately complete page 1 of your return, so we can properly identify the corporation and process the return more quickly. You cannot use the Corporation Internet Filing service to change the corporation's head office address or mailing address.

You can change the mailing, physical, and books and records address of the corporation by:

The BN is a 15-character number composed of three parts. The first nine characters identify your business. The “RC” identifies the corporation income tax program. The last four characters identify the particular program account.

On line 001, enter your BN for income tax purposes. Enter “0001” as the program account identifier unless we have advised you to use a different one. You will find the corporation’s BN on previous notices of assessment, account statements, or remittance forms.

Note

If you are a non-resident corporation requiring a BN, see Guide RC2, The Business Number and Your Canada Revenue Agency Program Accounts, on our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/forms.

If the corporation’s mailing address changes, you can change this address:

- online at www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount; or
- by writing to your tax centre as soon as possible.

Lines 030 to 038 – Location of books and records

Line 030 – Has the location of books and records changed since the last time we were notified?

If you answer no, do not complete lines 031 to 038.

If this is your first year of filing after incorporation or amalgamation, you must tick yes and complete lines 031 to 038.

Lines 031 to 038

Enter the address of the location where the corporation keeps its books and records by completing lines 031 to 038. Complete line 037, if it applies.

Lines 040 and 043 – Type of corporation at the end of the tax year

IT-391, Status of Corporations

Box 1 – Canadian-controlled private corporation (CCPC)

The corporation is a CCPC if it meets all of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it is a private corporation;
- it is a corporation that was resident in Canada and was either incorporated in Canada or resident in Canada from June 18, 1971, to the end of the tax year;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by one or more non-resident persons;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation, as defined in Regulation 6700);
- it is not controlled by a Canadian resident corporation that lists its shares on a designated stock exchange outside of Canada;
- it is not controlled directly or indirectly by any combination of persons described in the three previous conditions;
- if all of its shares that are owned by a non-resident person, by a public corporation (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation), or by a corporation with a class of shares listed on a designated stock exchange, were owned by one person, that person would not own sufficient shares to control the corporation; and
- no class of its shares of capital stock is listed on a designated stock exchange.

Box 2 – Other private corporation

The corporation is an other private corporation if it meets all of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it is resident in Canada;
- it is not a public corporation;
- it is not controlled by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation, as defined in Regulation 6700);
- it is not controlled by one or more prescribed federal Crown corporations (as defined in Regulation 7100); and
- it is not controlled by any combination of corporations described in the two previous conditions.

Box 3 – Public corporation

The corporation is a public corporation if it is resident in Canada and meets either of the following requirements at the end of the tax year:

- it has a class of shares listed on a designated Canadian stock exchange; or
- it has elected, or the minister of National Revenue has designated it, to be a public corporation and the corporation has complied with prescribed conditions under Regulation 4800(1) on the number of its shareholders, the dispersing of the ownership of its shares, the public trading of its shares, and the size of the corporation.

If a public corporation has complied with certain prescribed conditions under Regulation 4800(2), it can elect, or the minister of National Revenue can designate it, not to be a public corporation.

Regulations 4800(1) and 4800(2)

Box 4 – Corporation controlled by a public corporation

The corporation is a corporation controlled by a public corporation if it is a Canadian subsidiary of a public corporation. This type of corporation does not qualify as a public corporation for determining the type of corporation.

Box 5 – Other corporation

The corporation is an other corporation if it does not fall within the other categories. Examples of other corporations include general insurers and Crown corporations.

Line 043 – If the type of corporation changed during the tax year, provide the effective date of the change

Indicate the effective date of the change. Do not include other types of changes in this section, such as the change from active to inactive status.

A change of corporation type may bring significant tax consequences. For example, certain calculations on the return depend on whether the corporation was a private corporation or a CCPC throughout the tax year, at any time in the tax year, or at the end of the tax year.

Note

If the corporation changed from, or to, a CCPC see line 066 on the following page. Do not complete line 043 if you answer yes at line 066, and you are filing a tax return with a deemed tax year-end because of subsection 249(3.1).

Lines 060, 061, 063, 065 – To which tax year does this return apply?

Lines 060 and 061 – Tax year start and tax year-end

The corporation's tax year is its fiscal period. A fiscal period cannot be longer than 53 weeks (371 days).

In the spaces provided, enter the first and last days of the tax year. If the particular time of day applies, enter the hours and minutes to specify the time. The first day of this tax year has to be the day after the last day of the previous tax year. You have to file a return for every calendar year.

A new corporation may choose any tax year-end as long as its first tax year does not exceed 53 weeks from the date it was either incorporated or formed as a result of an amalgamation.

Make sure the financial statements or the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) you attach to the return match the tax year of the return.

Note

A professional corporation that is a member of a partnership and that carries on business in Canada has to have a December 31 year-end.

Generally, unless you have received approval to change the fiscal period, the corporation's fiscal period is the same from year to year. To change an established fiscal period, write a letter to your tax services office asking for approval and explaining the reasons for the change.

However, you do not need approval to change the fiscal period in some situations, including the following:

- the corporation has wound-up and you are filing its final return with an abbreviated fiscal period;
- the corporation has to end its tax year at a certain time because it is emigrating to another country, becoming exempt from tax, or ceasing to be exempt from tax; or
- a person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation under subsection 249(4).

Note

A corporation that becomes bankrupt must get our approval to change its fiscal period.

Lines 063 and 065 – Has there been an acquisition of control to which subsection 249(4) applies since the previous tax year?

If you answer yes, enter on line 065 the date the control was acquired.

There is an acquisition of control when, during the tax year, a person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation.

When control is acquired, subsection 249(4) provides that the tax year of the corporation ends immediately before that control is acquired. You do not need approval for the changed tax year.

File a return for the tax year that ends immediately before control is acquired. The next tax year starts at the time control is acquired, and the corporation can choose any tax year-end within the next 53 weeks.

If control is acquired up to seven days after the end of an established tax year, generally, a corporation can choose to extend the tax year up to the time control is acquired. In this case, attach a letter to your return that says you are making an election under paragraph 249(4)(c).

Notes

The acquisition of control under subsection 256(9) of a corporation is usually deemed to occur at the beginning of the day on which the acquisition takes place.

However, the particular time of day that the acquisition of control took place will be recognized if the corporation makes an election under subsection 256(9). To elect under subsection 256(9), include a note with your return for the tax year ending immediately before control was acquired and enter the hours and minutes that specify the time of day at line 065.

This deeming rule no longer applies when determining the status of a corporation as a small business corporation or a Canadian-controlled private corporation at the time of the transaction that caused the change of control.

For acquisitions of control that occur after 2005, the status of the corporation will not change until the actual time of the acquisition.

Line 064 – Is the date on line 061 a deemed tax year-end according to subparagraph 88(2)(a)(iv)?

When a Canadian corporation has been wound up, other than a subsidiary under subsection 88(1), and all or substantially all of the property owned by the corporation immediately before the wind-up was distributed to the shareholders of the corporation, subparagraph 88(2)(a)(iv) says that the tax year of the corporation is deemed to end immediately before the wind-up. You do not need approval for the changed tax year. File a return for the tax year that ends immediately before the wind-up date. The next tax year is deemed to start on the date of the wind-up and the corporation can choose any tax year-end within the next 53 weeks.

Line 066 – Is the date on line 061 a deemed tax year-end according to subsection 249(3.1)?

If at any time a corporation becomes or stops being a Canadian-controlled private (CCPC) for any reason other than an acquisition of control, subsection 249(3.1) provides that the tax year of the corporation is deemed to end immediately before that change. You do not need the minister's approval for the changed tax year.

File a return for the tax year that ends immediately before the change. The next tax year is deemed to start on the date that the corporation type changed, and the corporation can choose any tax year-end within the next 53 weeks.

If the change occurs up to seven days after the end of an established tax year and there has not been an acquisition of control and the corporation has not become or stopped being a CCPC, within those seven days the corporation can choose to extend the tax year up to the time the change occurred. In this case, attach a letter to your return that says you are making an election under paragraph 249(3.1)(c).

Line 067 – Is the corporation a professional corporation that is a member of a partnership?

A professional corporation is a corporation that carries on the professional practice of an accountant, dentist, lawyer, medical doctor, veterinarian, or chiropractor.

Line 070 – Is this the first year of filing after incorporation?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

See chapters 2 and 3 for other schedules you may have to attach to your return.

Note

The tax year of a new corporation cannot be longer than 53 weeks from the date it was incorporated.

If this is your first year of filing after incorporation, you must tick yes at line 030 and complete lines 031 to 038.

Line 071 – Is this the first year of filing after amalgamation?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

Note

The tax year of a new corporation cannot be longer than 53 weeks from the date it was amalgamated.

If this is your first year of filing after amalgamation, you must tick yes at line 030 and complete lines 031 to 038.

Line 072 – Has there been a wind-up of a subsidiary under section 88 during the current tax year?

If you answer yes, you have to file Schedule 24, First-Time Filer After Incorporation, Amalgamation, or Winding-up of a Subsidiary into a Parent, with your return. If you do not file Schedule 24, the processing of your return may be delayed.

Reference

IT-126, Meaning of “Winding up”

Line 076 – Is this the final tax year before amalgamation?

Predecessor corporations filing their last returns have to answer yes to this question on their final returns.

When two or more corporations amalgamate, each of the predecessor corporations has to file a return for the period ending immediately before the effective date of amalgamation. You will find the effective date on the certificate of amalgamation or the letters patent of amalgamation.

Note

We cannot accept returns filed for the period up to the adoptive date of amalgamation, or the date of the shareholders' resolution.

Line 078 – Is this the final return up to dissolution?

You have to answer yes if you have already permanently dissolved your corporation with the incorporating authority and you are filing your final return for a tax year ending on the date of dissolution. You will find the date of dissolution on the articles of dissolution.

The responsible representative has to get a clearance certificate from the tax services office before distributing any of the corporation's property under his or her control. By getting the certificate, the responsible representative will avoid being personally liable for the unpaid taxes, interest, and penalties. Include Schedule 100, Balance Sheet Information, with the final return, which shows how the assets were distributed.

Notes

If you want to dissolve your corporation, you should send an application for dissolution to the government body that governs the affairs of your corporation.

Taxpayers wishing to dissolve an Ontario jurisdiction corporation should contact Business Enquiries and not the Ontario Ministry of Revenue.

Once the corporation has been dissolved, you should send us the articles of dissolution. Otherwise, we consider that the corporation still exists, and it will have to file a return even if there is no tax payable.

Once the corporation is dissolved, any refunds to which the corporation would be entitled revert to the Crown and cannot normally be issued to the corporation or its representatives unless the charter is reinstated.

Line 079 – If an election was made under section 261

If the return is not reported in Canadian currency, indicate the functional currency used.

Corporations resident in Canada throughout the tax year can elect to report in a functional currency, except for:

- investment corporations;
- mortgage investment corporations; and
- mutual fund corporations.

A functional currency is a currency of a country other than Canada that is:

- a qualifying currency (currently, the British pound, the euro, the Australian and the U.S. dollar); and
- the primary currency in which the taxpayer maintains its records and books of account for financial reporting purposes for the tax year.

To elect to report in a functional currency, file Form T1296, Election, or Revocation of an Election, to Report in a Functional Currency.

Note

Even if you elect to report in a functional currency, you still have to complete lines 840 and 898 in Canadian currency.

You cannot change functional currency. If you cease to qualify as a functional currency reporter, you must revert to determining your Canadian tax results in Canadian dollars. You cannot make the election again.

Lines 080 to 082 – Is the corporation a resident of Canada?

If you answer no, enter the country of residence on line 081 and file Schedule 97, Additional Information on Non-resident Corporations in Canada. Non-resident corporations have to mail their returns to the International Tax Services Office (ITSO). See page 11 for the address and telephone and fax numbers.

Note

Since October 2008, certain non-resident corporations can file electronically through Corporation Internet Filing and do not have to mail their returns to the ITSO.

Line 082 – Is the non-resident corporation claiming an exemption under an income tax treaty?

If you answer yes, file Schedule 91, Information Concerning Claims for Treaty-Based Exemptions.

For more information about the filing obligations of non-resident corporations, see page 7.

Line 085 – If the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149

If the corporation is exempt from tax under section 149, tick one of the boxes following this line.

These corporations, which include non-profit organizations, do not usually have to pay any corporation income tax because they are exempted by one of the following paragraphs:

Box 1 – Exempt under paragraph 149(1)(e) or (l)

Tick this box if one of the two following paragraphs applies:

- Paragraph 149(1)(e) exempts the following types of organizations, as long as no part of the income of these organizations was payable or otherwise available for the personal benefit of proprietors, members, or shareholders:
 - agricultural organizations;

- social welfare;
- civic improvement;

- any purpose other than profit.

No part of these organizations' income can be payable to, or otherwise available for the personal benefit of, any proprietor, member, or shareholder, unless the proprietor, member, or shareholder was a club, society, or association that promotes amateur athletics in Canada.

You may have to file Form T1044, Non-Profit Organization (NPO) Information Return, if the organization meets the definition in paragraph 149(1)(e) or 149(1)(l) and if one of the following conditions applies:

- the organization received or was entitled to receive taxable dividends, interest, rentals, or royalties in the tax year totalling more than $10,000;
- the organization's total assets were more than $200,000 at the end of the immediately previous tax year; or
- the organization had to file Form T1044 for a previous tax year.

If you have to file an information return for any tax year, you will have to file a return for all future tax years. Form T1044 has to be filed in the six months following the end of the tax year. See Guide T4117, Income Tax Guide to the Non-Profit Organization (NPO) Information Return.

Box 4 – Exempt under other paragraphs of section 149

Schedules can be organized into two categories:

- information schedules, including general information schedules and those relating to transactions with non-residents; and
- calculation schedules, including schedules used to calculate net income, taxable income, deductions, taxes, and credits.

We provide a complete list of the schedules at the end of this guide. We print some of them. The schedules are available at www.cra.gc.ca/forms. You can also get them by calling 1-800-959-2221. To file the schedules we do not publish, such as Schedule 92, gather the requested information and label it with the schedule number in the top right-hand corner of each page.

On pages 2 and 3 of the return, we list the most common schedules you may have to attach to your return. If you respond yes to any of the questions on these pages, attach to your T2 return the schedule that applies, unless otherwise instructed.

Financial statements or General Index of Financial Information (GIFI)

Each corporation should include complete financial statement information for the tax year of the return using the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

Note

Certain non-resident corporations do not have to file using GIFI. For more information, see Guide RC4088, General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

GIFI schedules include:

- Schedule 100, Balance Sheet Information;
- Schedule 125, Income Statement Information, and, if necessary, Schedule 140, Summary Income Statement; and
- Schedule 141, Notes Checklist. Schedule 141 is a set of questions designed to determine who prepared the financial statements and the extent of their involvement, and to identify the type of information contained in the notes to the financial statements.

Note

Include any notes to the financial statements and the auditor or accountant's report, if they were prepared. You should include this information even if you are filing your return using tax preparation software. For more information, see "Using tax preparation software" on page 9.

When preparing the first return for a new corporation, attach all of the following documents:

- Schedule 101, Opening Balance Sheet Information;
- copies of all relevant agreements or the full details on shares issued for anything other than cash consideration, if they apply; and
- if it applies, the closing balance sheet of the proprietorship, partnership, or corporation if the new corporation acquired the assets or business, or assumed the liabilities of a former proprietorship, partnership, or corporation.

Corporations that are inactive throughout the tax year and that do not have balance sheet or income statement information to report are no longer required to attach schedules 100, 125, and 141 to their T2 return. However, they will be accepted if filed.

The GIFI schedules are to be completed with information from the corporation's financial statements. These schedules are laid out with a "column A" where the appropriate GIFI code is entered, and a "column B" where the corresponding dollar amount is entered.

The GIFI is included in all tax preparation software packages certified by the CRA and in most accounting software.

For more information on the GIFI, see Guide RC4088, General Index of Financial Information (GIFI).

Information schedules and forms

The following section describes the various general information schedules and forms you may have to complete.

Schedule 9, Related and Associated Corporations

Complete Schedule 9 if the corporation is related to or associated with at least one other corporation.

Section 251

When is a corporation associated?

Association is based on control. Control can be exerted either directly or indirectly in any way. A person or a group of persons can control a corporation. Keep in mind that, in this context, a person can be either an individual or a corporation.

Control includes both de jure control and de facto control. De jure control is the right of control that depends on a person owning enough shares of a corporation to give that person a majority of the voting power. De facto control occurs when a corporation is subject to any direct or indirect influencing that, if exercised, would result in actual control being exerted.

In general, a corporation is associated with another corporation if it meets one of the following six conditions at any time in the tax year. Remember that controlled means directly or indirectly in any way.

Condition 1

The corporations are associated if one corporation controls the other.

Example

X Co. Limited owns 100% of the voting shares of Y Co. Limited, which in turn owns 51% of the voting shares of Z Co. Inc.

X Co. Limited is associated with Y Co. Limited, because it exerts direct control over it.

X Co. Limited is associated with Z Co. Inc., because it exerts indirect control over it.

Condition 2

The corporations are associated if both corporations are controlled by the same person or group of persons.

Corporations may be associated because the same group of persons controls both corporations, but the members of this group do not act together and have no other connection to each other.

CCPCs that are associated only because of this definition of a group will not be considered associated when:

- calculating the refundable investment tax credit on eligible SR&ED expenditures;
- calculating the expenditure limit; and
- allocating the expenditure limit.

For this exception to apply, one of the corporations must have at least one shareholder who is not common to both corporations.

The corporations will continue to be associated for all other purposes of the Income Tax Act.

Example

Bob owns 40% of the voting shares of ABC Company Ltd. and 30% of the voting shares of XYZ Limited. Ike owns 20% of the voting shares of ABC Company Ltd. and 40% of the voting shares of XYZ Limited.

As a group, Bob and Ike control both companies. ABC Company Ltd. and XYZ Limited are associated.

Condition 3

The corporations are associated if:

- each corporation is controlled by one person;
- that person is related to the person controlling the other corporation; and
- one of those persons owns at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of each corporation.

Example

AB Co. owns 100% of the issued share capital of CD Co. It also owns 25% of the Class A shares (other than shares of a specified class) of XY Co., whose controlling shareholder is Billy. Billy's brother controls AB Co.

AB Co., CD Co., and XY Co. are associated.

Condition 4

The corporations are associated if:

- one corporation is controlled by one person;
- that person is related to each member of a group of persons who controls the other corporation; and
- that person owns at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of the other corporation.

Example

Buddy controls AY Limited. His two daughters control AZ Inc. Buddy also owns 50% of the Class A preferred shares of AZ Inc.

AY Limited and AZ Inc. are associated.

Condition 5

The corporations are associated if:

- each corporation is controlled by a related group;
 - each of the members of one of the related groups is related to all members of the other related group; and
 - one or more persons who are members of both related groups, either alone or together, own at least 25% of the issued shares of any class, other than shares of a specified class, of the capital stock of each corporation.

Example

Anne and her two daughters control One Co. Anne and her two sons control Two Co. Anne owns 33% of the common shares in each corporation.

One Co. and Two Co. are associated.

Condition 6

Two corporations that are not associated with each other will be considered associated under subsection 256(2) if they are associated with the same corporation (the third corporation). See Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation, on page 28.

Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Business Limit

All CCPCs that are associated have to file Schedule 23. This schedule is used to:

- identify all the associated corporations to establish:
 - the date the balance of tax is due (see “Balance due date” on page 12); and
 - the calculation of the business limit reduction; and
- assign a percentage to each of the associated corporations for the allocation of the business limit. The total of all percentages cannot be more than 100%. The maximum business limits are provided on page 57.

Notes

Schedule 23 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 23 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

If the corporation’s tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, prorate the business limit allocated in column 6 of Schedule 23 based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Associated corporations with more than one tax year in a calendar year

Special rules apply to determine the business limit for associated corporations that have more than one tax year ending in the same calendar year.

For the second or later tax years that end in the same calendar year, the business limit is whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the amount allocated to the corporation for the first tax year; or
- the amount allocated to the corporation for the later tax year in question.

Make sure the total of the business limits of all associated corporations for any tax years that end in the same calendar year is not more than the maximum allowable business limit for that calendar year.

If the corporation’s tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, prorate the business limit as determined above, based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Example

A Co. and B Co. are associated in 2012.

A Co.’s tax year runs from January 1, 2012, to June 30, 2012.

The business limit allocated to A Co. for its June 30, 2012, tax year is $100,000.

On November 1, 2012, C Co. becomes associated with A Co. and B Co. The tax year-end for C Co. is December 31, 2012. A Co. and B Co. change their year-ends to match C Co.’s year-end.

The corporations decide to allocate a $300,000 business limit to C Co. for the December 31, 2012 year-end. Because the total of their business limits cannot be more than $500,000, the corporations allocate $90,000 to A Co. and $110,000 to B Co.

Question

What is A Co.’s business limit for each of the two tax years ending in the 2012 calendar year?

Answer

Tax year ending June 30, 2012:

Because the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, A Co. prorates the business limit for the number of days in the tax year as follows:

$$$100,000 \times \frac{181 \text{ days}}{365 \text{ days}} = $49,589$$

Note: 365 is not adjusted for a leap year.

Tax year ending December 31, 2012:

Because the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, A Co. prorates the business limit for the number of days in the tax year. A Co. uses the $90,000 business limit allocated in this tax year, because it is less than the $100,000 business limit allocated in its first tax year ending in 2012.

A Co. prorates the business limit as follows:

$$$90,000 \times \frac{184 \text{ days}}{365 \text{ days}} = $45,370$$

Note: 365 is not adjusted for a leap year.

Schedule 49, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Expenditure Limit

All CCPCs that are associated and have scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) expenditures have to file Schedule 49. These corporations use this form to:

- identify all the associated corporations;
- allocate the expenditure limit for the 35% ITC rate on qualifying SR&ED expenditures.

For more details about the ITC, see Line 652 on page 67.

Note

Schedule 49 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 49 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

Associated corporations with more than one tax year in a calendar year

Special rules apply to determine the expenditure limit for associated corporations that have more than one tax year ending in the same calendar year. Prorate the expenditure limit for each tax year ending in the calendar year based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

Be sure that the amount you prorate for each of the tax years is equal to the amount allocated to the corporation for the first tax year ending in the calendar year.

Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation

File Schedule 28 if the corporation elects under subsection 256(2) not to be associated with two other corporations for the purposes of the small business deduction.

Two corporations that are not associated with each other will be considered associated under subsection 256(2) if they are associated with the same corporation (the third corporation).

However, for the purposes of the small business deduction, the third corporation is considered to not be associated with either of the other corporations if:

- it is not a CCPC at the time; or
- it elects, in prescribed form, to not be associated.

When a corporation makes this election, its business limit for the small business deduction is considered to be zero.

Notes

You have to file a new election for each applicable tax year.

Schedule 28 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 28 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

When this kind of non-arm's length transaction takes place, the instalment requirements of the transferee corporation have to take into account those of the transferor corporation.

Foreign property

Foreign affiliates

A corporation resident in Canada, of which a non-resident corporation is a foreign affiliate at any time in the year, must file Form T1134, Information Return Relating to Controlled and Not-Controlled Foreign Affiliates, within 15 months after the end of its tax year. A separate supplement has to be filed for each foreign affiliate.

Form T1134 contains more information about filing.

Beneficiaries of non-resident trusts

A corporation may have received, in the year, funds or property from, or been indebted to, a non-resident trust in which it had a beneficial interest. If so, you have to complete and file Form T1142, Information Return in Respect of Distributions From and Indebtedness to a Non-Resident Trust.

A separate form has to be filed for each non-resident trust. Form T1142 contains more information about filing.

Transfers to non-resident trusts

A corporation may have transferred or loaned funds or property to a non-resident trust. If so, you may have to complete and file Form T1141, Information Return in Respect of Transfers or Loans to a Non-Resident Trust.

A separate form has to be filed for each non-resident trust. Form T1141 contains more information about filing.

Ownership of foreign property

If, at any time in the year, the total cost of all specified foreign property the corporation owned or held a beneficiary interest in was more than $100,000, you have to complete and file Form T1135, Foreign Income Verification Statement.

For more information, see Form T1135.

Foreign investment entities (FIEs) and non-resident trusts (NRTs)

The 1999 federal budget proposed changes to the taxation of FIEs and NRTs. These proposed changes require a corporation with an interest in an FIE to include an amount from the investment in its income; they will also deem NRTs with a connection to Canada to be resident here and will make a "contributor" to and a "beneficiary" under such trusts jointly and severally liable for the trust's Canadian tax liability. Therefore, any corporation that is a "contributor" or a "beneficiary" with respect to an NRT will be jointly liable with the NRT for the NRT's Canadian tax.

Amendments to the outstanding proposal are provided in the 2010 Budget regarding NRT. Those measures will apply for the 2007 and later tax years. An election allowing a trust to be deemed resident for the 2001 to 2006 tax years will still be available. The attribution of trust income to resident contributors will apply only to tax years that end after March 4, 2010, where the contributor elects.

Corporations who have included income from a NRT may need to amend their returns where the NRT filed based on the previous proposals and the NRT does not intend to elect an earlier effective date. If the corporation needs time to get supporting documentation and cannot file its request within the normal reassessment periods, it should file Form T2029, Waiver in Respect of the Normal Reassessment Period or Extended Reassessment Period.

The 2010 federal budget announced that the outstanding proposal regarding FIEs would be replaced. The new measure applies for tax years that end after March 4, 2010, but the existing provision continues to apply. The changes from the current rules include:

- an increase in the prescribed rate applicable to the computation of income from offshore investment fund property;
- the broadening of circumstances in which beneficiaries of certain non-resident trusts, or persons who have contributed to them, are required to report income on a modified foreign accrual property income basis. The rules are to be broadened to apply to any resident beneficiary who, together with any person not dealing at arm's length with the beneficiary, holds 10 % or more of any class of interests in a non-resident trust determined by fair market value; and
- the extension of the reassessment period.

A corporation who voluntarily complied with the outstanding proposals in previous years will have the option of having those years reassessed. If the corporation does not wish to be reassessed for those years, and had more income than would have been the case under the existing rules, the taxpayer will be entitled to a deduction in the current year for the excess income.

For more information about the proposed changes, call us at one of the telephone numbers provided on page 11 of this guide.

Penalties

There are substantial penalties for not completing and filing Forms T1134, T1135, T1141, and T1142 by the due date, and for knowingly or under circumstances amounting to gross negligence making false statements or omissions in any of the information returns.

Additional information

Provide all the information we request in the “Additional information” area of your return.

Line 270 – Did the corporation use the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) when it prepared its financial statements?

If the corporation used the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) to prepare its financial statements, answer yes to this question.

The use of the IFRS is mandatory for all publicly accountable enterprises (PAEs) effective January 1, 2011. This includes corporations that have calculated their financial statements in accordance with the IFRS but have not complied with all aspects of the IFRS. A corporation that has issued, or is in a process of issuing, publicly-traded debt or equity instruments or who holds assets in a fiduciary capacity for a broad group of outsiders is generally considered to be a PAE.

To determine if a corporation has to use the IFRS, go to www.cica.ca/ifrs/index.aspx.

For the first year when IFRS is adopted, corporations are required to maintain additional documentation to support amounts filed on the General Index of Financial Information (GIFI) and tax returns. For more information on IFRS books and records and other IFRS topics, go to www.cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/frs/menu-eng.html.

Line 280 – Is the corporation inactive?

Even if a corporation is inactive, which means it has not operated during the tax year, it has to file a return.

Note

Corporations that are inactive throughout the tax year and that do not have balance sheet or income statement information to report are no longer required to attach schedules 100, 125, and 141 to their T2 return. However, they will be accepted if filed.

Lines 281, 282, 283

These lines were removed from the T2 return as a result of the integration of the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes into approved CRA software. If you do not select the business activity, you will have problems and errors when you prepare the T2 return to be transmitted electronically or printed in bar-code format.

Lines 284 to 289 – Specify the principal product(s) mined, manufactured, sold, constructed, or services provided, giving the approximate percentage of the total revenue that each product or service represents

Break down the business activity you described on line 282 into the following categories:

- the principal products mined, manufactured, sold, or constructed; and
- the services provided.

Also, give the approximate percentage of the corporation’s total revenue that each product or service represents.

Line 291 – Did the corporation immigrate to Canada during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Line 292 – Did the corporation emigrate from Canada during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Line 293 – Do you want to be considered as a quarterly instalment remitter, if you are eligible?

A small-CCPC is eligible to make quarterly instalment payments if it meets certain conditions. To determine if you are eligible, see Guide T7B-Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Line 294 – If the corporation was eligible to remit instalments on a quarterly basis for part of the tax year, provide the date the corporation ceased to be eligible.

Indicate the date that the corporation ceased to be eligible to remit instalments on a quarterly basis.

Line 295 – If the corporation’s major business activity is construction, did you have any subcontractors during the tax year?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

Major business activity

All individuals, partnerships, and corporations whose principal business activity is construction have to report payments made to subcontractors. For these purposes, construction is defined as erecting, installing, altering, modifying, repairing, improving, demolishing, dismantling, or removing any structure or part, including but not limited to buildings, roads, and bridges.

Who is a subcontractor?

A subcontractor is an individual, partnership, or corporation that provides construction services.

For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/contract.

Calculating net income or loss

There are several schedules you may have to use to calculate the net income or loss for income tax purposes. This section explains each of those schedules.

Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes

Generally, the net income (loss) reported on your financial statements will not be the same as the net income (loss) required for tax purposes. This is because certain income and expenses reported on your financial statements may not be used in the calculation of net income (loss) for tax purposes.

For example, you do not deduct charitable donations when determining net income for tax purposes, as you would to arrive at net income on your financial statement.

Note

Charitable donations are deducted (afterward) from net income for tax purposes to arrive at taxable income.

Use Schedule 1 to reconcile the net income (loss) reported on your financial statements and the net income (loss) required for tax purposes.

Enter net income or loss after income tax and extraordinary items on line A, page 1 of Schedule 1. Add the taxable items and the non-allowable expenses listed on lines 101 to 199 and subtract from this the non-taxable items and eligible expenses listed on lines 401 to 499.

Additions and deductions identified on lines 101 to 132 and 401 to 417 of Schedule 1 are the most common additions and subtractions. For other additions and deductions, see pages 3 and 4.

Some expenses deducted on your income statement are not allowable for income tax purposes and are not identified on Schedule 1. In this case, use lines 290 to 294, "Other additions," on page 3.

Also, certain items included in income that are not taxable are not identified on this schedule. In such cases, complete lines 390 to 394, "Other deductions," on page 4.

Notes

Only complete lines 203 and 302 if you are converting from an accrual basis to a cash basis. Otherwise, these lines should be left blank.

The deductible portion of expenses you incurred for food, beverages, and entertainment is only 50% of whichever is less: the expenditure actually incurred or the amount that would be reasonable in the circumstances.

Eighty percent of expenses for food and beverages consumed by a long-haul truck driver during an eligible travel period are deductible. The rate was 75% in 2010. For more information, see Guide T4002, Business and Professional Income or go to www.cra.gc.ca/business.

A full deduction is allowed for meals provided to an employee at a temporary construction work camp, if certain conditions are met. For more information on this subject, see Guide T4130, Employer's Guide – Taxable Benefits or go to www.cra.gc.ca/payroll.

You may have to use the following schedules to calculate certain amounts on Schedule 1:

- Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property (on this page);
- Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA) (see page 38);
- Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction (see page 45);
- Schedule 12, Resource-Related Deductions (see page 45);
- Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves (see page 45);
- Schedule 16, Patronage Dividend Deduction (see page 46);
- Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions (see page 46);
- Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships (see page 13); and
- Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim (see page 46).

Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property

You have to complete Schedule 6 if you disposed of capital property during the tax year and incurred any capital losses or realized any capital gains. You also have to complete this schedule if you claim an allowable business investment loss.

Designation under paragraph 111(4)(e)

Answer yes or no to the question on line 050, page 1 of Schedule 6.

You can make a designation under paragraph 111(4)(e) if a person or group of persons has acquired control of the corporation. If you make the designation, capital properties will be considered as having been disposed of immediately before that person or group of persons acquired control of the corporation.

Completing Schedule 6

To help you complete Schedule 6, we have provided the following explanations that briefly set out the type of information we need in each column and each part of the schedule.

Column 1 – Types of capital property

There are six categories of capital property you may have disposed of during the tax year. The categories are:

- shares;
- real estate;
- bonds;
- other properties;
- personal-use property; and
- listed personal property.

The first six parts of Schedule 6 reflect these six categories of capital property.

Column 2 – Date of acquisition

In this column, give the date you acquired the property.

Column 3 – Proceeds of disposition

In this column, indicate the proceeds of disposition. The proceeds of disposition are usually the selling price of the property. However, they can also include compensation the corporation received for property that was destroyed, expropriated, stolen, or damaged.

For a gift or a deemed disposition, the proceeds of disposition are usually the fair market value of the property when its owner or use changes.

Section 54

Column 4 – Adjusted cost base

In this column, indicate the cost of the property you used to calculate any capital gain or loss. This amount is called the adjusted cost base (ACB). The ACB is the original cost of the property that has been adjusted to reflect certain transactions or occurrences that took place after acquiring the property.

The cost of a capital property may be the actual cost, a deemed cost, or the valuation-day value of the property. The nature of the property and the circumstances under which you acquired it determine which cost of the capital property you should use.

Subsections 53(1) and 53(2)

IT-418, Capital Cost Allowance – Partial Dispositions of Property

The cost of property acquired after 1971 is usually the actual cost of acquiring it, including the purchase price plus any related costs, such as commissions, legal fees, and other reasonable expenses. It also includes the cost of additions and improvements to the property. It does not include current expenses, such as maintenance and repair costs.

Reference

IT-128, Capital Cost Allowance – Depreciable Property

Special rules apply when determining the cost of capital property owned on December 31, 1971. According to these rules, tax is not assessed and losses are not allowed for any gain or loss that arose before that date.

When deductions from the cost base of a property (other than a partnership interest) reduce the balance to a negative amount at any time in the tax year, you are considered to have realized a capital gain equal to the amount of the negative balance, and the ACB becomes nil.

You cannot use later additions to the ACB to reduce previous gains on the property that resulted from a negative balance. You can only consider these additions when you determine future gains or losses.

Reference

Subsection 40(3)

Paragraphs 53(1)(e) and 53(2)(c) outline the rules for determining the ACB of a partnership interest.

You have to reduce the ACB of a partnership interest by the amount of any share purchase tax credit, and one-half of any scientific research and experimental development tax credit the partnership allocated to the corporation.

Note

Interests in a partnership that a limited partner or an inactive partner holds are subject to the negative ACB rule.

Column 5 – Outlays and expenses

In this column, enter the amount of outlays and expenses you deducted when calculating a gain or loss. You can deduct most cash outlays the corporation used to put a property into saleable condition when you calculate a gain or loss. You can also deduct expenses incurred when disposing of the property. These expenses include certain fixing-up costs, finder's fees, commissions, surveyor's fees, transfer taxes, and other reasonable expenses incurred to dispose of the property.

Column 6 – Gain (or loss)

In column 6, enter the amount of the gain or loss.

A capital gain results when the proceeds of disposition of a capital property are more than the ACB and any related outlays or expenses. A capital loss occurs when the proceeds of disposition are less than the ACB and the related outlays and expenses. However, if depreciable property is disposed of, it will result in a terminal loss, not a capital loss. See "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost" on page 40 for more details about terminal losses.

In certain cases, when you dispose of a building and the land on which it stands, and the building is disposed of for less than its undepreciated capital cost, you may have to reduce the gain on the sale of the land by the terminal loss on the sale of the building.

Part 1 – Shares

In this part, list the shares disposed of during the tax year. Give the number of shares, the name of the corporation in which the shares were held, and the class of the shares.

Usually, disposing of a share of the capital stock of a corporation will result in a taxable capital gain or an allowable capital loss. However, if the corporation that is disposing of the share is in the business of trading shares, the resulting gain or loss is considered business income or loss.

If a share is converted because of a merger or an amalgamation, subsection 248(1) deems a disposition to have occurred.

Under paragraph 112(3)(b) and subsection 112(5.2), a corporation (the shareholder) must reduce the losses from the disposition of shares held as capital property by certain dividends received for those shares. This is called a stop-loss rule. Generally, this rule does not apply when the shareholder owns less than 5% of the shares and has held these shares for over a year.

For dispositions of shares occurring after March 21, 2011, the stop-loss rule is extended to include a dividend deemed by subsection 84(3) to have been received upon the redemption, acquisition, or cancellation of those shares by a corporation that are held by the shareholder, regardless of the shareholder's percentage of share ownership and the time that the relevant share was held by the shareholder, if the dividend is received directly or indirectly by the shareholder or through a partnership or trust.

This measure will not apply to subsection 84(3) deemed dividends paid (directly or indirectly, through a partnership or a trust) by a private corporation to a shareholder that is, at the time the dividend is received, a private corporation that is not a financial institution, and does not hold the share through a partnership or trust that is a financial institution.

On line 160, enter the total adjustment for such losses identified in Part 1.

IT-328, Losses on Shares on Which Dividends Have Been Received

Part 2 – Real estate

In this part, list all real estate disposed of during the tax year. Give the municipal address of each property.

Dispositions of non-depreciable real property (unless the property is inventory) may result in a capital gain or loss. However, dispositions of depreciable property may result in a capital gain, a recapture of CCA, or a terminal loss. See "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost" on page 40 for details about terminal losses and recaptures.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of real estate on line B.

Part 3 – Bonds

In this part, list all bonds disposed of during the tax year. Give the face value, the maturity date, and the issuer's name for each type of bond.

When you make a capital disposition of a debt obligation, the amount of any realized discount or bonus received is usually considered a capital gain. Similarly, a premium paid is considered a capital loss, either when the obligation matures or on the date you dispose of the obligation.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of bonds on line C.

Part 4 – Other properties

In this part, describe any capital property disposed of during the tax year that you have not already reported in Parts 1, 2, and 3.

Other property includes capital debts established as bad debts, as well as amounts that arise from foreign currency transactions.

When an amount receivable on a capital account becomes a bad debt and you elect on your return to have the provisions of subsection 50(1) applied, a deemed disposition occurs at the end of the year. You are considered to have reacquired the debt immediately afterwards at a cost of nil. This usually allows the corporation to claim a bad debt as a capital loss in the year. Any later recovery of that debt will result in a capital gain.

Foreign exchange gains or losses from buying or selling capital properties are capital gains or capital losses.

Transactions in foreign currency or foreign currency futures that do not form part of the business operations can be considered capital dispositions.

For dispositions of depreciable property, a capital gain results if the proceeds are more than the capital cost. However, losses on depreciable property do not result in capital losses. These losses are terminal losses. See "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost" on page 40 to find out more about terminal losses.

You have to report dispositions of goodwill and other intangible properties on Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction. See page 45 for more details.

Enter the total amount of gain or loss realized on disposition of other properties on line D.

Part 5 – Personal-use property

In this part, describe any personal-use property you disposed of during the tax year.

Personal-use property of a corporation is property owned mainly for the personal use or enjoyment of an individual who is related to the corporation.

Use the $1,000 rule to determine gains and losses when you dispose of personal-use property. According to this rule, if the ACB is less than $1,000, it is considered to be $1,000. As well, when the proceeds of disposition are less than $1,000, they are considered to be $1,000.

The $1,000 rule will not apply when donors acquire personal-use property as part of an arrangement in which the property is gifted to a qualified donee, such as a registered charity.

You cannot deduct losses on dispositions of personal-use property (other than listed personal property) from your income.

Enter the total amount of gain realized on disposition of personal-use property on line E.

Reference

Subsection 46(1)

Part 6 – Listed personal property

In this part, describe any listed personal property disposed of during the tax year.

Listed personal property is a special category of personal-use property that usually increases in value. The following is a complete list of the different types of listed personal property:

- prints, etchings, drawings, paintings, sculptures, or other similar works of art;
- jewellery;

- rare folios, rare manuscripts, or rare books;
- stamps; and
- coins.

If you incur losses from disposing of listed personal property, you can only deduct these losses from capital gains realized from disposing of listed personal property.

On line 655, enter the amount of listed personal property losses from previous years you want to apply against current-year net listed personal property gains. Also, enter this amount on line 530 of Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application.

You can apply any unabsorbed losses in the current year to reduce similar net gains realized in the three preceding years, and in the following seven years. See “Part 5 – Listed personal property losses” on page 49 for more details.

On line F, enter the total amount of gains or losses realized on disposition of listed personal property minus the amount of line 655.

Part 7 – Property qualifying for and resulting in an allowable business investment loss

Generally, a business investment loss arises from the arm’s length disposition (or deemed disposition) of:

- shares of a small business corporation; or
- certain debts owed to the corporation by a small business corporation, certain bankrupt corporations, or certain wound-up corporations (these corporations have to deal with the corporation at arm’s length).

A small business corporation is defined in subsection 248(1).

Complete Part 7 to claim an allowable business investment loss (ABIL).

Enter the total amount of business investment loss on line G.

On line H, enter the ABIL (amount G multiplied by 1/2). Enter this amount on line 406 of Schedule 1.

Capital gains reserve

Often, you will not receive part of the proceeds of disposition, usually for real property, until after the end of the year. In these cases, you can defer part of the capital gain to the year the corporation is due to receive the proceeds by setting up a capital gains reserve. By using reserves, you can spread a capital gain over a maximum of five years.

Generally, a corporation that has made a gift of a non-qualifying security to a qualified donee may claim a reserve for any gain realized on this security. The reserve claimed by the corporation cannot exceed the eligible amount of the gift. This eligible amount is the amount by which the fair market value of the property that is the subject of the gift exceeds the amount of the advantage, if any, in respect of the gift.

A reserve can only be claimed if the donation is not deducted for tax purposes and the donee does not dispose of the security or the security does not cease to be a non-qualifying security. This reserve can only be claimed in tax years ending within 60 months of making the gift.

The reserve must be included in income if the corporation becomes a non-resident or tax exempt.

The reserve that you can claim in a tax year cannot be more than the lesser of the following two amounts:

A. $\frac{\text{Capital gain}}{\text{Proceeds of disposition}} \times \text{Amount not due until after the end of the year}$ and

- B. ■ for the year of disposition 4/5 of the capital gain
 ■ for the second year 3/5 of the capital gain
 ■ for the third year 2/5 of the capital gain
 ■ for the fourth year 1/5 of the capital gain

Add the reserve amount you deducted in a tax year to income in the following tax year.

Add the reserve opening balance and subtract the reserve closing balance on lines 880 and 885 of Schedule 6.

Show the continuity of capital gain reserves on Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves. See page 45 for details.

Part 8 – Determining capital gains or capital losses

When completing this part, line 875 is the capital gains dividends. Capital gains dividends under paragraphs 130.1(4)(a) and (b) and 131(1)(a) and (b) are considered to be capital gains. These paragraphs apply to mortgage investment corporations and mutual fund corporations. If you received any capital gains dividends in the tax year, enter them on this line.

Line 880 is the balance at the beginning of the year of the capital gains reserve from Schedule 13. This amount should include any amount from the last tax year of predecessor corporations after amalgamation or wind-up.

Part 9 – Determining taxable capital gains and total capital losses

When completing this part, line P is the full amount of capital gains realized after May 1, 2006, on donations of a security listed on a designated stock exchange, a share or unit of a mutual fund, an interest in a segregated fund, or a prescribed debt obligation made to a qualified donee (other than a private foundation, if the gift is made before March 19, 2007).

Line T is the capital gain or loss for the year. If the amount is a loss, enter it on line 210 of Schedule 4. If the amount is a gain, multiply it by 1/2 and enter it on line U of Schedule 6 and line 113 of Schedule 1.

For gifts made after February 25, 2008, the zero inclusion rate applies to gains from unlisted exchangeable shares, if the new publicly-traded shares received in exchange are donated within 30 days.

The zero inclusion rate is restricted to only part of the capital gain if the taxpayer is entitled to an advantage or benefit in respect of a gift.

Paragraphs 38(a.1) and 38(a.2)

You can deduct an ABIL from all sources of income for the year. If any balance remains after the year the loss occurs, it becomes part of the non-capital loss. You can carry the non-capital loss back 3 tax years and carry it forward 7 tax years. For an ABIL incurred in tax years ending after March 22, 2004, the carry-forward period is for the 10 following tax years.

If you are unable to deduct an ABIL as a non-capital loss within this allowed time frame, the unused part becomes a net capital loss, and you can carry it forward indefinitely to reduce taxable capital gains.

Include all unused ABIL after the applicable carry-forward period in Part 2, "Capital losses," of Schedule 4. See page 48, for more details.

Schedule 8, Capital Cost Allowance (CCA)

Paragraph 20(1)(a) allows a corporation to deduct part of the capital cost of certain depreciable property from income it earned in the year from a business or property. This deduction is called capital cost allowance (CCA).

Complete Schedule 8 to calculate CCA.

When a tax year is shorter than 12 months, you generally have to prorate the CCA.

Under Part XI of the Income Tax Regulations, depreciable property is grouped into prescribed classes. Schedule II of the regulations contains a complete list of these prescribed classes.

A maximum rate is prescribed for each class. Apply the prescribed rate to the undepreciated capital cost of the class at year-end to determine the maximum CCA you can claim. You can deduct any amount up to the maximum that is available for the year.

Note

On Schedule 8, do not include capital expenditures (other than first- or second-term shared-use equipment) which you are claiming as SR&ED capital expenditures.

Disability-related modifications

You can deduct outlays and expenses you incur for eligible disability-related modifications made to a building in the year you paid them, instead of having to add them to the capital cost of your building. Eligible disability-related modifications include changes you make to accommodate wheelchairs. You can also deduct expenses paid to install or get disability-related devices and equipment.

You can claim this as "Other deductions" on Schedule 1, Net Income (Loss) for Income Tax Purposes.

Available-for-use rule

The available-for-use rule determines the earliest tax year in which you can claim CCA for depreciable property.

When is property available for use?

Property other than a building is considered available for use at the earliest of several dates. The following are some examples of these dates:

- when the corporation first uses the property to earn income;
- the beginning of the first tax year that starts at least 358 days after the tax year during which the corporation acquired the property;
- immediately before the corporation disposes of the property; or
- when the corporation can use the property to either produce a saleable product or perform a saleable service.

A building is considered available for use on the earliest of the following dates:

- when the corporation uses all or substantially all of the building for its intended purpose;
- when construction of the building is completed;
- the beginning of the first tax year that starts at least 358 days after the tax year during which the corporation acquired the property;
- immediately before the corporation disposes of the property; or
- when the corporation acquires a replacement property, if it is replacing one it involuntarily disposed of (for example, expropriation) that it either acquired before 1990 or had already become available for use.

Note

If a corporation acquires a property for a long-term project, it can elect to limit the impact of the available-for-use rule. This election is not available for rental buildings. To make this election, send us a completed Form T1031, Subsection 13(29) Election in Respect of Certain Depreciable Properties, Acquired for use in a Long Term Project, with your return.

Subsections 13(26) to 13(32)

Election under Regulation 1101(5q)

Line 101 – Is the corporation electing under Regulation 1101(5q)?

To answer this question, tick the yes or no box.

This election allows you to include certain property usually included in classes 8 and 43 in a separate class. You have to have acquired each property at a capital cost of at least $1,000. The types of properties that qualify for this election include manufacturing and processing property, photocopiers, and electronic communications equipment, such as facsimile transmission devices or telephone equipment.

You can elect to classify a property in a separate class or several properties in one or more than one separate class.

This election can allow you to claim a terminal loss, which is any remaining undepreciated capital cost at the time of disposition of the properties in this class. For more information on terminal losses, see "Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost."

CCA rates and classes

Accelerated CCA for clean energy generation

Class 43.1 and Class 43.2 provide accelerated CCA at a rate of 30% and 50% respectively, on a declining balance basis, for specified clean energy generation and conservation equipment. Some class inclusion requirements are modified for eligible assets acquired after March 28, 2012, that have not been used or acquired for use before March 29, 2012.

Waste-fuelled thermal energy equipment

Previously, to be eligible for inclusion in Class 43.2, the heat energy generated by waste-fuelled thermal energy equipment had to be used in an industrial process or a greenhouse. This requirement is now removed.

Equipment of a district energy system

Certain equipment that is part of a district energy system is included in Class 43.1 or Class 43.2 if the system distributes thermal energy that is primarily generated by one or more of an eligible cogeneration system, a ground source heat pump, active solar heating equipment, and heat recovery equipment.

In addition to the four listed above, equipment that is part of a district energy system used by the corporation, or by a lessee of the corporation, to distribute thermal energy primarily generated by waste-fuelled thermal energy generation equipment is now included in Class 43.2, provided that the energy-generation equipment itself is eligible for the class.

Energy generation from plant residue

Currently, subject to certain requirements, equipment that uses plant residue (such as straw, corn cobs, or leaves) to produce biogas or bio-oil is eligible for inclusion in Class 43.2.

Now, plant residue is added to the list of eligible waste fuels that can be used in waste-fuelled thermal energy equipment included in Class 43.2 or a cogeneration system included in Class 43.1 or 43.2.

Environmental compliance

To be eligible for Class 43.1 or Class 43.2, equipment that collects, produces or uses eligible waste fuels must comply with applicable environmental laws, by-laws, and regulations of Canada, a province, a territory, a municipality, or a municipal or public body performing a function of government in Canada. This requirement applies to an asset when it becomes available for use and is acquired after March 28, 2012.

Completing Schedule 8

This section explains how to complete each column of Schedule 8. Use a separate line for each class of property.

Column 1 – Class number

Identify each class of property with the assigned class number.

Generally, you have to group all depreciable property of the same class together. Then, calculate CCA on the undepreciated capital cost of all the property in that class.

However, sometimes you have to maintain a separate record for each property in the same class. For example, list on separate lines property that you would usually group in the same class but use to earn income from different sources. Also, list on a separate line each Class 10.1 passenger vehicle and property you elected to identify in a separate class under Regulation 1101(5q).

Note

If a class number has not been provided in Schedule II of the Income Tax Regulations for a particular class of property, use the subsection provided in Regulation 1101.

Reference

Regulation 1101

Column 2 – Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year

Enter the amount of the undepreciated capital cost at the end of the previous tax year. This is the amount from column 13 of your last tax year's Schedule 8.

Column 3 – Cost of acquisitions during the year

For each class, enter the total cost of depreciable property you acquired in the tax year. Depreciable property is considered acquired when it becomes available for use. See page 38 for more information on the available-for-use rule.

The cost of acquisitions generally means the full cost of acquiring the property, including legal, accounting, engineering, and other fees. Land is not a depreciable property, and is therefore not eligible for CCA.

List any acquisitions that are not subject to the 50% rule, separately. See Regulations 1100(2) and (2.2) for more information about these types of acquisitions.

Do not enter section 85 transfers in this column.

References

Regulations 1100(2) and (2.2)

Column 4 – Net adjustments

In some cases, you will have to adjust the capital cost of a property. In column 4, enter the amounts that will either reduce or increase the capital cost.

Reduce the capital cost of a property by the following amounts:

- goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) input tax credit claimed or entitled to be claimed, or rebate received or entitled to be received in the year;
- federal investment tax credits (ITCs), other than SR&ED ITCs, used to reduce taxes payable or claimed as a refund in the previous tax year;
- reduction of capital cost after the application of section 80;
- provincial or territorial ITCs received or entitled to be received in the current year; and
- government assistance received or entitled to be received in the year.

Add to the capital cost of the property:

- depreciable property transferred upon amalgamation or upon the wind-up of a subsidiary;
- repayment of GST/HST input tax credit previously claimed;
- depreciable property transferred under section 85; and

- government assistance repaid in the year that previously reduced the capital cost.

Show the amounts that reduce the capital cost in brackets. Do not include them as income.

Note

A corporation that receives an amount of non-government assistance to buy depreciable property has the option of either reducing the capital cost of the property by this amount, or including it in its income.

Paragraph 12(1)(x)

IT-285, Capital Cost Allowance – General Comments

Column 5 – Proceeds of dispositions during the year

For each class, you usually enter the total proceeds of disposition received or are entitled to be received for property disposed of during the year. However, if you disposed of the property for more than its capital cost, enter the capital cost, not the actual proceeds of disposition.

A capital gain results when you dispose of a depreciable property for more than its capital cost. However, losses on depreciable property do not result in capital losses. They may result in terminal losses. See column 6 for more details about terminal losses.

Column 6 – Undepreciated capital cost

To calculate the amount you have to enter in column 6:

- add the amounts in columns 2 and 3;
- either subtract or add the amount in column 4 (subtract if it is a negative amount, or add if it is a positive amount); and
- subtract the amount in column 5.

You cannot claim CCA when the amount in column 6 is:

- positive, and no property is left in that class at the end of the tax year (a terminal loss); or
- negative (a recapture of CCA).

Terminal loss

A terminal loss results when you dispose of all the property in a particular class and there is an amount of undepreciated capital cost left in column 6. You have to deduct the terminal loss from income. For details, see example 1 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

Recapture of CCA

If the amount in column 6 is negative, you have a recapture of CCA. A recapture of CCA occurs when the proceeds of disposition in column 5 are more than the total of columns 2 and 3, plus or minus the amount in column 4 of that class.

You have to add the recapture to income. For details, see example 2 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

The recapture and terminal loss rules do not apply to passenger vehicles in Class 10.1.

Enter the recapture or terminal loss from column 6 in column 10 or 11. In this case, do not complete the rest of the columns for that line.

Column 7 – 50% rule

Generally, property acquired during the tax year is only eligible for 50% of the normal maximum CCA for the year. You can claim full CCA for that property in the next tax year.

To apply the 50% rule, the undepreciated capital cost of the property has to be adjusted. This adjustment is equal to one-half of the net amount of additions to the class (the net cost of acquisitions minus the proceeds of dispositions). Enter this amount in column 7. For details, see example 3 under the heading “Schedule 8 examples” that follows.

When applying the 50% rule, the net amount of additions must take into account some adjustments in column 4 (plus or minus). However, do not reduce the net amount of additions by the ITC claimed in the previous tax year and included in column 4.

Certain properties acquired through non-arm’s-length transfers or butterfly transfers (which occur in the course of certain reorganizations) are exempt from the 50% rule.

Column 8 – Reduced undepreciated capital cost

In this column, enter the amount you get when you subtract the amount in column 7 from the amount in column 6.

Column 9 – CCA rate

Enter the prescribed rate that applies, as provided for under Part XI of the Regulations. If a specific rate has not been provided for a particular class of property, enter N/A in this column.

Enter a rate only if you are using the declining balance method. In this method, the CCA is calculated by multiplying a constant rate by the diminishing balance every year.

Note

Some asset classes use the straight-line method to calculate the CCA. In this method, the CCA is calculated by dividing the original amount by the number of years that corresponds to the life expectancy of the property. Therefore, the deducted amount remains the same from one year to the other (except the first and last year, if the half-year rule applies) and you do not have to enter a rate.

Example

Declining balance method – The capital cost of an asset is $780,000. The rate for the class is 10% with a half-year rule.

First year:

$$10\% \times $780,000 = $78,000$$

$$$78,000 \div 2 = $39,000 \text{ CCA (half-year rule)}$$

Second year:

$$$780,000 - $39,000 = $741,000 \text{ (undepreciated capital cost)}$$

$$$741,000 \times 10\% = $74,100 \text{ CCA}$$

Third year:

$$$741,000 - $74,100 = $666,900 \text{ (undepreciated capital cost)}$$

$$$666,900 \times 10\% = $66,690 \text{ CCA}$$

And so on for the following years.

Straight-line method – The capital cost of an asset is $780,000, its life expectancy is 10 years and the half-year rule does not apply. Therefore, the capital cost allowance will be $78,000 per year ($$780,000 \div 10$).

Column 10 – Recapture of capital cost allowance

Enter the amount of recapture from column 6, if applicable. Be sure you include the recapture as income. Enter the total of amounts in column 10 on line 107 of Schedule 1.

Column 11 – Terminal loss

Enter the terminal loss from column 6, if applicable. Deduct the terminal loss from income. Enter the total of amounts in column 11 on line 404 of Schedule 1.

Column 12 – Capital cost allowance

To claim the maximum CCA for each class, multiply the amount in column 8 by the rate in column 9, and enter the result in column 12. You do not have to claim the maximum allowable CCA. You can claim any amount up to the maximum.

If the tax year is less than 365 days, prorate the CCA claim for all property except for those classes of property that Regulation 1100(3) excludes. The exceptions in Regulation 1100(3) include:

- Class 14 assets;
- Class 15 assets;
- timber limits and cutting rights;
- industrial mineral mines;
- certified productions;
- Canadian film or video productions; and
- certain mining equipment in classes 28 and 41.

To determine the maximum CCA claim, multiply the maximum CCA for a complete year by the number of days in the tax year divided by 365.

The total of all amounts in column 12 is the CCA claim for the tax year. Deduct this amount on line 403 of Schedule 1.

Notes

If you want to change the amount of CCA claimed in a tax year, send a written request within 90 days of the date on the notice of assessment or notice of reassessment. Only under certain circumstances can we make adjustments after the 90-day period has expired.

For more information, see Information Circular IC84-1, Revision of Capital Cost Allowance Claims and Other Permissive Deductions.

Column 13 – Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year

Subtract the amount in column 12 from the amount in column 6 and enter the difference.

When there is a recapture of CCA or a terminal loss for a particular class in the year, the undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year is always nil.

Schedule 8 examples

Example 1

An import-export business decided to sell its warehouse, because it is better to lease instead. The business received $30,000 for the warehouse. At the end of the 2012 tax year, the business had no more assets in Class 3.

The business's Schedule 8 for its 2012 tax year looks like this:

1 Class number	2 Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year from column 13 of last year's CCA schedule)	3 Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	4 Net adjustments (show negative amounts in brackets)	5 Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	6 Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	7 50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	8 Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	9 CCA rate %	10 Recapture of capital cost allowance	11 Terminal loss	12 Capital cost allowance (column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	13 Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)
200	201	203	205	207		211		212	213	215	217	220
1.	3	$35,000		$30,000	$5,000		$5,000	n/a		$5,000

The amount in column 11 is a terminal loss.

The import-export business deducts the $5,000 terminal loss from its income (line 404 of Schedule 1).

Example 2

A clothing company bought a sewing machine in 2010 for $10,000. Now, because of the overwhelming success the company has had in the retail end of the business, it has decided to concentrate solely on retailing. As a result, the company sold its sewing machine in 2012 for $12,000. At the beginning of 2012, the undepreciated capital cost of the sewing machine was $7,200.

The company's Schedule 8 for its 2012 tax year looks like this:

1 Class number	2 Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year from column 13 of last year's CCA schedule)	3 Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	4 Net adjustments (show negative amounts in brackets)	5 Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	6 Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	7 50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	8 Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	9 CCA rate %	10 Recapture of capital cost allowance	11 Terminal loss	12 Capital cost allowance (column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	13 Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)
200	201	203	205	207		211		212	213	215	217	220
1.	8	$7,200		$10,000	($2,800)		($2,800)	n/a	$2,800

The amount in column 10 is the recapture of CCA.

The clothing company includes the $2,800 recapture in its income (line 107 of Schedule 1). The capital gain is $12,000 minus $10,000, which equals $2,000.

Example 3

In the 2012 tax year, a bookstore bought a photocopier to help keep up with the paperwork, and started using it right away. The copier cost $5,000. The bookstore has to apply the 50% rule when it calculates the amount of CCA it can deduct for 2012.

The bookstore's Schedule 8 for its 2012 tax year looks like this:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Class number	Undepreciated capital cost at the beginning of the year (undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year from column 13 of last year's CCA schedule)	Cost of acquisitions during the year (new property must be available for use)	Net adjustments (show negative amounts in brackets)	Proceeds of dispositions during the year (amount not to exceed the capital cost)	Undepreciated capital cost (column 2 plus column 3 plus or minus column 4 minus column 5)	50% rule (1/2 of the amount, if any, by which the net cost of acquisitions exceeds column 5)	Reduced undepreciated capital cost (column 6 minus column 7)	CCA rate %	Recapture of capital cost allowance	Terminal loss	Capital cost allowance (column 8 multiplied by column 9; or a lower amount)	Undepreciated capital cost at the end of the year (column 6 minus column 12)

Schedule 10, Cumulative Eligible Capital Deduction

Complete Schedule 10 to calculate the cumulative eligible capital deduction.

Some business-related expenditures are capital in nature. Corporations incur these expenditures, called eligible capital expenditures, to buy intangible capital property, known as eligible capital property. Some examples of eligible capital property are:

- goodwill;
- trademarks;
- franchises, concessions, or licences for an unlimited period; and
- patents, and licences to use patents for an unlimited period, that you elect not to include in Class 44. For more information on Class 44, see the CCA rates and classes chart on page 42.

Expenses you incur for incorporation, reorganization, or amalgamation also qualify as eligible capital expenditures.

Eligible capital expenditures are not deductible in full, and they are not eligible for CCA. However, they may qualify for a partial deduction called a cumulative eligible capital deduction.

The cumulative eligible capital (CEC) account is the account you set up to keep track of your eligible capital expenditures. Calculate your CEC account balance on Schedule 10. Each year, you can deduct up to 7% of the balance.

Complete Part 1 of Schedule 10 and claim the amount at line 250 on line 405 of Schedule 1.

Show any amount at line 222, "Cost of eligible capital property acquired during the tax year," excluding any adjustments, such as government assistance, repayment of government assistance, and section 85 transfers. Enter adjustments at line 226 if they increase the eligible capital cost or at line 246 if they reduce it.

When completing Part 1 of Schedule 10, if you have a negative balance on your CEC account, you have to complete Part 2.

On line 108 of Schedule 1, enter the amount you calculated at line 410. You must prorate the deduction for a short tax year.

Schedule 12, Resource-Related Deductions

You have to complete the appropriate part(s) of Schedule 12 if you are claiming any of the following deductions on Schedule 1:

- Canadian development expenses;
- Canadian exploration expenses;
- Canadian oil and gas property expenses;

- depletion;
- foreign exploration and development expenses;
- specified foreign exploration and development expenses; or
- foreign resource expenses.

Schedule 12 gives details for the calculations required.

Schedule 13, Continuity of Reserves

You have to complete Schedule 13 to show the continuity of deductible reserves. Indicate, on the appropriate lines, the prior-year and the current-year reserves as well as the reserve transferred from an amalgamation or wind-up. If your corporation or the predecessor corporation deducted a reserve amount last year, add that amount to current-year income and establish a new reserve amount.

Complete Schedule 13 as follows:

Part 1 – Capital gains reserves

Establish the continuity of reserves for each different property. Unlike other reserves, you have to report the total capital gain reserves that you and the predecessor corporation deducted last year. Add the current-year reserve on Schedule 6 to calculate the current-year capital gain. See page 34 for more details.

Part 2 – Other reserves

In this part, establish the continuity of the following reserves:

- reserve for doubtful debts;
- reserve for undelivered goods and services not rendered;
- reserve for prepaid rent;
- reserve for returnable containers;
- reserve for unpaid amounts; and
- other tax reserves (except transitional reserve calculated under section 34.2 on Schedule 73, Income Inclusion Summary for Corporations that Are Members of Partnerships).

Enter, on line 125 of Schedule 1, the total of the balance of your reserve at the beginning of the year (line 270 of Schedule 13) plus the amount of reserve transferred on wind-up/amalgamation (line 275 of Schedule 13).

Enter, on line 413 of Schedule 1, the balance at the end of the year (line 280 of Schedule 13).

Note

The balance at the beginning of the year of reserves from financial statements and the balance at the end of the year of reserves from financial statements should not be entered on Schedule 13. Enter these amounts on line 414 and line 126 of Schedule 1 respectively.

Schedule 16, Patronage Dividend Deduction

Complete Schedule 16 if you are claiming a patronage dividend deduction. This deduction is for payments made to customers for allocations in proportion to patronage. An allocation in proportion to patronage entitles a customer to receive payment calculated at a rate relating to the quantity, quality, or value of either goods or products sold or services rendered.

Corporations have to pay amounts that qualify for this deduction either during the tax year, or in the 12 months that follow the tax year.

An agricultural cooperative corporation for a particular tax year can deduct patronage dividends issued in the form of tax deferred cooperative shares, but deductions cannot be more than 85% of its income for that year that is attributable to business done with its members.

Corporations other than credit unions and cooperative corporations cannot deduct patronage dividends paid to non-arm's length persons.

Parts 1, 2, and 3 of Schedule 16 give details on how to calculate the allowable patronage dividend deduction. Enter this deduction on line 416 of Schedule 1.

If you are claiming a patronage dividend deduction, you also have to complete Part 5 of Schedule 16 entitled "Calculation of income from an active business carried on in Canada (ABI)." Enter the amount from line 124 at line 400 of the return.

File one completed copy of this schedule with your return.

Note

Eligible members of agricultural cooperative corporations can defer including in income patronage dividends in the form of shares issued after 2005 and before 2016 to the year of their disposal. However, a member may elect to have an amount included in income before the disposition of the shares. To make this election, the member must send a letter specifying the amount to be included in income with their return for the particular tax year.

Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions

As a credit union, you may be claiming allocations for bonus interest payments and allocations in proportion to borrowing. If so, provide us with the appropriate information by completing Schedule 17.

Use this schedule to calculate the "additional deduction – credit unions" to reduce Part I tax. For details on this additional deduction, see "Line 628 – Additional deductions – credit unions" on page 65.

A credit union can deduct from its income for a tax year both the total of all bonus interest payments and the payments it made to its members for allocations in proportion to borrowing. It can also deduct payments made in the 12 months after the end of the tax year. However, the credit union cannot deduct an amount if it could have deducted it in the previous tax year.

The allocation in proportion to borrowing for a tax year means an amount a credit union credits to a member that is entitled to, or will receive, this amount.

On Schedule 17, you have to calculate the payment made in proportion to borrowing at a rate that is related to:

- the amount of interest payable by the member on money the member borrowed from the credit union; or
- the amount of money the member borrowed from the credit union.

You have to calculate the bonus interest payment at a rate that is related to:

- the interest payable by the credit union on money standing to the member's credit; or
- the amount of money standing to the member's credit.

The amount the credit union credited to the member has to bear the same rate as the interest or money that the credit union similarly credited to all other members of the credit union of the same class.

Complete the appropriate parts of Schedule 17 to calculate this deduction. Add lines 305 and 315 of Schedule 17 and enter the result on line 315 of Schedule 1.

Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim

We publish Guide T4088, Guide to Form T661 Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim, which gives details on how to complete Form T661. For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/sred.

File a current version of Form T661 if you carry on business in Canada and have incurred expenditures for scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) you carried on in Canada and for some salary or wage expenditures for SR&ED carried on outside Canada.

To avoid delays in processing, use the most recent version of Form T661.

Current and capital SR&ED expenditures form a special pool that you can deduct in the current year. You can also carry forward to any future year the expenditures in that pool as long as you have not deducted them before.

If the SR&ED expenditures have been included in your income statement, enter the amount on line 118 of Schedule 1. Enter the SR&ED expenditures claimed in the year on line 411 of Schedule 1.

Form T661 summarizes the costs for all SR&ED projects. You have to complete the form and place it on top of the return for the tax year you incur SR&ED expenditures. File Form T661 whether or not you claim an ITC. If you do not file Form T661 and Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, on or before the day that is 12 months after your filing due date for the tax year in which the SR&ED expenditures were made, you cannot claim SR&ED expenditures and an ITC for that year. For more information, see “Line 652 – Investment tax credit” on page 67.

When a corporation is a member of a partnership that incurs SR&ED expenditures, the partnership has to file Form T661 along with the T5013 FIN, Partnership Financial Return and T5013 SUM, Information Slips Summary. Each partner has to file an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income, showing its share of the expenditures.

Losses

Current-year losses

A corporation may not always have net income to report. Instead, it may have incurred a loss for the year. The different types of losses a corporation can incur are:

- non-capital loss;
- farm loss;
- restricted farm loss; and
- limited partnership loss.

The application and continuity of these losses are calculated on Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application. Information on how to complete Schedule 4 follows this section.

A corporation may also incur a capital loss. These types of losses are determined on Schedule 6, Summary of Dispositions of Capital Property. For information on how to complete this schedule, see page 34.

Applying losses

A corporation can apply unused losses and deduct them from income it earned in the current tax year or in prior tax years.

Note

You can choose whether or not to deduct an available loss from income in a tax year. You can deduct losses in any order. However, for each type of loss, make sure to deduct the oldest available loss first.

You can view non-capital loss balances using the “View return balances” service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

Losses carryback

You can use losses in any order, but consider the following:

- a current-year non-capital loss or farm loss can reduce any kind of income or taxable dividends subject to Part IV tax for the three previous years;
- a net capital loss can reduce taxable capital gains included in your income for the three previous years;
- a restricted farm loss can reduce farming income for the three previous years; and
- a listed personal property loss can reduce capital gains incurred on listed personal property for the three previous years.

Except for net capital losses, you cannot use other year losses to create or increase a non-capital loss for the tax year.

Use Schedule 4 to request the carryback of any losses to prior years. If you do not attach your request to the return, you can send it separately to your tax centre.

Calculating losses when there is an acquisition of control

Following an acquisition of control, special rules apply for calculating and deducting net capital losses, non-capital losses, and farm losses. You will find more information about these rules on Schedule 4 and at lines 063 and 065 on page 21. Also, see the following references for details.

How to complete Schedule 4, Corporation Loss Continuity and Application

Part 1 – Non-capital losses

Determination of current year non-capital loss

To determine the current-year non-capital loss, you have to complete Part 1 as follows:

Net income (loss) for income tax purposes – income from all sources minus losses from business and property, plus or minus the adjustments on Schedule 1;

deduct

net capital losses deducted in the year – net capital losses from previous years used to reduce taxable capital gains included in income; taxable dividends deductible – taxable dividends received, deductible under section 112 or 113 or subsection 138(6) (for details, see line 320 on page 53); amount of Part VI.1 tax deductible – unused Part VI.1 tax deductible in the taxable income calculation; and amount deductible as prospector’s and grubstaker’s shares – paragraph 110(1)(d.2) – the amount deductible is the value of any shares received from a corporation on disposition of a right or a mining property, except if the amount is exempt from tax in Canada by virtue of one of Canada’s tax treaties, multiplied by 1/2.

Subtotal – if the result is positive, enter “0”;

section 110.5 or subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) – addition for foreign tax deductions – any amounts added to the taxable income to use foreign tax deductions you could not otherwise deduct from Part I tax. For details, see line 355 on page 55;

add

current-year farm loss – whichever is less: the net loss from farming or fishing included in the income, or the non-capital loss before deducting the farm loss.

Calculating current-year farm loss

The current-year farm loss is whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the loss from farming or fishing that is more than the farming or fishing income for the year; or
- the amount of the current-year non-capital loss as calculated in Part 1 of Schedule 4 before you deduct the farm loss for the year.

Enter the farm loss calculated on line 310 of Schedule 4.

The farm loss can also include an amount allocated from a partnership.

If the result after the calculation shown under Part 1 is negative, enter this result (as positive) on line 110 of Schedule 4 as the current-year non-capital loss.

Note

You cannot use prior-year losses to create or increase a current-year non-capital loss, except with net capital losses of other years.

IT-302, Losses of a Corporation – The Effect That Acquisitions of Control, Amalgamations and Windings-Up Have on Their Deductibility – After January 15, 1987

Continuity of non-capital losses and request for a carryback

Use this area to establish the continuity of non-capital losses and to carry back a current-year non-capital loss to prior years.

The current-year non-capital loss can reduce any kind of income or taxable dividends subject to Part IV tax for the 3 previous tax years and for:

- the 20 following tax years if it arose in a tax year ending after 2005;
- the 10 following tax years if it arose in a tax year ending after March 22, 2004, and before 2006; and
- the 7 following tax years if it arose in a tax year ending before March 23, 2004.

The loss expires after the carry-forward period.

When completing this part, line 105 is the amount of non-capital losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused non-capital losses available to be carried forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, minus any expired amount.

Line 150 is an amount received under subsection 111(10) as a fuel tax rebate that reduced non-capital loss for a previous year, and any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

Line 140 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the non-capital losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

The result of this part is the closing balance of non-capital losses you carry forward to future years (line 180).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of non-capital losses by year of origin.

Part 2 – Capital losses

Continuity of capital losses and request for a carryback

The current-year capital loss is calculated on Schedule 6. See page 34 for more details. Complete this part to establish the continuity and the application of capital losses.

To establish the continuity, you have to enter the amount of capital losses and not the amount of net capital losses available. The inclusion rate will be used only when the loss is applied. You have to indicate the balance of any previous-year capital losses carried forward.

The net capital loss can reduce taxable capital gains included as income for the three previous tax years and indefinitely for future years.

When completing this part, line 205 is the amount of capital losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares of each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused capital losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, including any amount of the allowable business investment loss (ABIL) expired as non-capital loss for the predecessor corporation or the subsidiary, divided by the inclusion rate for the tax year in which the ABIL was incurred (see note below).

Line 250 is the amount of any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control. These adjustments would also apply to corporations whose losses that occurred after the acquisition of control are not deductible before the acquisition of control.

Line 240 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the capital losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

Line 220 is the lesser of the non-capital losses from a previous year that have expired in the year and the amount of the ABIL incurred in the same previous year that is included in the amount of non-capital losses expired in the year, divided by the 0.50 inclusion rate.

On the appropriate line (lines 951 to 953), enter the amount of capital loss you carry back to prior years.

The result of this part is the closing balance of available capital losses you carry forward to future years (line 280). The net capital loss amount will be calculated at the 50% inclusion rate.

Part 3 – Farm losses

Continuity of farm losses and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of farm losses and to carry back a current-year farm loss to prior years. Farm losses include losses from farming and fishing businesses.

A farm loss incurred in a tax year ending after 2005 will expire after 20 tax years following the year of loss. A farm loss incurred in a tax year ending before 2006 expires after 10 tax years following the year of loss.

When completing this part, line 305 is the amount of farm losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused farm losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up minus any expired amount.

Line 350 is any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

Line 340 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the farm losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

The result of this part is the closing balance of farm losses you carry forward to future years (line 380).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of farm losses by year of origin.

Part 4 – Restricted farm losses

Current-year restricted farm loss

If your chief source of income is neither farming nor a combination of farming and another source of income, the loss arising from the farming activity that you can deduct is restricted. An amount of farm loss allocated from a partnership may also be restricted.

Use this part to calculate the current-year restricted farm loss.

IT-232, Losses – Their Deductibility in the Loss Year or in Other Years

Continuity of restricted farm losses and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of restricted farm losses and to carry back a current-year restricted farm loss to prior years.

The current-year restricted farm loss can reduce farm income for the 3 previous tax years and for the 20 following tax years.

For restricted farm losses incurred in tax years ending before 2006, the carry-forward period is for the 10 following tax years.

The loss expires after the carry-forward period.

When completing this part, line 405 is the amount of restricted farm losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or a subsidiary after wind-up where not less than 90% of issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused restricted farm losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up minus any expired amount.

Line 440 is the amount of debt forgiveness under section 80 that reduces the restricted farm losses balance. Losses have to be reduced in the order established by section 80.

Line 450 is the amount of any other adjustments not previously mentioned. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

The result of this part is the closing balance of restricted farm losses you carry forward to future years (line 480).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of restricted farm losses by year of origin.

Part 5 – Listed personal property losses

Continuity of listed personal property loss and request for a carryback

Use this part to establish the continuity of listed personal property losses and to carry back a current-year listed personal property loss against net capital gains incurred on the same kind of property of the three previous years.

A listed personal property loss cannot be transferred.

When completing this part, line 530 is the amount of prior-year listed personal property losses applied in the current year to reduce the net capital gain incurred in the current year on the same kind of property (enter this amount on line 655 of Schedule 6); and Line 550 is the amount of adjustments. These adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose losses that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control.

The result of this part is the closing balance of listed personal property losses you carry forward to future years (line 580).

Complete Part 6 to establish the balance of listed personal property losses by year of origin.

Part 6 – Analysis of balance of losses by year of origin

Use this part to show by year of origin the balance of losses you can carry forward to future years. Enter each loss by year of origin, starting with the current year, going down to the 7th, 10th, or 20th previous year, whichever applies.

Part 7 – Limited partnership losses

Current-year limited partnership losses

Use this part to calculate the current-year limited partnership losses that are deductible for the year. The amount that cannot be deducted may be carried to other years.

The amount of limited partnership loss allocated to a corporation that is a limited partner and receives an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income, is the sum of the amounts in boxes 22 and 23 of the slip.

If the limited partner does not receive this slip because the partnership is exempt from filing (for example, if it has fewer than six members), you have to file the partnership's financial statements with the return to prove the corporation's share of the partnership loss for the year.

Report the amount in the tax year of the partnership's tax year-end.

The part of a partnership loss that a limited partner can deduct in determining net income for income tax purposes may be restricted.

When completing this part, in column 606, enter the corporation's at-risk amount at the fiscal period ending of the partnership (column 602). The amount entered in column 604 is from a business (other than a farming or fishing business) or from property.

In general terms, you have to calculate a limited partner's at-risk amount as follows:

the adjusted cost base of its partnership interest;

plus

its share of the current-year's income from the partnership;

minus

all amounts the partner owes to the partnership, and any amount or benefit to which the partner is entitled that is intended to protect it from the loss of its investment.

Interests in partnerships that were operating on a regular and continuous basis on and after February 25, 1986, are exempt from the at-risk rules. However, partnership interests may lose their exempt status if, after February 25, 1986, there has been either a substantial contribution of capital to the partnership, or substantial partnership borrowings.

The difference between the corporation's share of the actual loss of the limited partnership shown on the financial statements and the corporation's at-risk amount is called a limited partnership loss. This amount is from column 620.

Add the total of column 620 to line 222 of Schedule 1. Enter all those losses in column 670 to establish the continuity of losses.

IT-232, Losses – Their Deductibility in the Loss Year or in Other Years

Limited partnership losses from prior tax years that may be applied in the current year

Complete this part if you want to apply limited partnership losses from previous years to reduce any kind of income in the current year. However, the deductible amount is limited to the difference between the balance of losses and the corporation's at-risk amount for each limited partnership.

Continuity of limited partnership losses that can be carried forward to future tax years

Limited partnership losses can be carried forward indefinitely to future years.

When completing this part, column 664 is the amount of limited partnership losses transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or a subsidiary after wind-up, where not less than 90% of the issued shares in each class were, immediately before the wind-up, owned by the corporation. This amount is the unused limited partnership losses available to carry forward at the end of the tax year of the predecessor corporation or subsidiary ending immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up.

The result of this part is the amount of limited partnership losses you carry forward to later years (column 680).

Part 8 – Election under paragraph 88(1.1)(f)

Further to a winding up of a subsidiary, the portion of a non-capital loss, restricted farm loss, farm loss, or limited partnership loss incurred by the subsidiary is deemed to be the parent corporation's loss for its tax year starting after the winding up has begun.

Paragraph 88(1.1)(f) allows the parent corporation to elect that this loss is deemed to be a loss from its tax year previous to the year mentioned above.

Tick box 190 if you are making an election under paragraph 88(1.1)(f).

Taxable income

The following section explains how to calculate the deductions you may be able to claim to reduce net income. You will use these amounts to arrive at your taxable income.

Line 300 – Net income or (loss) for income tax purposes

On line 300, enter the net income or loss for income tax purposes, as you calculated on Schedule 1. If you did not have to make any adjustments to the net income or loss from the financial statements, enter on line 300 the net income or loss from the income statement. Show the amount of any loss in brackets.

Note

On Schedule 1, do not deduct charitable donations, taxable dividends, net capital losses, non-capital losses, farm losses, or restricted farm losses from other years. You have to deduct these items from net income for income tax purposes to arrive at taxable income.

Lines 311 to 315

The amount deductible by the corporation will generally be the eligible amount. The eligible amount of a gift is the amount by which the fair market value of the property that is the subject of the gift exceeds the amount of the advantage, if any, in respect of the gift.

Line 311 – Charitable donations

Complete Schedule 2, Charitable Donations and Gifts, if, during the tax year, you made charitable donations, or unused charitable donations were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up. You can claim a deduction for charitable donations made to any of the following qualified donees:

- registered charities (including registered national arts service organizations);
- registered Canadian amateur athletic associations;
- listed housing corporations resident in Canada and exempt from Part I tax under paragraph 149(1)(i);
- listed Canadian municipalities;
- listed municipal or public bodies performing a function of government in Canada;
- the United Nations or its agencies;
- prescribed universities outside Canada listed in Schedule VIII of the Income Tax Regulations;
- listed charitable organizations outside Canada to which the federal government has made a gift during the 36-month period beginning 24 months before the time of the corporation's gift (or, for gifts made before 2012, during the corporation's tax year or in the 12 months just before that tax year);
- effective January 1, 2013, a foreign organization that has applied to the minister for registration under subsection 149.1(26); or
- Her Majesty in right of Canada, a province, or territory.

The maximum amount of charitable donations that a corporation can deduct is equal to 75% of its net income (line 300).

This limitation can be increased by the following amounts:

- 25% of the taxable capital gains arising from gifts of capital property made in the year and included in taxable income for the year; this amount is multiplied by the eligible amount of the gift divided by the corporation's proceeds of disposition for the gift;

- 25% of all taxable capital gains in the year from the disposition in a previous year of a non-qualifying security of a corporation that is making a gift to a qualified donee; and
- 25% of whichever is less:
 - the amount of recapture, included in the income of the year, arising from the donation of a prescribed class of depreciable property; or
 - the eligible amount of the gift divided by the corporation's proceeds of disposition for the gift, multiplied by the lesser of the capital cost and the proceeds of disposition of the property minus any outlays and expenses made for the purpose of making the disposition.

Charitable donations are deducted in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

If you are reporting nil net income or a loss for the year, you cannot claim donations to create or increase a loss.

However, you can carry forward unused charitable donations and claim them in any of the five following tax years.

Note

On line 255 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Complete Part 1 of Schedule 2 to calculate the total donations available and the charitable donations closing balance.

Complete Part 2 of Schedule 2 to calculate the maximum deduction allowable and to determine the amount to claim for charitable donations including gifts of capital property.

On line 311, enter the amount you want to apply against taxable income. This amount cannot be more than the lesser of:

- the total donations available; or
- the maximum deduction allowable.

Complete Part 7 of Schedule 2 to establish the continuity of charitable donations.

You do not have to file receipts with your return. However, you have to keep them in case we ask for them later.

Notes

When a credit union calculates its income for purposes of the 75% limit, it has to add back any amounts it previously deducted for bonus interest payments and payments for allocations in proportion to borrowing.

Where a corporation makes a gift of a non-qualifying security, that gift has to be ignored for the charitable donations deduction. However, if the donee disposes of the security within five years, for consideration other than another non-qualifying security of any person (this restriction on the type of consideration is applicable after March 21, 2011), or the security ceases to be a non-qualifying security of the corporation within five years, the corporation will be treated as having made the gift at that later time.

A non-qualifying security includes an obligation of the corporation or a non-arm's length person, a share of the corporation or a share issued by a corporation with which the corporation does not deal at arm's length, and any other security issued by the corporation or a non-arm's length person. Specifically excepted from this definition are obligations, shares, and other securities listed on designated stock exchanges and deposits with financial institutions.

If you make a monetary gift to Canada, you can choose to apply it to the Debt Servicing and Reduction Account. If you are sending a cheque, make it payable to the Receiver General for Canada and mail it to:

Public Works and Government Services Canada
Place du Portage
Phase 3, 11 Laurier Street
Gatineau QC K1A 0S5

Include a note saying that you want your amount applied to this account. Public Works and Government Services Canada will send a receipt.

The federal government will only use these amounts to reduce the public debt.

You can claim a deduction from net income for a gift of certified cultural property made to designated institutions or public authorities. The most you can deduct is the total eligible amount of the gifts donated in the current tax year and any undeducted amounts from the five previous years.

If the eligible amount of cultural gifts is more than your net income for the year minus other donations you claim, you can carry the excess forward for up to five years.

Line 314 – Ecological gifts

Complete Part 5 of Schedule 2 if, during the tax year:

- you made certified ecological gifts; or
- the ecological gifts were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

You can claim a deduction from net income for certified ecological gifts made to Canada, a province, territory or Canadian municipality, municipal or public bodies performing a function of government in Canada or an approved registered charity. An ecological gift is a gift of land (including a covenant, an easement, or a real servitude) that is certified by the minister of the Environment as ecologically sensitive.

The eligible amount of ecologically sensitive land and, consequently, the corporate donor's proceeds of disposition are deemed to be the amount determined by the minister of the Environment.

The maximum deduction you can claim is the total of gifts made during the current tax year plus the unclaimed gifts from the five previous tax years.

If the amount of ecological gifts is more than your net income for the year minus any other donations you claim, you can carry the excess forward for up to five years.

Note

On line 555 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Deduct ecological gifts in the order they were made (first-in, first-out rule).

On line 314, enter the amount of ecological gifts you want to apply against taxable income.

Complete Part 7 of Schedule 2 to establish the continuity of ecological gifts.

For an ecological gift, you must get a certificate issued by the minister of the Environment and a Certificate for Donation of Ecologically Sensitive Land. The qualified donee will issue a receipt. You do not have to file the receipt and the two certificates with your return. However, keep them in case we ask for them later.

Line 315 – Gifts of medicine

Complete Part 6 of Schedule 2 if, during the tax year:

- you made a gift of medicine after March 18, 2007; or
- your gifts of medicine made after March 18, 2007, were transferred from a predecessor corporation after amalgamation, or from a subsidiary corporation after wind-up.

You can claim a deduction from net income for an eligible gift of medicine made to a registered charity if the gift is made for activities of the charity outside Canada. An eligible gift is a gift of medicine that was part of the corporation's inventory immediately before being donated and, for a donation made after October 2, 2007, the medicine qualifies as a drug within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, and generally meets the requirements of that Act but is not a food, cosmetic, or device (as those terms are used in that Act), a natural health product (as defined in the Natural Health Products Regulations) or a veterinary drug.

For gifts of medicine made before July 1, 2008, the registered charity must have received a disbursement under a program of the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA).

For gifts of medicine made after June 30, 2008, the registered charity must be one that, in the opinion of the minister for International Cooperation, meets conditions prescribed by regulation. (If no such minister has been appointed, the opinion of the minister responsible for CIDA will be required.) Also, the eligible gift of medicine must be available for the donee's use at least six months before its expiration date as defined in the Food and Drug Regulations (Food and Drugs Act).

The maximum deduction you can claim is the lesser of:

- the cost to the corporation of the gifts of medicine; and
- 50% of the amount, if any, by which the proceeds of disposition of the donated medicine exceeds the cost to the corporation of the medicine;

multiplied by

- the eligible amount of the gift divided by the proceeds of disposition for the gift.

If the amount of the gifts of medicine minus any other donations you claim is more than your net income for the year, you can carry the excess forward for up to five years.

Note

On line 655 of Schedule 2, enter the amount of any other adjustments (these adjustments would apply to corporations that have undergone an acquisition of control and whose donations carryforward that accrued before the acquisition of control and are not deductible after the acquisition of control).

Under section 110.5 and subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii), a corporation that cannot deduct its foreign income tax deductions (for example, if it has no Part I tax payable for the year) can choose to add an amount to its taxable income.

In this way, the corporation can use these otherwise non-deductible foreign tax deductions.

The amount you add to income for this purpose forms part of the non-capital loss. See page 47 for details. However, you cannot add an amount under section 110.5 if that addition increases any of the following deductible amounts:

- the small business deduction;
- the manufacturing and processing profits deduction;
- the federal logging tax credit;
- the federal political contribution tax credit;
- the investment tax credit (ITC);
- the share-purchase tax credit; or

If the corporation is an authorized foreign bank, you cannot add an amount under subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) if that addition increases any of the following deductible amounts:

- the federal logging tax credit;
- the federal political contribution tax credit; or
- the ITC.

Small business deduction

Corporations that were Canadian-controlled private corporations (CCPCs) throughout the tax year may be able to claim the small business deduction (SBD). The SBD reduces Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

The SBD rate is 17%. The SBD is calculated by multiplying the SBD rate by the least of the following amounts:

- the income from active business carried on in Canada (line 400);
- the taxable income (line 405);
- the business limit (line 410); or
- the reduced business limit (line 425).

The following section explains each of the above amounts.

Once you have calculated the SBD, enter it on line 430.

Line 400 – Income from active business carried on in Canada

Complete Schedule 7, Aggregate Investment Income and Active Business Income, to determine the following amounts:

- the aggregate investment income and foreign investment income for determining the refundable portion of Part I tax (see “Refundable portion of Part I tax, Lines 440, 445, and 450” on page 60 for details);
- the specified partnership income for members of a partnership; and
- the income from an active business carried on in Canada for the SBD.

Note

If claiming a deduction for patronage dividends on line 416 of Schedule 1, complete Part 5 of Schedule 16 to establish active business income carried on in Canada (see page 46 for details).

Active business income

Generally, active business income is income earned from a business source, including any income incidental to the business.

Income from a specified investment business or from a personal services business is generally not considered active business income and is not eligible for the SBD. The following sections explain when income from these types of businesses may be considered to be active business income and eligible for the SBD.

Specified investment business

A specified investment business is a business with the principal purpose of deriving income from property, including interest, dividends, rents, or royalties. It also includes a business carried on by a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation, the principal purpose of which is to derive income from property.

Except for a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation, income from a specified investment business is considered to be active business income, and is therefore eligible for the SBD if:

- the corporation employs more than five full-time employees in the business throughout the year; or
- an associated corporation provides managerial, financial, administrative, maintenance, or other similar services to the corporation while carrying on an active business, and the corporation would have to engage more than five full-time employees to perform these services if the associated corporation were not providing them.

Note

The business a credit union carries on, or the business of leasing property other than real property, is not considered specified investment business.

Personal services business

A personal services business is a business that a corporation carries on to provide services to another entity (such as a person or a partnership) that an officer or employee of that entity would usually perform.

Instead, an individual performs the services on behalf of the corporation. That individual is called an incorporated employee.

Any income the corporation derives from providing the services is considered income from a personal services business, as long as both of the following conditions are met:

- the incorporated employee who is performing the services, or any person related to him or her, is a specified shareholder of the corporation; and
- the incorporated employee would, if it were not for the existence of the corporation, reasonably be considered an officer or employee of the entity receiving the services.

However, if the corporation employs more than five full-time employees throughout the year or provides the services to an associated corporation, the income is not considered to be from a personal services business. Therefore, the income is eligible for the SBD.

Specified shareholder

A specified shareholder is a taxpayer who owns, directly or indirectly at any time in the year, at least 10% of the issued shares of any class of capital stock of the corporation or a related corporation.

How to calculate income from an active business carried on in Canada

Generally, to calculate active business income from carrying on a business in Canada, you have to deduct from net income for income tax purposes any of the following amounts that apply:

- taxable capital gains minus allowable capital losses;
- dividends that are deductible from income under sections 112 and 113, and subsection 138(6);
- property income minus property losses;
- property income from an interest in a trust;
- foreign business income;
- income from a specified investment business; and
- income from a personal services business.

Specified partnership income

A corporation that is a member of a partnership has to complete Schedule 7 to calculate its active business income.

The corporate partnership rules impose a limit on the amount of active business income earned by a partnership that is eligible for the SBD. This amount is allocated among all partners.

Specified partnership income is the amount of partnership income eligible for the SBD that is allocated to the corporation. You have to add this income to your active business income.

If the partnership incurs a loss from carrying on an active business, you have to deduct the corporation's share of that loss from its active business income. This is referred to as a specified partnership loss.

If your corporation is a member of a partnership in respect of which it filed a Schedule 73, you have to add or deduct the total active business income determined under section 34.2.

If the corporation received an information slip T5013, Statement of Partnership Income, that shows its share of partnership income or loss, include this form with the return. See page 29 for details.

On line 400, enter the total active business income you calculated on Schedule 7.

Line 405 – Taxable income for the SBD

The taxable income you use to calculate the SBD is usually the amount entered on line 360. However, if you have claimed a foreign non-business income tax credit, a foreign business income tax credit, or both, you have to reduce the taxable income by:

- 100/28 of the amount that would be deductible as a federal foreign non-business income tax credit on line 632, if that credit was determined without the refundable tax on the CCPC's investment income (line 604) and without reference to the corporate tax reduction under section 123.4. For tax years ending before November 1, 2011, the factor was 10/3. The result of the multiplication by line 632 has to be prorated based on the number of days in the tax year that are in each period: before November 1, 2011, and after October 31, 2011; and
- $[1 / (0.38 \text{ minus the general rate reduction percentage for the tax year})]$ times the amount that would be deductible as a federal foreign business income tax credit (line 636) if that credit was determined without reference to the corporate tax reduction under section 123.4. The general rate reduction percentage has to be prorated. See page 59.

You also have to reduce taxable income by any amount that, because of federal law, is exempt from Part I tax.

On line 405, enter your taxable income for the purposes of calculating the SBD.

Line 410 – Business limit

The maximum allowable business limit for a corporation that is not associated with any other corporation is $500,000.

CCPCs that are associated with one or more corporations during the tax year have to file Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Business Limit. On this schedule, a percentage of the business limit is allocated to each corporation, and the total of all percentages cannot be more than 100%. See page 27 for details about Schedule 23.

On line 410, enter the business limit for the year. Enter the amount from Schedule 23 for an associated corporation.

Notes

If the tax year is shorter than 51 weeks, you have to prorate the business limit, based on the number of days in the tax year divided by 365, before you enter it on line 410.

If you elect not to be an associated corporation with two other corporations for the small business deduction, you have to file Schedule 28, Election not to be an Associated Corporation. For more details, see page 28.

Line 425 – Reduced business limit

Large CCPCs that have taxable capital employed in Canada of $15 million or more do not qualify for the SBD. The business limit is reduced on a straight-line basis for CCPCs that have taxable capital employed in Canada of between $10 million and $15 million in the previous year. Similar restrictions apply to any CCPC that is a member of an associated group that has, in total, more than $10 million of taxable capital employed in Canada.

Use Schedule 23, Agreement Among Associated Canadian-Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Business Limit, if you are an associated CCPC. For more information about this schedule, see page 27.

General tax reduction

A general tax reduction is available on qualifying income. This reduction is:

- 10% effective January 1, 2010;
- 11.5% effective January 1, 2011; and
- 13% effective January 1, 2012.

For tax years that straddle a calendar year, the rate is prorated based on the number of days in each calendar year.

Corporations benefit from the general tax reduction only on taxable income that is subject to a rate of 38%.

The reduction does not apply to income that benefits from preferential corporate tax treatment, such as:

- income eligible for the small business deduction and Canadian manufacturing and processing income;
- income eligible for the deduction for the generation of electrical energy for sale or the production of steam for sale;
- income eligible for the additional deduction for credit unions; and
- investment income subject to the refundable tax provisions

For tax year beginning after October 31, 2011, the reduction also does not apply to income earned from a personal service business.

The reduction will not apply to a corporation that was, throughout the year, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, or a mutual fund corporation.

Refundable portion of Part I tax
Lines 440, 445, and 450

The refundable portion of Part I tax is part of the refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH). More information about RDTOH is in the section that follows.

The refundable portion of Part I tax allows a CCPC that has paid Part I tax on investment income to recover part of that tax when the corporation pays taxable dividends to its shareholders. The refundable portion of Part I tax only applies to corporations that are CCPCs throughout the tax year.

The refundable portion of Part I tax is based on the aggregate investment income and foreign investment income. You have to determine these amounts by completing Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 7, Aggregate Investment Income and Active Business Income.

Part 1 – Aggregate investment income calculation

The aggregate investment income is the aggregate world source income calculated as follows:

add

- the eligible portion of the taxable capital gains for the year that is more than the total of:
 - the eligible portion of allowable capital losses for the year; and
 - the net capital losses from previous years which are applied in the year;
- total income from property (including income from a specified investment business carried on in Canada other than income from a source outside Canada) from which the following amounts have been deducted:
 - exempt income;
 - AgriInvest receipts;
 - taxable dividends deductible after deducting related expenses; and
 - business income from an interest in a trust that is considered property income under paragraph 108(5)(a);

deduct

- total losses for the year from property (including losses from a specified investment business carried on in Canada other than losses from a source outside Canada).

On line 440 enter the amount of aggregate investment income that you determined on line G of Schedule 7.

You can include taxable capital gains and allowable capital losses in a CCPC’s net investment income only if you can attribute the gain or loss to a period of time when a CCPC, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, or a mutual fund corporation held the disposed property.

Part 2 – Foreign investment income calculation

The foreign investment income is all income from only sources outside of Canada calculated as follows:

add

- the eligible portion of the taxable capital gains for the year that is more than the eligible portion of allowable capital losses for the year;
- the total income from property from a source outside Canada from which the following amounts have been deducted:
 - exempt income;
 - taxable dividends deductible after deducting related expenses; and
 - business income from an interest in a trust that is considered property income under paragraph 108(5)(a);

deduct

- the total losses for the year from property from a source outside Canada.

On line 445 enter the amount of foreign investment income that you determined on line N of Schedule 7.

Calculate the amount of the refundable portion of Part I tax. Enter the amount from line 450 in the space provided in the “Refundable dividend tax on hand” area of your return.

Refundable dividend tax on hand

Lines 460, 465, 480, and 485

The RDTOH account only applies to corporations that were private or subject corporations, which are defined on page 74.

CCPC generates RDTOH on both the Part I tax it pays on investment income, and on the Part IV tax it pays on dividends it receives. For any other type of private corporation, only the Part IV tax it pays generates RDTOH.

For more information on taxable dividends deductible under section 112 or 113, or subsection 138(6), see page 53.

For information on Part IV tax and instructions to complete Schedule 3, see page 74.

All or part of the RDTOH at the end of the tax year is available as a refund if the corporation pays taxable dividends to the shareholders during the tax year.

You can view refundable dividend tax on hand balances using the “View return balances” service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

To calculate the RDTOH at the end of the tax year, add the following amounts:

- the RDTOH balance at the end of the previous tax year (minus any dividend refund issued to the corporation in the previous year);
- the refundable portion of Part I tax from line 450;
- Part IV tax calculated on line 360 of Schedule 3; and
- any balance of RDTOH transferred from a predecessor corporation on amalgamation, or from a wound-up subsidiary corporation.

For the first tax year of a successor corporation formed as a result of an amalgamation, enter on line 480 all RDTOH balances being transferred from predecessor corporations. Do not include this amount on line 460.

For a parent corporation that wound up a wholly owned subsidiary, enter on line 480 any RDTOH transferred from the subsidiary corporation. On line 460, enter the RDTOH the parent corporation is carrying forward from its previous tax year.

Note

You cannot transfer any RDTOH to a successor or parent corporation if, had the predecessor or subsidiary corporation paid a dividend immediately before the amalgamation or wind-up, subsection 129(1.2) would have applied to that dividend.

On line 485, enter the RDTOH at the end of the tax year. Also, enter the same amount on line J in the “Dividend refund” area of your return.

Dividend refund

A private or subject corporation may be entitled to a dividend refund for dividends it paid while it was a private or subject corporation, regardless of whether it was a private or subject corporation at the end of the tax year.

Note

To claim a dividend refund or to apply the amount to another debit for any tax year, including the same tax year, you have to file your income tax return within three years of the end of the tax year.

A dividend refund arises if you pay taxable dividends to shareholders, and if there is an amount of refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH) at the end of the tax year.

To claim a dividend refund, you have to have made an actual payment to the shareholders, unless the dividend is considered paid (a deemed dividend).

You can make this payment either in cash, or with some other tangible assets at fair market value, including the following:

- stock dividends;
- section 84 deemed dividends; and
- amounts paid as interest or dividends on income bonds or debentures that are not deductible when calculating income.

If you lose your private status following a change in control, a deemed year-end occurs. This allows you to claim a dividend refund for any dividends paid during the deemed short year.

You have to complete Parts 3 and 4 (if they apply) of Schedule 3 to claim a dividend refund. The dividend refund is equal to whichever of the following amounts is less:

- 1/3 of taxable dividends that you paid in the year while a private or subject corporation; or
- the RDTOH at the end of the tax year.

The total of taxable dividends paid for the purpose of the dividend refund is equal to the amount on line 460 of Schedule 3. Refundable dividend tax on hand refers to the amount on line 485 in the “Refundable dividend tax on hand” area of your return.

Parts 3 and 4 of Schedule 3

The following explains how to complete Parts 3 and 4 of Schedule 3. Parts 1 and 2 are explained on page 74.

If you paid taxable dividends during the year, complete Part 3 to identify taxable dividends that qualify for the dividend refund.

If the amount of dividends paid includes dividends that do not qualify for the dividend refund, you have to deduct these dividends before completing the calculation in Part 3. In this case, complete Part 4 of Schedule 3 to identify dividends that do not qualify.

Dividends that do not qualify are:

- dividends paid out of the capital dividend account;
- capital gains dividends;
- dividends paid for shares that do not qualify as taxable dividends, because the main purpose of acquiring the shares was to receive a dividend refund [subsection 129(1.2)];
- taxable dividends paid to a controlling corporation that was bankrupt at any time in the year; and
- deemed dividends paid on a small business development bond.

Complete Part 3 of Schedule 3 to identify a connected corporation that received taxable dividends that qualify for the dividend refund.

If the dividend refund is more than the amount of Part I tax payable for the year, we deduct the excess from any other taxes owed under the Income Tax Act. Any balance left over is available for a refund.

If the total dividends paid during the year is different from the total of taxable dividends paid for the purpose of the dividend refund, complete Part 4 of Schedule 3.

Line 602 – Recapture of investment tax credit (ITC)

Scientific research and experimental development

A corporation that disposed of a property used in scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED), or converted it to commercial use, should report a recapture in its income tax return for the year in which the disposition or conversion occurred.

If you performed the SR&ED and earned the related ITC, the recapture will be whichever is less:

- the ITC earned for the property; or
- the amount determined by applying the percentage you used in calculating the ITC earned on the property to:
 - the proceeds of disposition of the property if you dispose of it to an arm’s length person; or
 - in any other case, the fair market value of the property.

If you performed the SR&ED and transferred the qualified expenditures to a non-arm’s length party in accordance with an agreement described in subsection 127(13), the recapture will be whichever is less:

- the ITC earned by the transferee on the qualified expenditures for the property that was transferred; or

- the amount determined by the formula:

$$A \times B - C$$

where

- “A” is the percentage that the transferee used in determining its ITC;
- “B” is the proceeds of dispositions of the property if you dispose of it to an arm’s length person, or in any other case, the fair market value of the property; and
- “C” is the amount, if any, added to the tax payable under subsection 127(27) for the property. This allows for the situation where you transferred only a portion of the cost of the property in an agreement under subsection 127(13).

If you transferred a portion of the expenditures and claimed a portion of that expenditure for ITC purposes, both calculations will apply.

The recapture period for ITCs is 20 years.

For more information, see Guide T4088, Guide to Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim or go to www.cra.gc.ca/sred.

Child care spaces

The ITC for child care spaces (see page 69) will be recovered against the taxpayer’s tax otherwise payable if, at any time within the 60 months of the day on which the taxpayer acquired the property:

- the new child care space is no longer available; or
- eligible property for purposes of this credit is sold or leased to another person or converted to another use.

If the property disposed of is a child care space, the amount to be recaptured will be the amount that can reasonably be considered to have been included in the original ITC.

In the case of eligible expenditures, the amount to be recaptured will be the lesser of:

- the amount that can reasonably be considered to have been included in the original ITC; and
- 25% of the proceeds of disposition of the eligible property or of its fair market value at the time of disposition, if the property was disposed of to a non arm's-length person.

Use Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to calculate the recapture of ITC.

On line 602, enter the amount of recapture of ITC.

This additional tax may be part of the refundable portion of Part 1 tax on line 450 and would be added to the refundable dividend tax on hand (RDTOH). The RDTOH pool will be refunded when dividends are paid to shareholders (at a rate of 1/3 of taxable dividends paid).

Section 124

Line 616 – Manufacturing and processing profits deduction

Corporations that derive at least 10% of their gross revenue for the year from manufacturing or processing goods in Canada for sale or lease can claim the manufacturing and processing profits deduction (MPPD). The MPPD reduces Part I tax otherwise payable.

The MPPD applies to the part of taxable income that represents Canadian manufacturing and processing profits. Calculate the MPPD at the rate of 7% on income that is not eligible for the small business deduction (SBD).

Use Schedule 27, Calculation of Canadian Manufacturing and Processing Profits Deduction, to calculate the manufacturing and processing profits deduction.

There are two ways to calculate Canadian manufacturing and processing profits: a simplified method for small manufacturing corporations, and a basic labour and capital formula for other corporations. These methods are outlined in Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 27.

A corporation's manufacturing labour and capital is based on the labour and capital employed in qualified activities. These activities are discussed in interpretation bulletin IT-145, Canadian Manufacturing and Processing Profits – Reduced Rate of Corporate Tax.

Small manufacturing corporations only have to complete Part 1 of Schedule 27, and are entitled to calculate the MPPD on their entire adjusted business income. Essentially, a corporation's adjusted business income is its income from an active business it carried on in Canada that is more than its losses from similar businesses. If the corporation is involved in resource activities, it has to reduce the adjusted business income by its net resource income, its refund interest, and a portion of its prescribed resource loss. Schedule 27 shows how to calculate the adjusted business income.

To qualify as a small manufacturing corporation, you have to meet all of the following requirements:

- the activities during the year were mainly manufacturing or processing;
- the active business income and that of any associated Canadian corporations was not more than $200,000;
- you were not engaged in any activities specifically excluded from manufacturing and processing, as defined in subsection 125.1(3);
- you were not engaged in processing ore (other than iron ore or tar sands ore) from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent;
- you were not engaged in processing iron ore from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent;
- you were not engaged in processing tar sands located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent; and
- you did not carry on any active business outside Canada at any time during the year.

Corporations that do not qualify as small manufacturing corporations have to complete Part 2 of Schedule 27. In Part 2, you will find the basic formula for calculating Canadian manufacturing and processing profits, as well as detailed instructions on how to complete the schedule.

Corporations that produce electricity or steam for sale have to complete Parts 10 to 13 of Schedule 27.

On line 616, enter the amount of the manufacturing and processing profits deduction determined in Part 9 of Schedule 27.

Lines 620 and 624 – Investment corporation deduction

A Canadian public corporation that is an investment corporation, as defined in subsection 130(3), can claim a deduction from Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay. This deduction is equal to 20% of the taxable income for the year that is more than the taxed capital gains for the year.

On line 624, enter the investment corporation's taxed capital gains. On line 620, enter the amount of the deduction you are claiming.

Section 130

Line 628 – Additional deduction – credit unions

Although a credit union is not generally considered a private corporation, it is eligible for the small business deduction. A credit union can also deduct a percentage of its taxable income that was not eligible for the small business deduction.

The additional deduction is 17% of whichever of the following amounts is less:

- the taxable income for the year; or
- 4/3 of the maximum cumulative reserve at the end of the year, minus the preferred-rate amount at the end of the previous tax year;

minus

- the least of lines 400, 405, 410, and 425 of the small business deduction calculation (page 4 of the return).

Generally, a credit union's maximum cumulative reserve is equal to 5% of the amounts owing to members, including members' deposits, plus 5% of all members' share capital in the credit union.

The preferred-rate amount at the end of a tax year is equal to the total of the preferred rate amount at the end of the previous year, plus 100/17 of the amount of the small business deduction for the year. For tax years ending before 2008, the factor is 25/4.

If the tax year straddles January 1, 2008, the amount you get when multiplying this factor by the small business deduction has to be prorated based on the number of days in each period.

With this additional deduction, a credit union can pay tax at a reduced rate on income it needs to build up a tax-paid reserve that is equal to 5% of deposits and capital. Provincial and territorial statutes require these reserves. The credit union cannot distribute these reserves to its members.

Use Schedule 17, Credit Union Deductions, to claim this additional deduction.

On line 628, enter the credit union's additional deduction.

Section 137

Line 632 – Federal foreign non-business income tax credit

Use Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to calculate this credit.

A federal foreign non-business income tax credit is available to Canadian residents to prevent double taxation of any non-business income earned in a foreign country that was taxed by that foreign country. The credit is also available to authorized foreign banks on their Canadian banking business from sources in a foreign country. This credit reduces Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

Foreign non-business income includes dividends, interest, and capital gains. It does not include dividends received from foreign affiliates, or income from operating a business in a foreign country.

Foreign non-business income tax does not include any foreign tax paid on income that is exempt from tax in Canada under an income tax treaty.

As another option, under subsection 20(12), instead of claiming a foreign non-business income tax credit, a corporation can deduct from income all or any part of non-business income tax it paid to a foreign country.

If, after you claim the federal foreign non-business income tax credit, there is any foreign non-business income tax left over, you can claim it as a provincial or territorial foreign tax credit. See page 79 for details.

Under section 110.5 and subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii), you can also increase your taxable income so that you can use an otherwise non-deductible foreign non-business income tax credit. See "Line 355 – Section 110.5 additions and/or subparagraph 115(1)(a)(vii) additions" on page 55 for details.

To claim this credit, complete Part 1 of Schedule 21. Calculate the federal foreign non-business income tax credit for each country separately. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Add all the allowable foreign non-business income tax credits in column I on Schedule 21. Then, enter the total allowable credit or a lesser amount on line 632.

Line 636 – Federal foreign business income tax credit

Use Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to calculate this credit.

To prevent double taxation, a corporation that pays foreign tax on income or profits it earned from operating a business in a foreign country can claim a federal foreign business income tax credit. This credit reduces the Part I tax that the corporation would otherwise have to pay.

Unlike foreign non-business income tax, you cannot deduct excess foreign business income tax paid as a provincial or territorial foreign tax credit. However, under section 110.5, you can increase taxable income so as to claim an otherwise non-deductible foreign business income tax credit. See Line 355 on page 55 for details.

To claim this credit, complete Part 2 of Schedule 21. Calculate the foreign business income tax credit for each country separately. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Add all allowable foreign business income tax credits in column J on Schedule 21. Then, enter the total allowable credits or a lesser amount on line 636.

Notes

Foreign business income tax does not include any foreign tax paid on income that is exempt from tax in Canada under an income tax treaty.

When calculating income for the year from sources in a foreign country, deduct the maximum amount of foreign exploration and development expense that is deductible on a country-by-country basis.

Continuity of unused federal foreign business income tax credits

Complete Part 3 of Schedule 21 if you have a foreign business income tax credit that:

- expired in the current year;
- was transferred from an amalgamation or wind-up;
- was deducted in the current year; or
- was carried back to a prior year.

You have to establish the continuity and the application of the foreign tax credits on business income for each country. Use more than one schedule if more space is required.

Carryback or carryforward of unused credits

You can carry back any unused foreign business income tax credit to the 3 previous tax years, and you can carry the credit forward for 10 tax years.

Credits earned in tax years ending before March 23, 2004, can be carried forward for 7 tax years.

To claim a carryback to previous years, complete Part 4 of Schedule 21.

Note

You can use this credit only to reduce Part I tax on income originating from the same foreign country.

Lines 638 and 639 – General tax reduction

Calculate this reduction on page 5.

If you were a CCPC throughout the tax year, enter the amount on line 638.

If you were a corporation other than a CCPC, an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, a mutual fund corporation, or a corporation that has income that is not subject to the corporation tax rate of 38% enter the amount on line 639.

See “General tax reduction” on page 59 for details.

Line 640 – Federal logging tax credit

Corporations that have income from logging operations and have paid logging tax to the province of Quebec or British Columbia can claim this credit.

Complete Part 5 of Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit, to calculate this credit. On line 640, enter the credit you calculated on line 580 of Schedule 21 or a lesser amount.

Line 648 – Federal qualifying environmental trust (QET) tax credit

A corporation that is the beneficiary under a qualifying environmental trust can claim a tax credit equal to Part XII.4 tax payable by the trust on that income.

The sole purpose of a qualifying environmental trust must be for funding the reclamation of a site in Canada that had been used primarily for, or for any combination of:

- the operation of a mine;
- the extraction of clay, peat, sand, shale, or aggregates; or
- the deposit of waste.

For 2012 and later tax years, the QET definition is amended to include trusts that are created after 2011:

- in connection with the reclamation of property primarily used for the operation of a pipeline, or any combination of the operation of a pipeline, the operation of a mine, the extraction of clay, peat, sand, shale, or aggregates, or the deposit of waste; and
- must be maintained under:
 - a federal or provincial law;
 - a contract entered into with Her Majesty in right of Canada, or a province; or
 - an order made no more than one year after the creation of the trust by a tribunal constituted under federal or provincial law.

The QET definition is also extended to include all other trusts that are created after 2011 that must be maintained under an order of a tribunal constituted under a federal or provincial law and that meet the other conditions for QETs.

Currently, the rate of tax payable by a QET is legislated at 28%. For the 2012 and later tax years, the rate of tax payable by a QET will be set at the general corporation income tax rate for the tax year (38%) less the total of the federal tax abatement for the tax year (10%) and the general rate reduction for the tax year (13%). Currently, this rate is set at 15% for these years.

On line 648, enter the credit claim up to the amount of Part I tax otherwise payable. On line 792 (page 8), enter any unused amount.

Line 652 – Investment tax credit

A corporation can claim an investment tax credit (ITC) to reduce Part I tax that it would otherwise have to pay, or in some cases this credit may be fully or partially refundable.

Use Schedule 31, Investment Tax Credit – Corporations, to calculate the ITC.

A corporation earns ITCs by applying a specified percentage to the cost of acquiring certain property (investments) or on certain expenditures. However, you first have to reduce the capital cost of the property or the expenditure by any government or non-government assistance you received or will receive for that property or the expenditure. Any goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) input tax credit or rebate received for property acquired is considered government assistance.

On page 2 of Schedule 31, we list the percentages you have to apply to eligible investments and expenditures.

Available-for-use rule

A corporation is not considered to have acquired a property or made capital expenditures for earning an investment tax credit until the property becomes available for use.

For more information about the available-for-use rule, see “When is property available for use?” on page 38.

Investments and expenditures that qualify for an ITC

The following investments and expenditures earn an ITC:

- A. the cost of acquiring qualified property;
- B. SR&ED qualified expenditure pool;
- C. pre-production mining expenditures;
- D. apprenticeship expenditures; and
- E. eligible child care spaces.

The following are definitions of investments and expenditure that qualify for an ITC:

- A. Qualified property (other than certified property or approved project property) includes new prescribed buildings, machinery, or equipment acquired during the year to use in certain activities. See the “Activities that qualify for the investment tax credit” section that follows.
- B. Qualified expenditures and SR&ED qualified expenditure pool are defined in subsection 127(9). SR&ED is defined in subsection 248(1).
- C. Pre-production mining expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9).

The 10% ITC applicable to eligible pre-production mining expenditures will be phased out. The rate will decrease to 5% for exploration expenses incurred in 2013, and to 0% after 2013. For pre-production development expenses, the rate will decrease to 7% in 2014, 4% in 2015, and 0% after 2015. Transitional relief will be available. For pre-production development expenses incurred after 2013 and before 2016, the ITC rate will remain at 10% if the expense is incurred:

- under a written agreement entered into by the corporation before March 29, 2012; or
- as part of the development of a new mine and, before March 29, 2012:
 - the construction of the new mine was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation; or
 - the engineering and design work for the construction of the new mine, as evidenced in writing, was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation.

The excluded activities are the same as the ones for the Atlantic ITC.

- D. Apprenticeship expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9).
- E. Eligible child care spaces expenditures are defined in subsection 127(9).

Activities that qualify for an ITC on qualified property

You can earn ITCs on qualified property acquired mainly for use in designated activities in the Atlantic region.

This region includes Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, the Gaspé Peninsula, and prescribed offshore regions.

Designated activities include, among others, the following:

- manufacturing or processing goods for sale or lease;
- prospecting, exploring, extracting, and developing minerals;
- exploring, drilling, operating an oil or gas well, and extracting oil or natural gas;
- processing ore, iron ore, or tar sands to the prime metal stage or its equivalent;
- logging;
- farming or fishing; and
- Canadian field processing.

Atlantic ITC

For property acquired after March 28, 2012, the Atlantic ITC will be phased out over a four-year period for qualified property used in oil and gas, and mining activities by:

- excluding them from the definition of qualified property;
- including them in “qualified resource property”; and
- reducing the rate from 10% to 5% for 2014 and 2015, and to 0% after 2015.

For more information about these activities, see the definition of “qualified resource property” in subsection 127(9).

Transitional relief will be available. For property acquired after 2013 and before 2017, the Atlantic ITC will apply at a rate of 10% if the property is acquired:

- under a written agreement entered into by the corporation before March 29, 2012; or
- as part of a phase of a project where, before March 29, 2012:
 - the construction of the phase was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation; or
 - the engineering and design work for the construction of the phase, as evidenced in writing, was started by, or on behalf of, the corporation.

(For excluded activities, see the definition of “specified percentage” in subsection 127(9)).

For property acquired after March 28, 2012, that has not been used or acquired for use or lease before March 29, 2012, the definition of qualified property will be amended to include prescribed energy generation and conservation property that is electricity generation equipment described in Class 17 or 48, or clean energy generation and conservation equipment described in Class 43.1 or Class 43.2.

In addition, the following rules apply to certain corporations that lease qualified properties:

- For a corporation with a principal business of leasing property, lending money, or purchasing conditional sales contracts, accounts receivable, or other obligations, property acquired for the purposes of leasing it in the ordinary course of carrying on business in Canada is considered qualified property.
- For a corporation with a principal business of manufacturing property that it sells or leases, property acquired for leasing purposes is considered qualified property only if the corporation manufactures it and leases it in the ordinary course of its business in Canada.
- For a corporation with a principal business of selling or servicing property, property acquired for leasing purposes is considered qualified property only if it is a type of property that the corporation sells or services, and the property is leased in the ordinary course of carrying on business in Canada.

Scientific research and experimental development (SR&ED) qualified expenditure pool

You have to file Form T661, Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Expenditures Claim, along with Schedule 31 when making a claim for an ITC on qualified expenditures for SR&ED. See page 46 for more information.

Note

You have to identify qualified SR&ED expenditures on Form T661 and Schedule 31 no later than 12 months after the filing due date for the year the expenditures were incurred (without reference to subsection 78(4)).

Generally, the SR&ED qualified expenditure pool will include all qualified SR&ED expenditures (current and capital expenditures) the corporation incurred in the year and any qualified expenditures transferred to the corporation under an agreement in paragraph 127(13)(e) (see Form T1146, Agreement to Transfer Qualified Expenditures Incurred in Respect of SR&ED Contracts Between Persons Not Dealing at Arm’s Length). However, amounts the corporation transferred during the year, under paragraph 127(13)(d) (see Form T1146), will reduce this account.

Capital expenditures made after 2013, including lease payments for property that would have been a capital expenditure if the business had purchased it directly, can no longer be claimed for SR&ED purposes. Those expenditures will be given the treatment otherwise applicable to such expenditures under the Income Tax Act.

SR&ED investment tax credit and refund

You may earn a non-refundable ITC of 20% of the SR&ED qualified expenditure pool at the end of the tax year.

For tax years ending after 2013, the SR&ED investment tax credit basic rate will decrease from 20% to 15%. It will be prorated for tax years that straddle December 31, 2013.

Some CCPCs can claim an additional ITC of 15% on the SR&ED qualified expenditure pool, up to their expenditure limit. A CCPC can earn refundable ITCs at the enhanced rate of 35% on capital (excluded if incurred after 2013) and current SR&ED expenditures, up to its expenditure limit. A qualifying corporation can also earn refundable ITCs at the rate of 20% (15% after December 31, 2013) on expenditures in excess of the expenditure limit.

The additional ITC rate for CCPCs will increase from 15% to 20% after December 31, 2013, to equal 35% (the same total 35% as before).

The expenditure limit is $3 million and is subject to a phase-out based on the taxable income and the taxable capital employed in Canada, of the CCPC and its associated corporations, for the previous tax year.

The expenditure limit begins to decrease when the taxable income before the application of the specified future tax consequences (see note below) of the CCPC and its associated corporations for the previous tax year exceeds $500,000 ($400,000 for tax years that start before 2010) and becomes nil at $800,000 ($700,000 for tax years that start before 2010) and higher.

The expenditure limit also begins to decrease when the taxable capital employed in Canada of the CCPC and its associated corporations for the previous tax year reaches $10 million and becomes nil at $50 million and higher.

If the corporation is associated with one or more corporations, you have to allocate the expenditure limit among the associated corporations on Schedule 49, Agreement Among Associated Canadian Controlled Private Corporations to Allocate the Expenditure Limit. See page 28 for details about Schedule 49.

CCPCs that do not meet the definition of qualifying corporation can earn ITCs at the enhanced rate of 35% on qualified SR&ED expenditures up to their expenditure limit, of which 100% earned on current SR&ED expenditures and 40% earned on capital SR&ED expenditures (excluded if incurred after 2013) is refundable if the ITC cannot be used in the year. The ITC earned at the rate of 20% (15% after December 31, 2013) on SR&ED expenditures that exceed the expenditure limit is not refundable to a corporation unless it is a qualifying corporation.

A qualifying corporation is a CCPC whose taxable income for the previous tax year before the application of the specified future tax consequences (see note below) plus the taxable incomes of all associated corporations before the application of the specified future tax consequences (for tax years ending in the same calendar year as the corporation's previous tax year) is not more than the total of the qualifying income limits of the corporation and the associated corporations for those previous years.

The qualifying income limit is $500,000 ($400,000 for tax years that start before 2010). It begins to decrease when the total taxable capital employed in Canada of the corporation and its associated corporations for the previous tax year reaches $10 million and becomes nil at $50 million.

Qualifying corporations can also earn ITCs at the enhanced rate of 35% on qualified SR&ED expenditures up to their expenditure limit, of which 100% earned on current SR&ED expenditures and 40% earned on capital SR&ED expenditures (excluded if incurred after 2013) is refundable if the ITC cannot be used in the year. For qualifying corporations, the ITCs earned above the expenditure limit are earned at the rate of 20% (15% after December 31, 2013), of which 40% earned on capital (excluded if incurred after 2013) and current SR&ED expenditures is also refundable.

Note

The taxable income mentioned in the definition of expenditure limit and qualifying corporation is determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences. These consequences include, among others, the carryback of losses from later years that would have reduced the taxable income for the year in which those losses were applied. For more information, see the definition of specified future tax consequence in subsection 248(1).

Corporations may be associated because the same group of persons controls them, but the members of this group do not act together and have no other connection to each other.

CCPCs that are associated only because of the above definition of a group will not be considered associated for the following calculations:

- the refundable ITC on eligible SR&ED expenditures;
- calculating the expenditure limit; and
- allocating the expenditure limit.

For this exception to apply, one of the corporations must have at least one shareholder who is not common to both corporations.

Apprenticeship job creation tax credit

A corporation can earn an ITC equal to 10% of the eligible salaries and wages paid to eligible apprentices employed in the business in the tax year to a maximum credit of $2,000, per year, per apprentice.

An eligible apprentice is one who is working in a prescribed trade in the first two years of their apprenticeship contract. This contract is registered with Canada or a province or territory under an apprenticeship program designed to certify or license individuals in the trade. A prescribed trade will include the trades currently listed as Red Seal Trades. For more information about the trades, go to www.red-seal.ca. In addition, the minister of Finance may in consultation with the minister of Human Resources and Social Development, prescribe other trades.

Eligible salaries and wages are those payable by the employer to an eligible apprentice for the apprentices' employment in Canada in the tax year and during the first 24 months of the apprenticeship. Eligible salaries or wages do not include remuneration based on profits, bonuses, taxable benefits including stock options, and certain unpaid remuneration.

Where two or more related employers employ an apprentice, special rules apply to ensure that the $2,000 limit is allocated to only one employer.

An unused credit can be carried back 3 years, and carried forward 20 years.

Complete Parts 21 to 23 of Schedule 31 to calculate the credit.

Investment tax credit (ITC) for child care spaces

An employer carrying on business in Canada, other than a child care services business, can claim a non-refundable tax credit to create one or more new child care spaces in a new or existing licensed child care facility for the children of their employees and for other children in the community. The non-refundable tax credit is equal to the lesser of $10,000 or 25% of the eligible expenditure per child care space created. Eligible expenditures include the cost of depreciable property (other than specified property), and the amount of specified start-up costs, acquired or incurred only to create the new child care space at a licensed child care facility.

Eligible depreciable property includes:

- the building or the part of the building in which the child care facility is located;
- furniture and appliances;
- computer and audio-visual equipment; and
- playground structures and equipment.

Specified child care start-up costs include the initial costs for:

- building permits and architect's fees;

- landscaping for the children’s playground;
- regulatory inspections and licensing fees; and
- children’s educational material.

Eligible expenditures do not include specified property such as motor vehicles, or a property that is, or is located in or attached to, a residence of: the taxpayer, an employee of the taxpayer, a person who holds an interest in the taxpayer, or any person related to a person referred to above.

The credit is not available for any of the ongoing expenses of the child care facility such as supplies, wages, salaries, or utilities.

The amount of the credit is added to the ITC pool and is available to reduce the federal taxes payable in the tax year. Any unused credits can be carried back 3 years or carried forward 20 years.

Complete Parts 24 to 28 of Schedule 31 to claim the credit.

The credit will be recovered against the taxpayer’s tax otherwise payable under Part I of the Act if, at any time within the 60 months of the day on which the taxpayer acquired the property:

- the new child care space is no longer available; or
- property that was an eligible expenditure for this credit is sold or leased to another person or converted to another use.

For more information on the recapture, see line 602 on page 63.

Investment tax credit (ITC) claim

You can deduct the full amount of ITC against federal Part I tax payable. If you are claiming an ITC for a depreciable property, including shared-use equipment, reduce the capital cost of the property in the next tax year by the amount of this year’s ITC. If you are claiming an ITC for SR&ED expenditures, other than expenditures for shared-use equipment, reduce the SR&ED expenditure pool in the next tax year by the amount of this year’s ITC. For more information, see Schedule 8, “Column 4 – Net adjustments,” on page 39.

Note

A corporation cannot claim an ITC for an expense or expenditure incurred in the course of earning income if any of that income is exempt. ITCs also cannot be claimed for expenses or expenditures incurred in earning taxable income that is exempt from tax under Part I.

References

Subsections 13(7.1) and 37(1)

You can carry forward ITCs not previously deducted for 20 years, or carry them back 3 years, to reduce Part I tax.

Remember that you can only carry back ITCs to a prior year if you cannot deduct them in the year you earn them.

Special rules restrict the carryforward and carryback of ITCs following an acquisition of control.

When to complete Schedule 31

Complete and file Schedule 31 with the return if the corporation:

- acquired any qualified property or incurred any expenditures qualifying for ITC purposes;

Investment tax credit refund

For information about CCPCs claiming a refund of ITC for scientific research and experimental development, see “SR&ED investment tax credit and refund” on page 68.

Any ITC you earned in the tax year must first be used to reduce taxes payable to zero before the remainder can be claimed as a refund.

You have to file Schedule 31 to claim the ITC refund. On line 780 of your return, enter the ITC refund claim calculated on Schedule 31.

Part I tax payable

Part I tax payable for the year is the basic Part I tax plus the amount of recapture of ITC and the refundable tax on the CCPC’s investment income (line A plus lines B and C), minus any allowable deductions and credits (line E).

Enter this amount on line F, and also on line 700 in the “Summary of tax and credits” section on page 8 of your return.

Summary of tax and credits

In the “Summary of tax and credits” area of your return, summarize the amounts of federal and provincial or territorial tax payable, as well as the credits and refunds claimed to reduce total tax payable.

Federal tax

Line 700 – Part I tax payable

On line 700, enter the amount of Part I tax payable that you determined on line F of page 7.

Line 708 – Part II surtax payable

Under Part II, tobacco manufacturers have to pay surtax equal to 50% of Part I tax on tobacco manufacturing profits for the year.

File Schedule 46, Part II – Tobacco Manufacturers’ Surtax, and attach it to your return. See the schedule for more details.

On line 708, enter the amount of Part II surtax payable.

Section 182

Line 710 – Part III.1 tax

A corporation that designates dividends as eligible dividends that exceed its capacity to pay such dividends is subject to Part III.1 tax. The tax is equal to 20% of the excessive eligible dividend designation.

Use Schedule 55, Part III.1 Tax on Excessive Eligible Dividend Designations, to calculate any Part III.1 tax payable and file it with your T2 return.

Note

Every corporation resident in Canada that pays a taxable dividend in the year, other than a capital gains dividend, must file this schedule.

In the case where an excessive eligible dividend designation is determined to be part of a tax avoidance scheme, the 20% tax plus an additional 10% tax will apply to the whole dividend designation.

Eligible dividend

An eligible dividend is any taxable dividend paid to a resident of Canada by a Canadian corporation that is designated by that corporation to be an eligible dividend. The corporation does the designation by notifying, in writing, each person or partnership at the time it pays them the dividend. For more information about the notification guidelines, go to www.cra.gc.ca/whtsnw/tms/lgbl-eng.html.

For taxable dividends paid after March 28, 2012, a corporation is allowed to designate a portion of a taxable dividend (rather than the whole amount) to be an eligible dividend. Late designations are allowed, if they are made within three years after the day on which the designation was first required to be made and, in the opinion of the minister, it is just and equitable to do so (including to affected shareholders) in the circumstances. The designation is deemed to have been made on the day the designation was required to be made.

A corporation’s capacity to pay eligible dividends depends mostly on its status.

General rate income pool (GRIP)

A CCPC or a deposit insurance corporation may pay eligible dividends to the extent of its GRIP—a balance generally reflecting taxable income that has not benefited from the small business deduction or any other special tax rate—without incurring Part III.1 tax. The GRIP is calculated at the end of the tax year. However, a corporation can pay eligible dividends over the course of the year as long as, at the end of the year, the eligible dividends paid do not exceed its GRIP.

Use Schedule 53, General Rate Income Pool (GRIP) Calculation, to determine the GRIP and file it with your T2 return. You should file this schedule if you paid an eligible dividend in the tax year, or if your GRIP balance changed, to ensure that the GRIP balance on our records is correct.

You can view GRIP balances using the “View return balances” service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

Low rate income pool (LRIP)

A corporation resident in Canada that is neither a CCPC nor a deposit insurance corporation will be able to pay eligible dividends in any amount unless it has an LRIP. The LRIP is generally made up of taxable income that has benefited from certain preferential tax rates. The corporation will have to reduce its LRIP to zero by paying out ordinary dividends before it can pay an eligible dividend, or it will be subject to Part III.1 tax. The LRIP must be calculated at the time a dividend is paid or received or any other event occurs affecting the LRIP balance in the year.

Use Schedule 54, Low Rate Income Pool (LRIP) Calculation, to determine the LRIP, throughout the year. File the completed schedule with your T2 return. All other calculations including the worksheets should be kept with your records in case we ask for them at a later date.

Election not to be a Canadian-controlled private corporation

A CCPC can elect not to be a CCPC for purposes of this new dividend treatment. If it so elects, it is deemed not to be a CCPC for the tax year in which it makes the election and all later tax years, until it revokes the election. The CCPC will lose its entitlement to the small business deduction. However, no other benefits of CCPC status will be affected.

A corporation that revokes an election will become a CCPC again for the tax year that follows the tax year in which the revocation is made.

Use Form T2002, Election, or Revocation of an Election, Not To Be a Canadian-Controlled Private Corporation, to make or to revoke an election previously made, and file it by the due date of the T2 return. We will not accept an election or revocation of an election after the filing due date.

Note

A corporation that has previously revoked an election must get written consent from us to make or revoke another election.

Election to treat excessive eligible dividend designations as ordinary dividends

Corporations that make excessive eligible dividend designations may be allowed to elect to treat the excessive amounts paid as ordinary dividends. In order to do so, the corporation must have the concurrence of its shareholders who received, or were entitled to receive, the dividend and whose addresses are known to the corporation. For more information, go to:

www.cra.gc.ca/tx/bsnss/tpcs/crprtms/dvdnds/lctn-eng-html.

Corporations cannot elect to treat excessive eligible dividend designations that are subject to the 30% Part III.1 tax as ordinary dividends.

Line 712 – Part IV tax payable

Use Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 3, Dividends Received, Taxable Dividends Paid, and Part IV Tax Calculation, to calculate Part IV tax payable on taxable dividends you received.

Dividends subject to Part IV tax

The following types of dividends are subject to Part IV tax:

- taxable dividends from corporations that are deductible under section 112 when you calculate taxable income; and
- taxable dividends from foreign affiliates that are deductible under paragraphs 113(1)(a), (b), or (d), or subsection 113(2) when you calculate taxable income.

Taxable dividends received are only subject to Part IV tax if the corporation receives them while it is a private or subject corporation. Taxable dividends received from a non-connected corporation are subject to Part IV tax.

Taxable dividends received from a connected corporation are subject to Part IV tax only when paying the dividends generates a dividend refund for the payer corporation. The Part IV tax rate is 33 1/3%.

Definitions

Private corporation

A private corporation is a corporation that is:

- resident in Canada;
- not a public corporation;
- not controlled by one or more public corporations (other than a prescribed venture capital corporation);
- not controlled by one or more prescribed federal Crown corporations; and

- not controlled by any combination of prescribed federal Crown corporations and public corporations.

Reference

Subsection 89(1)

Subject corporation

A subject corporation is a corporation, other than a private corporation, that is resident in Canada and is controlled by or for the benefit of either an individual other than a trust, or a related group of individuals other than trusts.

Reference

Subsection 186(3)

Connected corporation

A payer corporation is connected to the corporation that receives the dividends (the recipient) if the recipient controls the payer corporation. The payer and recipient corporations are also connected when:

- the recipient owns more than 10% of the issued share capital (with full voting rights) of the payer corporation; and
- the recipient owns shares of the capital stock of the payer corporation with a fair market value of more than 10% of the fair market value of all the issued share capital of the payer corporation.

You determine control of the corporation by considering the actual ownership of shares, without taking into account any rights referred to in paragraph 251(5)(b).

For purposes of Part IV tax, a payer corporation is controlled by a recipient corporation if more than 50% of the payer's issued share capital (having full voting rights) belongs to the recipient, to persons with whom the recipient does not deal at arm's length, or to any combination of these persons.

Exempt corporations

The following types of corporations are exempt from Part IV tax:

- A. a corporation that was bankrupt at any time during the year; or
- B. a corporation that, throughout the year, was:
 - a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation;
 - a prescribed investment contract corporation;
 - an insurance corporation;
 - a corporation licensed as a trustee;
 - a bank; or
 - a registered securities dealer that was, throughout the year, a member of a designated stock exchange in Canada.

Dividends not taxable

Any dividends that a corporation received from a capital dividend account are not taxable, as long as the payer corporation made an election under section 83. Therefore, if these non-taxable dividends are included as income, they should be deducted as an adjustment on Schedule 1.

Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 3

Part 1 – Dividends received in the tax year

Complete Part 1 to identify dividends, both taxable and non-taxable, received during the tax year and to calculate Part IV tax before deductions. Public corporations (other than subject corporations) do not need to calculate Part IV tax.

Note

If more than one corporation paid dividends, you have to do a separate calculation for each payer corporation. If dividends were paid in different payer corporations' tax years, you have to do separate calculations for each of the tax years.

On line 320 of the return, enter the amount of taxable dividends deductible from taxable income under section 112, subsections 113(2) and 138(6), and paragraph 113(1)(a), (b), or (d).

Part 2 – Calculation of Part IV tax payable

Part IV tax otherwise payable on a dividend is reduced by any amount of Part IV.1 tax payable on the same dividend. See below for details.

You can reduce the amount of dividends subject to Part IV tax by using non-capital losses and farm losses incurred in the tax year or carried forward from prior years.

On line 712 of the return, enter the amount of Part IV tax payable on taxable dividends received.

Line 716 – Part IV.1 tax payable

Complete Schedule 43, Calculation of Parts IV.1 and VI.1 Taxes, to calculate Part IV.1 tax payable.

Part 4 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of Part IV.1 tax payable Part 4 gives details on how to calculate Part IV.1 tax.

Public corporations and certain other corporations may be subject to the 10% Part IV.1 tax on dividends they receive on taxable preferred shares. A restricted financial institution is also subject to tax on dividends received on taxable restricted financial institution shares (see subsection 248(1) for definitions of these terms).

The issuer of taxable preferred shares can elect to pay a 40% tax under Part VI.1 on dividends on taxable preferred shares. This election exempts the holder of these shares from the 10% tax under Part IV.1. For details, see line 724 below.

Excepted dividends, which are defined in section 187.1, are not subject to Part IV.1 tax. For example, an excepted dividend is one the corporation receives on a share of another corporation in which the corporation had a substantial interest at the time it received the dividend.

On line 716, enter the amount of Part IV.1 tax payable that you calculated on line 340 of Schedule 43.

Subsection 191.2(1)

Line 720 – Part VI tax payable

You have to complete Schedule 38, Part VI Tax on Capital of Financial Institutions, to calculate Part VI tax.

Part VI levies a tax on a financial institution's taxable capital employed in Canada. Part VI tax is 1.25% of the taxable capital employed in Canada that is more than the $1 billion capital deduction for the year.

If the corporation is a member of a related group, you have to allocate the capital deduction among the members.

Use Schedule 39, Agreement Among Related Financial Institutions – Part VI Tax, to allocate the capital deduction. File this agreement with your return.

Note

Schedule 39 need only be filed by one of the associated/related corporations for a calendar year. However, if Schedule 39 is not already on file with us when we assess any of the returns for a tax year ending in the calendar year of the agreement, we will ask for one.

Under subsection 190.1(3), you can deduct Part I tax payable for the year from Part VI tax payable. This is called the Part I tax credit. You can deduct any unused Part I tax credits from Part VI tax in any of the three previous and seven following tax years.

To calculate the balance of unused Part I tax credits and to carry back this credit, you can use Schedule 42, Calculation of Unused Part I Tax Credit.

You could also deduct Canadian surtax payable for the year from Part VI tax payable. This was called the surtax credit. As the surtax was eliminated effective January 1, 2008, you can now only deduct an unused surtax credit from Part VI tax payable in the seven following tax years that they were earned in.

To calculate the balance of your unused surtax credit, you can use Schedule 37, Calculation of Unused Surtax Credit.

Financial institutions include banks, trust companies, life insurance corporations, certain holding corporations, and corporations that accept deposits and carry on the business of lending money on the security of real property or immovables, or investing in indebtedness on the security of mortgages on real property or of hypothecs on immovables.

File Schedule 38 with your return if you have Part VI tax payable, or would have, if not for the deduction of a Part I tax credit or surtax credit.

On line 720, enter the amount of Part VI tax payable that you calculated on line 890 of Schedule 38.

Line 724 – Part VI.1 tax payable

Complete the following schedules if required:

- Schedule 43, Calculation of Parts IV.1 and VI.1 Taxes; and
- Schedule 45, Agreement Respecting Liability for Part VI.1 Tax.

Part 1 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of dividend allowance

Calculate the dividend allowance on Part 1 of Schedule 43.

Generally, the first $500,000 of dividends paid in the year on taxable preferred shares is exempt from Part VI.1 tax liability. This basic annual exemption is called the dividend allowance.

However, the $500,000 dividend allowance is reduced if you paid more than $1 million of dividends on taxable preferred shares in the previous year.

Part 2 of Schedule 43 – Agreement among associated corporations to allocate the dividend allowance

If you are a member of an associated group, you have to allocate the dividend allowance between the members. Part 2 provides an area for this allocation.

Part 3 of Schedule 43 – Calculation of Part VI.1 tax payable Complete Part 3 of Schedule 43 to calculate Part VI.1 tax. Part VI.1 tax is levied on dividends (other than certain excluded dividends) you paid on short-term preferred shares and taxable preferred shares.

You are subject to a tax at the following rates on dividends you paid on short-term preferred shares that are more than the annual dividend allowance:

- 50% for dividends paid in tax years ending before 2010;
- 45% for dividends paid in tax years ending after 2009 and before 2012;
- 40% for dividends paid in tax years ending after 2011.

You are subject to a tax of 25% and/or 40% on dividends you paid on taxable preferred shares (other than short-term preferred shares) that are more than any remaining dividend allowance.

See subsection 248(1) for definitions of the terms short-term preferred shares and taxable preferred shares.

Schedule 45, Agreement Respecting Liability for Part VI.1 Tax

Complete Schedule 45 to certify the transfer of Part VI.1 tax liability and send it to us with Schedule 43.

A corporation (the transferor) can transfer all or part of its Part VI.1 tax liability to another corporation (the transferee), if the corporations were related throughout the following tax years:

- the transferor's tax year for which it owes Part VI.1 tax; and
- the transferee's tax year that ends on or before the end of the above-mentioned transferor's tax year.

You can deduct Part VI.1 tax payable from income. See page 54 for more information. Any Part VI.1 tax that is left over after the taxable income is reduced to zero is part of the non-capital loss for the year. See page 47 for details.

On line 724, enter the amount of Part VI.1 tax payable you calculated on line 270 of Schedule 43.

Line 727 – Part XIII.1 tax payable

Every authorized foreign bank is subject to Part XIII.1 tax equal to 25% of its taxable interest expense for the year.

You have to show your calculations on a separate schedule. Identify these calculations as Schedule 92, Part XIII.1 Tax – Additional Tax on Authorized Foreign Banks, since we do not publish this schedule. For more information, see Part XIII.1 tax in the Income Tax Act.

On line 727 of the return, enter the amount of Part XIII.1 tax payable.

Line 728 – Part XIV tax payable

Every corporation that is non-resident in a tax year is subject to Part XIV tax.

Part XIV tax is 25%, but a tax treaty can reduce this percentage. In addition, a tax treaty may restrict the Part XIV tax to corporations that carry on business in Canada through a permanent establishment in Canada.

You have to complete Schedule 20, Part XIV – Additional Tax on Non-Resident Corporations, to calculate Part XIV tax. On line 728 of the return, enter the amount of Part XIV tax payable you calculated on Schedule 20.

Note

Corporations that are subject to Part XIV tax should file their return with the International Tax Services Office. See "Corporation Internet Filing" on page 9 and "Where do you file your paper return?" on page 11.

IT-137, Additional Tax on Certain Corporations Carrying on Business in Canada

Provincial and territorial tax

Quebec and Alberta administer their own corporation income tax systems. Corporations that earn income in these provinces have to file separate provincial corporation income tax returns.

All other provinces and territories legislate their corporation income tax provisions, but the CRA administers them. These provinces and territories do not charge income tax on the taxable income of corporations that are exempt from tax under section 149.

If the corporation has a permanent establishment in any province or territory other than Quebec or Alberta, you have to calculate provincial and/or territorial income taxes and credits, as well as federal income taxes and credits, on the return.

Note

Unless otherwise specified in the legislation, the credits are considered government assistance and must be included in income in the tax year they are received.

Reference

Paragraph 12(1)(x)

Permanent establishment

A permanent establishment in a province or territory is usually a fixed place of business of the corporation, which includes an office, branch, oil well, farm, timberland, factory, workshop, warehouse, or mine. If the corporation does not have a fixed place of business, the corporation's permanent establishment is the principal place in which the corporation's business is conducted.

If the corporation carries on business through an employee or an agent established in a particular place, it is considered to have a permanent establishment in that place if the employee or agent:

- has general authority to contract for the corporation; or
- has a stock of merchandise owned by the corporation from which the employee or agent regularly fills orders received.

For 2009 and later tax years, a corporation that would not otherwise have any permanent establishment in a province or territory and/or a jurisdiction outside of Canada is deemed to have a permanent establishment at the place designated in its incorporation documents or bylaws as its head office or registered office. So, whether or not the corporation carries on a business in a province or territory, it is entitled to the 10% federal abatement, but subject to provincial or territorial taxation.

See Regulation 400(2) for a complete definition of permanent establishment.

Line 750 – Provincial or territorial jurisdiction

On line 750, give the name of the province or territory where you earned your income. Usually, this is where the corporation has its permanent establishment.

If you earned income in more than one province or territory, write "multiple" on line 750 and file Schedule 5, Tax Calculation Supplementary – Corporations, with your return. See below for instructions on how to complete Schedule 5.

Note

The Newfoundland and Labrador offshore area and the Nova Scotia offshore area are considered provinces.

By completing line 750, you ensure that the income taxes go to the correct province or territory. Complete this line even if no tax is payable, or if the provincial jurisdiction is Quebec or Alberta.

Line 760 – Net provincial and territorial tax payable

If your provincial or territorial jurisdiction is not Quebec or Alberta, and you do not need to complete Schedule 5, enter your provincial or territorial tax payable on line 760.

If you do need to complete Schedule 5, the net amount of provincial or territorial tax will be calculated on line 255 of the schedule. If this amount is positive enter it on line 760 of the return. If this amount is negative, enter it on line 812 of the return.

The following section explains when and how to complete Schedule 5.

Schedule 5, Tax Calculation Supplementary – Corporations

You have to complete Schedule 5 if:

- there is a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory (complete Part 1), whether or not you are taxable (if taxable, also complete Part 2);
- the corporation is claiming provincial or territorial tax credits, or rebates (complete Part 2); or
- the corporation has to pay taxes other than income tax (see "Part 2 of Schedule 5" below).

Note

The Newfoundland and Labrador offshore area and the Nova Scotia offshore area are considered provinces.

For information on the calculation of tax for each province and territory, see the sections that follow in this chapter.

Part 1 of Schedule 5 – Allocation of taxable income

You must complete Part 1 of Schedule 5 if you had a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory. Complete columns A to F for each province or territory in which you had a permanent establishment in the tax year. If there is no taxable income, you only have to complete columns A, B and D.

Note

This also applies to corporations with permanent establishments in Quebec or Alberta.

We assess provincial or territorial income taxes on the amount of taxable income allocated to each province or territory. See Regulation 402 for details on how to allocate taxable income.

Generally, to allocate taxable income to each province or territory, you have to use a formula based on gross revenue, and salaries and wages. See Part 1 of Schedule 5 for details.

You will find the general rules on how to allocate gross revenue in Regulation 402.

Do not include any of the following amounts in gross revenue:

- interest on bonds, debentures, or mortgages;
- dividends on shares of capital stock; or
- rents or royalties from property that are not part of the principal business operations.

Allocate gross salaries and wages paid in the year to the permanent establishment in which those salaries and wages were paid only to the extent they were paid to employees of the permanent establishment (the permanent establishment is not necessarily the permanent establishment in which those salaries and wages were paid). Do not include in gross salaries and wages any commissions paid to a person who is not an employee, unless that person renders services that would normally be performed by an employee of the corporation. The allocation of salaries paid through a central paymaster is subject to the deeming rules under Regulation 402.1.

See Regulations 403 to 413 for details on special methods for allocating taxable income for the following types of businesses:

- insurance corporations (Regulation 403);
- banks (Regulation 404);
- trust and loan corporations (Regulation 405);
- railway corporations (Regulation 406);
- airline corporations (Regulation 407);
- grain elevator operators (Regulation 408);
- bus and truck operators (Regulation 409);
- ship operators (Regulation 410);
- pipeline operators (Regulation 411);
- divided businesses (Regulation 412);
- non-resident corporations (Regulation 413); and
- international banking centres (Regulation 413.1).

In field 100, enter the regulation number that applies to attribute the taxable income.

Part 2 of Schedule 5 – Provincial and territorial tax credits and rebates

Complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if:

- there is provincial or territorial tax (and a permanent establishment in more than one province or territory);
- there is a claim for provincial or territorial tax credits or rebates; or
- there is a claim for provincial or territorial refundable tax credits.

Note

Corporations with a permanent establishment in Quebec or Alberta must complete the appropriate provincial corporation returns and schedules to report provincial tax and claim provincial credits and rebates.

Corporations with a permanent establishment in Ontario must also complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if one of the three previous or five following conditions applies: The corporation:

- is claiming the Ontario small business deduction;
- is claiming the Ontario credit union reduction;
- has an addition to Ontario basic income tax (such as a transitional tax debit);
- has Ontario corporate minimum tax payable; or
- has Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations payable.

For tax years that start after October 31, 2008, corporations must also complete Part 2 of Schedule 5 if they have Newfoundland and Labrador capital tax on financial institutions payable.

On line 255 of Schedule 5, enter the net amount of provincial and territorial tax payable or the net amount of refundable credits. When the result is positive, enter the net provincial or territorial tax payable on line 760 of the return. When the result is negative, enter the refundable provincial or territorial tax credit on line 812 of the return. Attach to your return any forms you completed to claim provincial or territorial credits or rebates.

In the following sections, you will find information about provincial and territorial tax rates, foreign tax credits, and details on the provincial and territorial credits and rebates.

Dual rates of provincial and territorial incometax

Generally, provinces and territories have two rates of income tax: the lower rate and the higher rate.

The lower rate applies to the income eligible for the federal small business deduction. One component of the small business deduction is the business limit. Some provinces or territories choose to use the federal business limit. Others establish their own business limit.

The higher rate applies to all other income. For detailed information on the income eligible for each rate and the rates that apply to each province and territory, see the sections that follow in this chapter.

Example 1

X Inc. earned all of its income in 2012 from its permanent establishment in Newfoundland and Labrador. X Inc. claimed the small business deduction when it calculated its federal tax payable. The income from active business carried on in Canada was $78,000.

The Newfoundland and Labrador lower rate of tax is 4%. The higher rate of tax is 14%.

X Inc. calculates its Newfoundland and Labrador tax payable as follows:

Taxable income	$90,000
----------------	----------

Subtract amount taxed at lower rate:

Least of lines 400, 405, 410, or 425 in the small business deduction calculation (from the T2 return)	$78,000
Amount taxed at higher rate	$12,000
Taxes payable at the lower rate:
$$78,000 \times 4\% =$	$ 3,120
Taxes payable at the higher rate:
$$12,000 \times 14\% =$	$ 1,680
Newfoundland and Labrador tax payable	$ 4,800

When you allocate taxable income to more than one province or territory, you also have to allocate proportionally any income eligible for the federal small business deduction.

Example 2

Y Inc. has permanent establishments in both Newfoundland and Labrador and the Yukon. Its tax year runs from September 1, 2011, to August 31, 2012.

Y Inc. claimed the small business deduction when it calculated its federal tax payable.

The lower rate of tax for Newfoundland and Labrador is 4%, and the higher rate of tax is 14%.

To calculate its Newfoundland and Labrador income tax, Y Inc. does the following calculations:

Taxable income allocated to Newfoundland and Labrador (from Schedule 5)	$60,000
Taxable income allocated to the Yukon (from Schedule 5)	$30,000
Total taxable income earned in Canada	$90,000
Least of lines 400, 405, 410, or 425 in the federal small business deduction calculation (from the T2 return)	$78,000
Income eligible for the federal small business deduction attributed to Newfoundland and Labrador:
$$60,000 \times $78,000 =$	$52,000
$$90,000$
Taxable income earned in Newfoundland and Labrador	$60,000
Subtract: Income eligible for the federal small business deduction attributed to Newfoundland and Labrador	$52,000
Amount taxed at higher rate	$ 8,000
Taxes payable at higher rate:
$$8,000 \times 14\% =$	$ 1,120
Taxes payable at lower rate:
$$52,000 \times 4\% =$	$ 2,080
Newfoundland and Labrador tax payable	$ 3,200

To calculate its Yukon income tax payable, Y Inc. would repeat the same steps, using the rates that apply.

On the appropriate lines of Part 2 of Schedule 5, enter the gross amount of each provincial or territorial tax payable.

Provincial or territorial foreign tax credits

Every province and territory allows a corporation to claim a foreign tax credit for taxes it paid to another country on foreign non-business income. This credit reduces the provincial tax otherwise payable.

However, you cannot claim foreign tax credits for the provinces of Quebec and Alberta on the federal return, because these provinces collect their own income taxes.

The provincial or territorial foreign tax credit is available to a corporation that:

- is resident in Canada throughout the tax year;
- has a permanent establishment in the province or territory at any time in the tax year; and
- has foreign investment income for the tax year.

For Ontario, an authorized foreign bank is eligible for the foreign tax credit if it performed Canadian banking business.

The tax credit can only be claimed if the foreign non-business income tax paid exceeds the federal foreign non-business income tax credit deductible for the year.

For each province or territory for which you are claiming a credit, you have to do a separate calculation. Also, if you paid tax to more than one foreign country you have to do a separate calculation for each country.

If dual rates of corporation tax apply, use the higher rate when you calculate the foreign tax credit. For Ontario, use the basic rate of tax.

To claim the foreign tax credit, complete Schedule 21, Federal and Provincial or Territorial Foreign Income Tax Credits and Federal Logging Tax Credit.

Note

If the tax rate has changed during the tax year, you have to prorate the calculation in Part 9 of Schedule 21 using the number of days in each period. For British Columbia, prorate the tax rate in each period, round off the prorated rates to the nearest one-thousandth of 1 percent (= 0.001%), and add the rounded percentages for the periods before multiplying by the foreign non-business income.

On the appropriate lines of Part 2 of Schedule 5, enter the applicable provincial and territorial foreign tax credits.

The Ontario transitional tax debits and credits provide a transition from the Corporations Tax Act (Ontario) for corporations with different income tax attributes for federal and Ontario purposes.

A specified corporation subject to the Ontario transitional tax debit is generally required to pay additional Ontario corporate income tax over a five-year period beginning with its first tax year ending after 2008.

Conversely, where the corporation's Ontario tax pools exceed its federal tax pools, the corporation has a transitional tax credit. A specified corporation is generally entitled to a transitional tax credit over a five-year period beginning with its first tax year ending after 2008.

A specified corporation is defined under subsection 46(5) of the Taxation Act, 2007 (Ontario).

- a mutual fund corporation.

Previously, a corporation was subject to corporate minimum tax if its total assets exceeded $5 million or its total revenue exceeded $10 million.

Effective July 1, 2010, the corporate minimum tax rate is 2.7% (previously 4%).

The rate is prorated based on the number of days in the year when the tax year straddles June 30, 2010.

In determining if the total assets or total revenue exceeds the limits, a corporation must include its share of the total assets and total revenue of a partnership in which it has an interest, any associated foreign or Canadian corporation, and any associated corporation's share of a partnership. If a corporation is associated it must complete and file Schedule 511, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax – Total Assets and Revenue for Associated Corporations, to report the total assets and total revenue of all the associated corporations.

File Schedule 510, Ontario Corporate Minimum Tax, with your T2 return if:

- the corporation is subject to corporate minimum tax for the tax year (Part 1 of the schedule);
- the corporation is not subject to corporate minimum tax in the year, but is deducting a corporate minimum tax credit or has a corporate minimum tax credit carryforward (see page 89), corporate minimum tax loss carryforward, or current year corporate minimum tax loss (Parts 4 to 8 of the schedule); or
- the corporation has special additional tax on life insurance corporations payable in the year even if it is not subject to corporate minimum tax for the tax year (Part 4 of Schedule 510, and Schedule 512, Ontario Special Additional Tax on Life Insurance Corporations [SAT]).

Corporate minimum tax is based on the adjusted net income of a corporation. The adjusted net income is a corporation's net income calculated in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles or the International Financial Reporting Standards, with various adjustments. The adjustments are reported on Part 2 of Schedule 510.

Accounting gains reported in the year from corporation reorganizations that are deferred for income tax purposes are deductible when calculating adjusted net income.

Accounting gains reported in the year on the transfer of property under section 85, section 85.1, section 97, subsection 13(4), subsection 14(6) and/or section 44 are deductible when calculating adjusted net income. An election is required in order to claim this deduction. We will consider a corporation to have filed an election (and to not need to file another document) if it reports the deduction and has filed the election(s) required for corporate income tax purposes.

In addition, certain unrealized mark-to-market gains/losses and foreign currency gain/losses on assets that are not required to be included in computing income for income tax purposes are not included in adjusted net income. For additional information see Ontario Regulation 37/09.

File a completed Schedule 510 with your return and, if applicable, Schedule 511.

Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations

A life insurance corporation carrying on business in Ontario at any time in the tax year is subject to the Ontario special additional tax on life insurance corporations.

British Columbia film and television tax credit

The film and television tax credits are for domestic productions with qualifying levels of Canadian content. To claim these credits, an eligible production corporation must be a Canadian-controlled corporation and its activities must mainly be carrying on a film or video production business through a permanent establishment in British Columbia.

The film and television tax credit cannot be claimed if the production services tax credit is claimed for that production.

These credits are fully refundable but must first be applied against total taxes payable. There are no carry-back or carry-forward provisions.

These credits apply to BC labour expenditures. For determining BC labour expenditures, a BC-based individual is a person who is resident in the province on December 31 of the year preceding the end of the tax year for which the tax credit is claimed.

An eligible production corporation can claim these different credits:

- the basic tax credit (35%);
- the regional tax credit (12.5%);
- the distant location regional tax credit (6%);
- the film training tax credit (3%—see other option); and
- the digital animation or visual effects tax credit (17.5%).

Note

If you are not eligible for, and do not claim the basic tax credit, you cannot claim the regional, distant location, film training, or the digital animation or visual effects tax credits.

- The basic tax credit is equal to 35% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the production. For an interprovincial co-production, this 35% basic tax credit is multiplied by the percentage of copyright that the corporation owns.

For an interprovincial co-production that starts principal photography after December 31, 2011, the 35% basic tax credit is no longer multiplied by the percentage of copyright that the corporation owns. However, the copyright ownership requirement for that interprovincial co-production is increased from 20% to 50% with additional copyright ownership requirements that are similar to those for productions that are not interprovincial co-productions.

- The regional tax credit is equal to one of the following amounts:
 - 12.5% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of five days and more than 50% of the total principal photography days in British Columbia are outside of the designated Vancouver area; or
 - for a production that is intended for television broadcast as a series and that comprises a cycle of at least three episodes, where principal photography of at least three episodes is done outside of the designated Vancouver area, the credit is 12.5% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the qualified episodes done in British Columbia, where a minimum of five days and more than 50% of the total principal photography days in British Columbia are outside of the designated Vancouver area.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in British Columbia outside the designated Vancouver area over the total number of days of principal photography performed in British Columbia.

- The distant location regional tax credit is available for productions that start principal photography after February 19, 2008, when principal photography is done in British Columbia in a distant location. The distant location is that part of British Columbia that is not included within the area that extends from the designated Vancouver area north, up to and including Whistler, and east to include Hope, and not within the Capital Regional District.

The distant location regional tax credit is equal to one of the following amounts:

- 6% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year, where a minimum of one day of principal photography is in a distant location; or
- for a production that is intended for television broadcast as a series and that comprises a cycle of at least three episodes, where principal photography of at least three episodes is done in a distant location, the credit is 6% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the tax year for the qualified episodes determined for the regional tax credit, where a minimum of one day of principal photography is in a distant location.

The qualified BC labour expenditures must be incurred after December 31, 2007.

The credit is prorated for the number of days of principal photography done in a distant location, over the total number of days of principal photography performed in British Columbia.

The distant location regional tax credit can only be claimed if the corporation is eligible for, and claiming the regional tax credit.

- The film training tax credit is equal to whichever is less:
 - 3% of the qualified BC labour expenditure for the production for the tax year; or
 - 30% of the payments (net of assistance) made to the trainees in the tax year while they are participating in the approved training program on the production.
 - The digital animation or visual effects tax credit is equal to 17.5% of BC labour expenditure incurred after February 28, 2010, directly attributable to prescribed digital animation or visual effects activities for productions with principal photography that begins after February 28, 2010. It was previously 15%.
- To claim these credits, attach the following on top of your return for the year:
- the eligibility certificate (or a copy) requested from British Columbia Film + Media;
 - if it applies, the completion certificate (or a copy), and a copy of the audited statement of production costs and notes provided to British Columbia Film + Media; and
 - a completed copy of Form T1196, British Columbia Film and Television Tax Credit, for each eligible production.

You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year.

British Columbia training tax credit

You can claim a refundable tax credit if you are a taxable corporation with a permanent establishment in the province and you paid salary or wages to an employee who was registered in a prescribed program administered through the BC Industry Training Authority.

The British Columbia training tax credits are extended to December 31, 2014.

The province offers a credit to employers based on the wages paid to an apprentice:

- the basic tax credit for apprentices in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal program;
- the completion tax credit when an apprentice completes level three or higher of either a Red Seal program or a non-Red Seal program; and
- the enhanced tax credit for apprentices who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or who qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return (all levels of both Red Seal and non-Red Seal programs).

Note

For level three or higher of a Red Seal or non-Red Seal program, level has the same meaning as tax credit level. To complete a tax credit level, see "Requirements for Completing Tax Credit Level" in CIT 013 Training Tax Credits for Employers.

You cannot claim the British Columbia training tax credit if you claim the new British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit in the same tax year, except for the transition tax year. Special calculations apply for the transition year. See "British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit", page 108, for an example.

You can claim one or more of the following three credits in the year for each qualified employee:

- The basic tax credit is 20% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. The maximum basic tax credit you can claim is $4,000, per employee, per year. This credit is not available to Red Seal trades and cannot be claimed if you are claiming the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee (see page 69).

Before July 1, 2009, the basic tax credit was 10%, up to a maximum of $2,000 per employee;

- The completion tax credit is 15% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee within the 12 month period ending on any day in the month that the employee completed level three or higher. The maximum completion tax credit you can claim is $2,500 per employee who has completed level three, and $3,000 per employee who has completed level four or higher. This credit applies to both Red Seal and non-Red Seal trades; and
- The enhanced tax credit applies to employees who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return. Do not claim the basic tax credit or the completion tax credit if you are claiming the enhanced tax credit as these credits are included in the calculation of the enhanced tax credits. An employer claiming the enhanced tax credit for a qualifying employee should only complete Part 3 when filing Schedule 428, British Columbia Training Tax Credit. The enhanced tax credits are as follows:

- for the first 24 months of a Red Seal program, 5.5% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. For salary and wages paid before June 3, 2010, the rate is 15%. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $1,000 per employee. You can claim this credit in addition to the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee;
 - for the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal program, 30% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee who was in the first 24 months of a non-Red Seal apprenticeship program in the tax year. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $6,000 per employee. This credit is not available to Red Seal trades and cannot be claimed if you are claiming the federal apprenticeship job creation tax credit for the same employee;
- Before July 1, 2009, this enhanced tax credit was 15%, up to a maximum of $3,000 per employee.
- for level three or higher of a Red Seal or non-Red Seal program, 22.5% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that was paid to an employee within the 12-month period ending on any day in the month that the employee completed level three or higher. The maximum tax credit you can claim is $3,750, per employee who has completed level three and $4,500, per employee who has completed level four or higher.

For the completion and enhanced tax credits, the salary and wages can be dually applied to overlapping periods when more than one level is completed during the tax year.

Example

The employer's tax year runs from January 1 to December 31, 2012.

An employee completes level three on January 31, 2012, and level four on June 30, 2012.

In the tax year, the employer can claim the wages paid from February 1, 2011, to January 31, 2012, for the level three tax credit. In the same tax year, the employer can also claim the wages paid from July 1, 2011, to June 30, 2012, for the level four tax credit. The wages paid from July 1, 2011, to January 31, 2012, are used for both credits.

You can also claim these credits for former qualified employees for the time they were employed by you during an eligible period, even though they were no longer working for you when they completed a specific level of the apprenticeship program.

These credits extend to partnerships. Corporations who are members of a partnership, other than specified members (such as limited partners), can each claim their share of the partnership's tax credit.

Special rules apply for employers not dealing at arm's length who wish to claim the training tax credit for the same employee. For more details, see section 125 of the British Columbia Income Tax Act.

To claim these credits, file a completed Schedule 428, British Columbia Training Tax Credit, with your return. You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year in which you paid the eligible salaries and wages.

On line 679 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credits you are claiming.

To claim this credit, a corporation must not claim a BC SR&ED tax credit for the year and must:

- be registered with the BC Ministry of Finance for each tax year for which the tax credit is claimed;
- have a permanent establishment in British Columbia at any time during the tax year;
- be a taxable Canadian corporation throughout the tax year;
- be a corporation whose
 - principal business in the tax year is the development of interactive digital media products, or
 - all or substantially all of the business in the tax year consists of one or both of the following:
 - the development of interactive digital media products;
 - the provision of eligible activities to a corporation who has a permanent establishment in British Columbia and whose principal business is the development of interactive digital media products;

Part 10, British Columbia Income Tax Act

British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit

You can claim a refundable tax credit if you are an eligible employer in the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry and you paid salary or wages to an employee who was registered in a prescribed program administered through the BC Industry Training Authority.

The British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit is available for salary and wages paid after September 30, 2012. It applies to Red Seal and non-Red Seal programs.

You can claim one or more of the following three credits in the year for each qualified employee:

- the basic tax credit for employees within 24 months after the employee entered into an industry training agreement;
- the completion tax credit when an employee completes level three or higher of an eligible program; and
- the enhanced tax credit for employees who are registered as Indians under the Indian Act or who qualify for the disability amount on their income tax return (all levels of an eligible program).

For each of the basic and completion tax credits, the credit is equal to 20% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee, up to a maximum of $5,250 per employee per tax year.

These numbers are increased by 50% when they apply to the enhanced tax credit. This credit is equal to 30% of the salary and wages (net of designated assistance) that were paid to an employee, up to a maximum of $7,875 per employee per tax year.

For the completion and enhanced tax credits, the salary and wages can be dually applied to overlapping periods when more than one level is completed during the tax year.

You cannot claim the existing British Columbia training tax credit if you claim this new shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit in the same tax year, except for the transition tax year. The transition tax year is the tax year that straddles October 1, 2012.

For the transition tax year, an employer can claim the British Columbia training tax credit for salary and wages paid before October 1, 2012. An employer must claim its maximum credit amount under the British Columbia training tax credit. An employer can also claim the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit for salary and wages paid after September 30, 2012. However, the total amount claimed under the two credits must not be more than $5,250 per employee ($7,875 per employee if eligible for the enhanced tax credit) for the transition tax year.

Example

The employer's tax year runs from January 1, 2012 to December 31, 2012.

The employer pays salary and wages to an eligible employee registered in a non-Red Seal program of $30,000 from January 1 to September 30, 2012, and $10,000 from October 1 to December 31, 2012.

For the transition tax year, the employer would be eligible to claim a basic tax credit under the British Columbia training tax credit program of $4,000 ($20\% \times $30,000 = $6,000$, to a maximum of $4,000).

Because the total maximum amount that can be claimed for both the British Columbia training tax credit and the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit cannot be more than $5,250 for the transition tax year, the maximum amount that can be claimed under the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit for the transition tax year is $1,250 ($$5,250$ less $4,000 claimed under the British Columbia training tax credit).

The employer would be eligible to claim a basic tax credit under the British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry training tax credit of $1,250 ($20\% \times $10,000 = $2,000$, subject to the maximum claim of $1,250).

These credits extend to partnerships. Corporations that are members of a partnership, other than specified members (such as limited partners), can each claim their share of the partnership's tax credit.

Special rules apply for employers not dealing at arm's length who wish to claim the training tax credit for the same employee. For more details, see section 126.5 of the British Columbia Income Tax Act.

To claim these credits, file a completed Schedule 430, British Columbia shipbuilding and ship repair industry tax credit, with your return. You must claim these credits no later than 36 months after the end of the tax year in which you paid the eligible salaries and wages.

On line 681 of Schedule 5, enter the total amount of the credits you are claiming.

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee; or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

If there is a discrepancy between the amount you report on the return and the interim balance in your business account, we will use the amount in your business account for the tax year being assessed when we process the return.

For information on how to make payments, go to www.cra.gc.ca/payments or see Guide T7B Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide. For more information on calculating instalments, go to www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount or see Guide T7B Corp, Corporation Instalment Guide.

Note

Even if you elected to report in a functional currency, you still have to complete line 840 in Canadian currency.

Refund or payment

Your overpayment or balance unpaid is the difference you get after subtracting all the credits on lines 780 to 840 from the total tax payable on line 770.

If your total tax payable (line 770) is less than your total credits (line 890), enter the difference on the overpayment line.

If your total payable (line 770) is more than your total credits (line 890), enter the difference on the balance unpaid line.

Note

After we process your return and apply any interest and/or penalty charges, if the total amount owing at that time is $2 or less, you will not have to pay that amount. If an amount of $2 or less is owed to you, the amount will not be refunded; however, we will apply it to any existing liability you may have.

Line 894 – Refund code

If entitled to a refund, enter one of the following codes on line 894:

- enter “1” or leave this line blank if you want us to refund the overpayment;
- enter “2” if you want us to transfer the overpayment to next year’s instalment account; or
- enter “3” if you want us to apply the overpayment to another liability (such as an expected debit from a reassessment) or to a different account. Attach a letter to your return giving instructions and we will review your request.

Whichever option you choose, we will apply the overpayment to any outstanding liabilities the corporation owes on the same or related business number account. Then, we will refund or transfer the excess overpayment according to the code you enter. We will do this only if all the required returns have been filed on the account and all related accounts.

Note

Under subsection 220(6) of the Income Tax Act a corporation may assign any amount payable under this Act. However, according to Subsection 220(7) the minister of National Revenue “is not required to pay to the assignee, the assigned amount.” As an alternative, we will review a request to send the refund to a “care of” address. However, a refund issued in this manner will still be issued in the name of the corporation (see bullet 3 above).

The payment of refunds and rebates will be withheld until all required returns, of which the minister of National Revenue has knowledge, have been filed.

Line 896 – If the corporation is a Canadian-controlled private corporation throughout the tax year, does it qualify for the one-month extension of the date the balance of tax is due?

Tick the appropriate box. See “Balance due date” on page 12.

Line 898 – Enclosed payment

On line 898, enter the amount of any payment you are sending with your return. Do not enter an amount on this line if you made your payment at your financial institution in Canada or sent your payment to us electronically (see following section). Do not include this payment amount in the instalment total you recorded on line 840.

Make the cheque or money order payable to the Receiver General for Canada, and attach it to your return.

Note

Even if you elected to report in a functional currency, you still have to complete line 898 in Canadian currency.

The Canadian Payments Association sets a maximum value of $25 million for any cheque or other paper-based payment instrument cleared through the banking system.

We encourage you to make arrangements with your financial institution for payments of large amounts.

Note

You or your representative may not have a bank account at a financial institution in Canada. If so, either of you can make your payment using:

- an international money order drawn in Canadian dollars;
- a bank draft in Canadian funds drawn on a Canadian bank (available at most foreign financial institutions); or
- a cheque drawn in the currency of the country in which the financial institution is located. We will use the currency rate in effect at the time of cashing your cheque.

Electronic payment of balance owing

Make your payment online using the Canada Revenue Agency's My Payment option. For more information, or to use My Payment, go to www.cra.gc.ca/mypayment.

You can pay your corporation's balance owing electronically by using your financial institution's Internet or telephone banking services, or through a third-party service provider. Most financial institutions allow a corporation to schedule a future-dated payment. For more information about this option, go to www.cra.gc.ca/electronicpayments or contact your financial institution.

You can request that we stop issuing remittance vouchers and the envelope that accompany notices and statements using the "Enquiries service" and selecting the "Change mailing instructions" option at:

Direct deposit request

Lines 910 to 918

Direct deposit offers a safe, convenient, and dependable way of receiving payments, and it removes the potential loss of credit interest if a cheque is delayed in the mail.

To start direct deposit to the corporation's account at a financial institution, or to change information you already gave us, complete the "Direct deposit request" at the bottom of page 8. You do not have to complete this area if you already have direct deposit service and the information you gave before has not changed.

You can also use Form RC366, Direct Deposit Request – GST/HST, Payroll and/or Corporation Income Tax.

You cannot use the Corporation Internet Filing service to start direct deposit or to change your direct deposit information.

For information on changing your direct deposit information, call 1-800-959-5525.

Note

You can view direct deposit banking information online by using the "View banking information" service at:

- www.cra.gc.ca/representatives, if you are an authorized representative or employee, or
- www.cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount, if you are the business owner.

Your direct deposit request will stay in effect until you change the information or cancel the service. However, if your financial institution advises us that you have a new account, we may deposit your payments into the new account. If, for any reason, we cannot deposit a payment into a designated account, we will mail a cheque to you at the address we have on file at the time of the original payment.

Note

The CRA must generate all large-value refunds ($25 million or more) through the Large Value Transfer System (LVTS). To avoid potential delays, you have to be registered for direct deposit and be registered on the LVTS. If you are expecting a large-value refund, arrange for direct deposit and contact your tax centre to make the necessary arrangements.

Mandatory electronic filing for tax preparers

Line 920

For tax years ending in 2012 and later, tax preparers have to file electronically all income tax returns they prepare for a fee and file after 2012, with 2 exceptions: they can file 10 corporation returns and 10 individual returns by means other than electronically.

Effective January 1, 2013, we may charge a penalty to tax preparers who fail to do so. The penalty is equal to $100 for each corporation tax return and $25 for each individual tax return not filed properly. For more information, go to www.cra.gc.ca/esrvc-srvce/tx/prprs/mndtrylctrncflng-eng.html.
